

BRISTOL

Mrs. Belle Gauthier, a first class cook, may have set a record this Christmas when she baked no less than 14 fruit cakes for members of her family. Ten of the bit cakes were sent to Toronto and New York. Four were for members of the family on the island and then she added one extra for home use. 16 is a lot of fruit cakes in a week and time.

Practically everyone from this city who were city visitors during the Christmas week rush and old Santa was a visitor to scores of homes and the school here.

Many of the older persons here remember the one and only Santa here 50 years ago—the late Leonard McEwen; his memory as a Santa around the old school that is closed for ever still lives with us. He was known as the one and only Santa of his time.

Mabel O'Brien, spent Christmas in Halifax with her nieces, Donna and Bonnie Campbell. Due to the heavy traffic she flew to the N.S. city.

Mrs. Edward Burns who has been on the sick list for several months, has entered the Lennox Nursing Home in the city after a long stay in the Charlestown Hospital.

Most of us don't care about the snow but Frank Lewis, who bought a house here a couple of years ago and moved it to the York district where he caters to tourists in the summer months, wishes for snow because he has purchased two of these new skis for renting to the public. Equipped with skis on front, they will skip along over the snow drifts and should give many hours of enjoyment-like old sleigh rides.

When Holman's 25 year club meets in Summerside late in December a former Bristol resident will be one of the speakers, Walter O'Brien, a long time employee of the Charlestown store will lead the Charlestown group at the gathering.

Plans are underway for the big sportsman's dinner to be held shortly in the new year. Regrettable the weather man has not seem fit to put ice in the big rink. Some agree it was a mistake not to go all the way when the rink was built and have artificial ice. Others say we could not afford it. If we wait until we can afford things, we would be going around in shirt sleeves and washing in the old crowd-off flour barrel.

We can't deny youth their hour of sport and we can't have a $100,000 dollar rink standing idle nine months of the year. The world of sport rolls on and we can point with pride to many of the best in hockey here in years gone by. Many of them can still cut a figure or two like the great Gerry McAdam and his brothers, the Eldershaw brothers the Murphy Brothers and many other.

Mrs. Bertha Molyneux, the former Bertha MacDonald of Bristol, who resides in the city now, was a winner in the Community draw last week. Mrs. Molyneux said she had bought the $1.00 tickets for a number of years and never won before.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Coffin, returned recently from a wonderful trip to Western Canada where they visited with members of their family. It was their first vacation in many years as Mr. Coffin had only retired from the position of Imperial Oil agent here after many years without vacation. They report a wonderful month's vacation in the west.
