A CATCH.

We know what is, but what will be we know not. No one ever knew. The gods themselves cannot foresee. (If gods there be) what men may do. Prophecies are arrows shot in the dark At an unseen mark. If they miss it, we let them go; If they hit it, as sometimes they will When the night winds thither blow, We magnify the skill Of the hand that held the bow. The only thing we know Is that we live and die. Not the inscrutable why? Poor puppets of crumbling clay, The world goes round and round, And we go with it—here today, Tomorrow underground! —Richard Henry Stoddard in New York Independent.

THE CARE FREE VIENNESE.

"The native Viennese is a jolly, good natured, shiftless creature," writes Edward A. Steiner, discussing "Austria and Her Troubles" in "The Woman's Home Companion."

"No people on the earth are so jolly or so easily and so much amused. Go to the Prater, the largest public park in Europe, and from 100 different beer gardens comes the noise of tooting brass bands and stamping feet and beating drums. Merry go rounds swing old and young, and dime museums and music halls are as full of people as they are empty of decency. Go to the theaters on any night and you will find them crowded by an enthusiastic audience, the galleries filled by noisy students and working girls. The court theaters, which present only legitimate dramas and operas, have also their numerous devotees. Go to the coffee houses, of which there is one on every corner, and you will find them full, especially in the afternoon, with merchants with their noses in the newspapers and clerks sipping their Mocha and officers smoking their cigars and cue pushing and card shuffling youths. At night these coffee houses become the rendezvous of the lower element. I have never seen the Viennese serious, unless it be at a funeral, and I suppose that even out of that he manages to get some fun. Yet he is easily excited, and although loyal and law abiding his good nature may quickly turn into a fiery passion, and a Viennese riot is a serious matter for the police."

Raleigh Finger Marks.

It is now 300 years since Sir Walter Raleigh lived in Ireland, but, according to Sir John Pope of Hennessy many traces of his residence there can still be seen. The richly perfumed yellow wall-flowers that he brought to Ireland from the Azores and the Affane cherry are still found where he first planted them, by the Blackwater.

Some cedars he brought to Cork are to this day growing at a place called Tiyio. The four venerable yew trees, the branches of which have twined and intermingled into a sort of summer house thatch, are pointed out as having sheltered Raleigh when he first smoked tobacco in his Youghal garden. In that garden he also planted tobacco. A few steps farther on, where the town wall of the thirteenth century surrounds the garden of the warden's house, is the famous spot where the first Irish potato was planted by him.—Chicago Record.

Cingalese Children.

The Cingalese children are said to be more beautiful than those of any other race on the four continents, and some of the little girls, even of the very lowest caste, are irresistibly pretty as they run before you in the streets to beg. They cry out in the sweetest and most plaintive of voices, touching the stomach to signify hunger in a way that would be awkward and vulgar in any other being, but in them it is so winsome that before you know it you sacrifice a rupee to the bad cause of encouraging them in begging—knowing quite well that all they want is a good opportunity to pick your pocket for more.—Outing.

BELL PIANOS

THE QUEEN'S, TORONTO, Feby. 22nd, 1897

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In connection with my visit to Canada as Pianist to Madame Albani, I have had occasion to observe various makes of pianos, and have been much impressed with the advances which are being made in the art of piano construction in this young and flourishing country. One of the most recent instruments to arrest my attention—and I might say one of the best—is the well known "Bell" Piano. Its tone is admirable throughout, and the touch firm and responsive—just what we musicians like—in fact, an excellent piano in every respect. The new Orchestral Attachment (which I understand can be obtained on "Bell" pianos only) is also an excellent feature, and one which will doubtless excite interest with all classes. I do not hesitate to say that I consider the "Bell" piano a good, honest instrument, and so recommend it to any intending purchaser.

(Conductor, Royal Italian Opera, Covent Garden.) Pianist to Madame Albani, Canadian tour, 1896-7.
