Holland Cove Farm.

This historic estate is now in the market, and parties contemplating the purchase of a farm would do well to inspect this most desirable property. Situated as it is in the immediate vicinity of the Harbor's mouth, the location is one of the most beautiful in the whole Province. The land has a very pronounced Southern aspect, and the view, particularly in the summer season, is magnificent beyond adequate description. Standing at the homestead, the whole extent of Hillsborough Bay and a large stretch of the Straits westwardly from Point Prim, are within easy range of the eye. Looking eastward are the hill ranges of Lot 49, with Crown Point jutting out into the bay; and sweeping the eyes southwardly Gullas Point, Belfast and Point Prim come within view, with Governor's and St. Peter's Islands seemingly quite near, while in clear weather the serried outline of the Nova Scotia coast is distinctly visible. Directly in front, between the two Islands mentioned, is the ship's channel, through which all kinds of craft entering or leaving Charlottetown Harbor must pass. Hence, during the season of navigation, the Bay, dotted at all times with swelling sails, presents a panorama unequalled, perhaps, from any other point of observation in the Province. Going back to the rear of the farm—the backbone of the peninsula and the highest point of land in the vicinity—an extensive view unsurpassed for beauty of rural scenery, is obtained of the country tributary to the East, North and West Rivers, as well as a very good bird's eye view of Charlottetown. It is said that, to look from this point upon the city in the glare of the electric light on a dark night, a scene bewitchingly grand is presented to the eye.

Holland Cove Farm is now owned by Mr. T. A. McLean, of the Esdale Foundry, whose large business interests in Charlottetown demand so much of his time that he is unable to give that close personal attention to his agricultural industry which is necessary to devote to such pursuits in order to insure the fullest measure of success. Hence, his reason—and his only reason—for disposing of this valuable property, which consists of 205 acres, about one-half of which is under cultivation, and a large proportion of the balance could be cleared with but little expense. The soil is sharp, and particularly well adapted for wheat culture, being practically the same as that of Warren Farm adjoining, probably the best wheat-growing farm on the Island. When this grain is a partial failure—as is frequently the case in many parts of the Province—Mr. Newson never fails to reap a full crop of the best quality of wheat. Under the same generous treatment, there is no reason why Holland Cove Farm should not become as famed for growing wheat of excellent quality as Warren Farm already has. The land being high and dry, sheep husbandry should be a profitable industry, while mixed farming should be successfully prosecuted. One pleasing feature, noticeable to the visitor, is an eight-acre orchard planted with the varieties of apple, pear and plum trees best suited to our climate. The trees have made good growth since being set down, and should, in a few years, yield an abundance of fruit. The field slopes to the southward, and is fully protected from the northern blasts by an evergreen wood. This farm is within one and a half miles of Rocky Point wharf, between which point and the city there is hourly communication by a staunch sailboat in summer, and on market days by steamer.

Holland Cove Farm and Warren Farm are of historic interest as being the scene of operations during the earliest settlement of the colony by the French. Here, commanding the entrance to Charlottetown harbor, may still be seen the remains of the old French fort, while the site of Capt. Holland's old homestead is at Holland Cove; and here it was that Major Holland, son of the old captain, and the first British subject born on the Island, was ushered into existence. Evidences of early French occupation are still being met with, several relics being unearthed by Mr. McLean's workmen while turning up a piece of newly cleared land last summer. Who knows but some lucky toiler may yet strike valuable buried treasure while reclaiming some of the acres that have not been tilled for more than a century.

In stocking Holland Cove Farm, Mr. McLean has taken great pains to procure good blood, and the horses particularly give abundant evidence of careful selection. The three-year-old bay stallion Machinist, 7692, is a very fine animal, otherwise he would not have carried off first honors at the Maritime Exhibition, held at Moncton last fall, as well as at the Provincial Exhibition at Charlottetown a few days later, in both cases against large fields of splendid specimens of young trotting bred stallions. Machinist is now in the hands of an experienced trainer in this city. He is a strongly built colt, possessed of great vim, and he moves in a way that gives promise of speed. Machinist was sired by the old favorite, All Right, 5817, dam Nellie Mac, better known as the Connor's mare, by Abdallah Messenger; second dam McKeever mare by McInnis Pony; third dam by Golden Leaf, he by imported Saladin. Apart from old Abdallah, the potency of whose blood none will dispute, Machinist's dam combines the blood of two of the best light harness horses ever in the stud in this Province. The McInnis Pony sired speed, and endowed his progeny with a greater and more uniform degree of spirit than any horse I ever knew. The old Saladin, though a thoroughbred, had the faculty to a remarkable degree, of imparting the trotting instinct to his get. Hisson, Golden Leaf, was one of the best trotters of his day on the Island, and a grand specimen of a carriage horse. There are four choice dark bay brood mares, fit, individually and by breeding, to grace the harem of any stock farm in the Dominion. Probably first in point of merit is a four-year-old by Hernando, dam, the Smith mare, by Flying Frenchman, second dam by Saladin. This is one of the best Hernando mares on the Island, and a full sister to H. B. S., a young horse of great promise, recently purchased by Lieut.-Gov. Carvell from Mr. H. B. Smith, of this city. The Flying Frenchman was doubtless the fastest horse for a spur the Dominion ever produced, and his blood should nick well with that of the standard trotter. This mare is now carrying a foal by Precursor, 5501, of the value of which, next fall, particularly if a filly, should be represented by hundreds. Mr. McLean has a yearling colt from this mare by All Right, which will stand the severest test of intelligent criticism. This colt is dark bay, with a well proportioned body, good neck and head, and a fine, clean set of limbs, that will some day carry him to the front on the turf, if developed for speed. Mr. McLean prizes very highly a three-year-old filly by All Right, dam by Sir Robert, in foal by Precursor. Sir Robert was by Richmond's Hambletonian, dam Flora Bagnall by Valseur, a son of Saladin. Richmond's Hambletonian was by Green's Hambletonian, full brother of the great Volunteer. Flora Bagnall was regarded by the late Wm. Bagnall, who owned no superior in the Province as a competent judge of horseflesh, as the best mare he ever harnessed, and he drew the reins behind many good ones in his day. A mare eight years old by All Right, dam by Golden Leaf, and another six years old, by Sir Robert, dam by Flying Frenchman, are two grand animals individually, and both are in foal by Machinist. A very fine three-year-old cart filly, by Barrister, dam by Challenger, completes the list of horses offered for sale, and the lot is one that would be hard to duplicate on any farm in this country.

I have already taken up so much space that I can only make mere mention of the horned stock, which consists of two very superior aged cows, and several young cows and heifers, principally Jersey grades, among the lot being the handsome pure bred Jersey Bull calf that carried off first prize in his class at the Provincial Exhibition last fall. It is needless to say that a strain of Jersey blood in a herd of milch cows would have a marked tendency towards improving the quality of the milk. Thirteen Shropshire and Merino ewes, and a half dozen pure bred Berkshire pigs are also on the bills for sale. But respecting the merits of these I am not in a position to speak, further than to draw attention to the fact that pigs from this farm have repeatedly been prize-takers at our Provincial Exhibitions.

News Notes.
The spread of culture is attested by this sign on a Philadelphia sidewalk outfit: "Shoe-blackening cafe."
Two thousand men employed on the Liverpool docks have struck because their demand for higher wages was refused.
Prince Bismarck has declined to permit the German African company to sell part of its possessions to an Anglo-Dutch syndicate.
The theme of the Japanese national anthem, as recently rendered into English is, "Oh, that the reign of our Emperor might continue for thousands and thousands of years—until oyster shells become rocks."
Last month Gladstone was invited to be present at a festival given in behalf of a charitable enterprise. He sent his declination upon a postal card. At the festival the postal card was put up at auction sale brought the goodly sum of $80.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, speaking at Bath, referring to the Parnell investigation and the report of the commission, said: "The Times is branded with eternal infamy, and is a monument of lasting disgrace to English journalism."
A Michigan postmaster has been persecuted by young men gossiping with his pretty female clerks that he has placed over each delivery window a printed card which reads, "This window for P. O. business only. Not for visiting."
Dr. Talmage recently gave a sermon on "The responsibility of editors," in the course of which he said that "where the pulpit touches one person the press touches 500. All people do not go to church, but all intelligent people read the newspapers."
A little girl, 5 years old, has arrived in Paterson, N. J., having travelled by rail alone from Saginaw City, Mich. The child, at the request of her father, was shipped as express matter, with a tag about her neck giving her name and destination, and also the key of her trunk.

Two Englishmen have just arrived in London after having made the entire tour of Europe in exactly 365 days. They had no adventures, were everywhere treated with great politeness, and their daily expenses were trifling. Even in Russia they were not disturbed in their tours along the country roads.
The man who was forcibly ejected from a car in San Francisco after tendering in payment of his fare a $5 gold piece, which the conductor refused to accept, has just recovered a big verdict against the company. The Supreme Court held that five dollars was not an unreasonable amount for the agents of a corporation to charge.

For Rickets, Marasmus, and all Wasting Disorders of Children
Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, is unequalled. The rapidity with which children gain flesh and strength upon it is very wonderful.
