communities and province. The aim and scope of the Society has been broadened so that we find schools, communities, churches and cemeteries all being looked after and made beautiful. A remarkable dream has been translated into a reality."

Mr. Darby mentioned as two sources which were largely instrumental in the growth of the society the splendid nursery inaugurated and maintained by Mr. R. L. Cotton, and the knowledge and devotion of Mr. Snazelle in the operation.

Other officers elected were Lloyd Lockerby, Vice President, H. B. Chandler Secretary, and other Directors Robert Snazelle, Mrs. Malcolm MacLeod, Lorne Valley, Mrs. W. W. Anderson, St. Peter's, and Mr. Earle Jelley, O'Leary.

The President commented on the keen competition which has developed and the increasing difficulty the judges have in making their decisions. "Thanks to the generosity of the M. F. Schurman Company," he said, "we were able to branch out into community work, where previously we were only able to deal with individuals".

Twenty-two communities entered in the contest. Some of which contained up to twenty-five homes. The cash prizes to each of the Counties of $100, by Holmans Ltd., and a prize of $60 by the Kiwanis Club of Charlottetown to the veteran of the last war making the best showing in Queen's County, were additional incentives which are greatly appreciated.

Hon. Walter E. Darby, Attorney General commented Col. Johnstone on the present status of the Society which he had brought into existence seven years ago. "I am glad indeed to have been associated with Col. Johnstone in a small way at that time, and continue to be deeply interested", Mr. Darby said. "We take pride in our homes, pride in ourselves and pride in our
