

THE DAILY EXAMINER

APRIL 14, 1900

A MISTAKE CORRECTED.

We think that The Watchman is just a little unfair towards Mr. Hazard and The Examiner.

Mr. Hazard has not, we believe, been personally or closely identified with the incapable and irresponsible aggregation of which Premier Farquharson is the head. That he has all along been a strong Liberal is true. In this respect he represents many intelligent and independent men throughout the Province who have been steadfast to their party until they see their country going to the dogs and their party utterly unable, and apparently unwilling, to carry out reforms. We admire strong and honest party men; and we sympathise with such men when their eyes being opened to the faults and failures of their party, they call for a new departure in the interests of the country. To such men we say "come over" and "welcome." But for the Guardian and those whom it represents we have no place and we deny and repudiate the Watchman's statement that The Examiner has gone "the length of inviting such stock into the councils of the opposition." While we respect a strong, honest party man, we have no respect for a strong, dishonest party man who pretends to be independent and prefers his party even when his party has acted in opposition to his expressed principles and in defiance of his expressed desires. In view of their conduct in respect alike to the Plebscite and the License, The Guardian ought to be in opposition, fair and square, to the false Liberal leaders. But instead of this we see nothing but empty hypocritical protests followed by suggestions calculated to draw attention away from Liberal falsity and rascality. We want none of such as The Guardian. It is essential to the success of the Provincial reform that is needed and demanded that the party to carry it out shall, for the greater part, be composed of honest and patriotic men.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

We are compelled to hold over some editorial matter and also a report of the Provincial Alliance. In the meantime we have to congratulate the Alliance upon the election of Mr. Anderson, of Kensington, as President.

Referring to the relations between Great Britain and France, the Figaro says: "The eventuality of an Anglo-French war has disappeared. The attitude of the English Government all along has been most just and unrepachable. The polemics and provocations of the press are over, and the relations of the Cabinets of the two countries are smoother."

Australia Takes the Cake.

New York, April 13.—Great Britain has to a large extent stopped buying food-stuff's for her army in South Africa from this country, according to local steamship agents. "Shipments to South Africa are now confined almost exclusively to hay, oats and mules, with an occasional large order for canned goods," said one of them today. "The war department officials found that they could get corn and meats quicker and cheaper from Australia and since then the shipments have been dropping off."

A POWERFUL LINK.

In the Dodd's Kidney Pills Endless Chain of Proof.

Is Mr. J. H. Ireland, of Halifax, who, His Friends Thought, was Dead—How Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 13.—"I'm another link—and a mighty strong link too—in the 'Endless Chain of proof' that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only sure and always reliable cure for all forms of kidney diseases."

So says Mr. J. H. Ireland, the genial commercial traveller, whose cure, by the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, had in it no small element of romance.

"Yes, sir," he went on. "I was a pretty sick man. So sick, indeed, did my friends and acquaintances in Halifax believe me, that when another man owning the same name as myself died in a town in the district which my friends knew I was visiting they immediately concluded that I was the deceased. The Halifax papers reported my death, and everyone who knew me believed it."

"Thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills, however, I was very far from dying just then. On the contrary, I was on the high road to recovery, and making progress at a gallop towards the goal. A good many pairs of eyes opened wide when I turned up in Halifax, not only alive, but ruddy, fat, stalwart, and in robust health, whereas I had been thin, pale, weak and frail when they had seen me previously."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills did it all for me. Their effect was simply magical. I could not have believed that any medicine could give a poor, frail, weak wreck such strength, flesh and health in so short a time. But Dodd's Kidney Pills did it for me, and will do it for anyone else."

DYSPEPSIA VS. CONSUMPTION

Frequently Deceive the Doctors by their Similarity.

Men Have Died With Dyspepsia Thinking They had Consumption—The Safest and Surest Course to Follow is to Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many a man has been killed by fear. Many a man has tattered himself to death. Many a man has gone to his grave, supposedly a victim of Consumption whose complaint was neither more nor less than Dyspepsia.

Consumption bears such a close similarity to certain forms of Dyspepsia that it is easy and natural to mistake one for the other. The chief symptoms are identical. In each case there is a cough, loss of flesh, paleness and night sweats. In some cases even the most skilled physicians have mistaken one for the other.

Being under the mistaken belief that they have Consumption, dyspeptics sometimes obtain treatment for the first-named disease. Thus they take medicine for a disease that does not afflict them, and which medicine does them no good, while they take no medicine for Dyspepsia, which they have.

The safest, surest and best course to follow is to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are, as has been shown hundreds of thousands of times, an infallible cure for Dyspepsia. In nine cases out of ten, the patient will recover perfect health, strength and vigor in a few weeks, for in nine out of every ten cases of this kind, the disease is Dyspepsia and not Consumption.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Dyspepsia in the only rational way, by removing the cause. They make the cure complete by curing the constipation that nearly always accompanies Dyspepsia, and by putting the liver in thoroughly healthy condition.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets prevent Consumption by filling the veins with fresh, rich red blood, and strengthening the system at every point against the dread disease.

EASTER SONG.

He is risen, as He said, ('Twas the angel told the tale,) Doubt and Sorrow, now have fled. Faith, and Happiness prevail Blessed resurrection morn, Everlasting Joy is born.

He is risen as He said, He has left the cheerless tomb, Seek Him not among the dead, Seek Him not amid the gloom, Seek Him on this earth of ours, Seek Him 'midst the opening flowers.

He is risen as He said, Could His followers doubt His word, Did they think of him as dead? He, the mighty, conquering Lord,— Doubting souls, rejoice, rejoice, Sing aloud with heart and voice.

He is risen as He said, He the Holy Son of God; Look not on the grave with dredd, Follow where the Saviour trod, Through the darkness, through the night On to everlasting light.

Lost Sleep.

Hours of sleep are frequently lost and rest disturbed owing to coughing and irritation of the throat. One or two doses of Harvard Bronchial Syrup is often sufficient to banish every cause of unrest. At this season a bottle of Harvard Bronchial Syrup should be found in every home.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—At the evening service in the Baptist Church Miss Amy Earle will sing a contralto solo—and the choir Dr. Elvy's Easter anthem.

GOSPEL MEETING.—Remember the Gospel meeting in Prowse's new block, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Strangers always welcome. Lesson on the Resurrection. Collection for the Indian famine fund.

Rhubarb, cucumbers, lettuce, lemons, oranges, radish, parsley, potted plants and wild geese at Gay's Stalls, Saturday. Market open until ten to-night.
