

GUESS WHAT DAY IT IS?

Halloween is here again, and Alberton, can hardly wait to go out tonight and get his share of the goodies that the Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hult of grown-ups will be handing out. Drivers are reminded to take it easy, the masked child you save may be your own.

several. Part of this is due to the variety of types of co-ops in the field. For instance there are purchasing, marketing, production, service and fishermen's co-ops. The movement is not, however, confined to this province; it is Canada-wide and the total business volume is rapidly approaching the $2 billion mark annually. In the country as a whole the province of Saskatchewan is tops so far as the volume of business done is concerned. In 1964 the co-ops there did a total of $534,000,000 worth. Here in the Maritimes, for the first time, Co-op Week will be celebrated independently of the rest of the country with the dates being set for October 31-Nov. 5 inclusive with all being invited to visit their nearest co-op outlet.

The co-operative movement is not very old, but it is not new by atomic age standards. However, it operates on a different principle. The co-ops are owned by the people who use them and they pay taxes the same as other businesses such as a property tax, tax on dividends on share capital, tax on general reserves. But it naturally does not put a tax on what it saves its members as this is not considered in the same classification as a company profit. In fact it is likened more to what a grocer would save on groceries by taking them from his own store—and this saving would not be taxable.

Heading the movement on the Island is Eric Hammill, Kinross, president of the Co-Operative Union of P.E.I. On the executive with him are vice-president Gerald Handrahan, Tignish, and secretary Kenneth MacLean, Lot 18.

1st Maritime Co-op Week

The co-operative movement, one of the fastest growing businesses in the province, has seen an almost phenomenal increase in the number of units in operation and in its membership.

Since it began here in the 1930's the growth has been constant and today there are more than 35 different co-operatives spread all over the Island from Tignish to Souris with an annual business volume in excess of $11,000,000.

Membership growth and spread has kept pace, with an extra hike given it by the opening of the newest co-op store in Charlottetown at Royalty Mall. That retail outlet, and the trade it has attracted, has resulted in a noticeable increase in membership as customers move to take advantage of the extra savings membership gives automatically.
