time when cash revenue is at its lowest. A view of the yards at Souris, Georgetown and Montague will give an indication of the extensive proportions to which this industry has grown, and if harvested conservatively and wisely will prove to be one of the important industries of our economy

WAR VETERANS

Approximately 70 veterans are patients in our hospitals all the year round. They are suffering as the after effects of the war service they have given on our behalf, and are deserving of any comfort which can be given to them through an organization such as Red Cross which was primarily instituted "to furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded in time of war".

"Preparation lessens suffering", is a statement which no one can contradict, and which has been proven time and again. Red Cross Disaster Services in P.E.I. had a chance to prove the value of having a live wire organization in readiness, when the recent storm caused such hardship as the result of power failure. 244 pieces of clothing and bedding were provided through Disaster Services for 20 families who lost their homes by fire during the past year.

6,000 pieces of clothing for victims of disaster at home and abroad were made up by the Women's Work Committee which has hundreds of faithful volunteers throughout the province who, year after year, give their services freely in order to lessen the suffering of others. The goodwill engendered by these gifts will do a great deal to assist in bringing harmony to the troubled areas of this world.

FUND CAMPAIGN

Although 97 per cent of all this work carried on under the banner of Red Cross which we have seen promotes health, prevents disease and lessens suffering, is accomplished by volunteers, it still costs money to provide these services. That is why there is a Campaign for funds in March of each year. It is most gratifying to be able to say that in 1955 we reached and exceeded our Provincial objective, for the first time in several years, when $27,996.37 was contributed on our quota of $27,400. This was 102 per cent of our objective, and made us third in line among the provinces, on a percentage basis.

A study of the Financial Statements presented by the Honorary Treasurer will show the costs of the administration of the different services which we are happy to state were kept well within the overall Budget for the year. I trust you will understand that while the bulk of Red Cross Services is carried on by volunteers, it is necessary to have a small number of full-time paid employees, experts in their lines, to coordinate the efforts of these volunteers. It is also necessary to have a headquarters building, for all this work, from which directions emanate, and the required instruction and materials are provided. You will be amazed to know that 22,736 pieces of mail were sent out in 1955 from Red Cross Headquarters with the able assistance of many volunteers, most of whom were Junior Red Cross members from the Charlottetown Schools.

CONCLUSION

This, then, is a very brief summary as records go - of what Red Cross has been responsible for in Prince Edward Island in the past year. It is no way attempts to tell the full story that you will find when you read the reports of the different Committees. The Chairmen and members of these Committees, each of whom voluntarily gave a great deal of time to the problems concerned with the particular departments, will I hope feel amply rewarded in the knowledge that he or she has done something for someone else. I know they will all agree with Dr. Albert Schweitzer, noted physician philosopher, and 1955 Nobel Prize winner who has devoted his life to his fellowman, and who, when asked about his principle which he calls Reverence for life said: "It is not enough to do one's daily job, support one's family, abide by the laws. That's all very well, but you must do something more. You must give some time to your fellow man. Even if it's a little thing, do something for those who have need of help, something for which you get no pay, but the privilege of doing it."

To all, then, and they are legion, who have assisted the wide humanitarian program of the Society in this Province, we record our deep appreciation and sincere thanks. It is certainly inspirational to work with the many hundreds of Prince Edward Islanders who so enthusiastically volunteer their services each year, and with our very fine and devoted staff.

In bringing this report to a conclusion, I would again like to quote from Dr. Schweitzer, who summed up the work of our international organization as follows: "For us, the Red Cross is more than an institution. It stands for an ideal - one in which humanity must think, feel and act with compassion toward the world's suffering people. Thanks to it, moral law continues to hold a high place, even in the moral confusion of today."
