THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 12, 1895.

THE CRISIS PAST.

Messrs McCarthy and Martin and others representing the majority in Manitoba have admitted that the minority in Manitoba have a grievance in respect to their schools. This being so, the duty of the Government of Manitoba to remedy the grievance is admitted; and the Government of Manitoba have not stated that they will not do it. But they are keeping the question open for the evident purpose of creating divisions in the Government and among its supporters. The Dominion Government is, under the constitution, as interpreted by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, bound to do what it can toward righting the wrong, if Manitoba should refuse to do so; and the Opposition party see in this enforced action and the and the party complications it will bring about, a side-way of gaining office at Ottawa. To keep the question open is their game, and a mean game it is. By precipitating a ministerial crisis and pledging the Government to take action on or before a certain time, Sir A. P. Caron and Messrs. Ouimet and Angers played right into their hands. The crisis has, however, been tided over for the nonce, and two of the objecting ministers have gone back to their offices. The apparent result of their escapade is that the Government has lost the support of extremists on both sides of the question. A number of hot-headed French Canadian Conservatives followed their leaders out, but have not yet followed them back again, and a number of English-speaking representatives have openly declared that they will withdraw their support from the Government whenever Remedial Legislation shall be submitted to the Dominion Parliament. Fortunately, the Government majority is large, and the sense of justice throughout the country is strong. The Government has been well sustained in the House of Commons, notwithstanding the result of the blunder committed by the French Conservative leaders; and it will, when the time comes for an appeal to the people, be sustained in its reasonable course by the common sense and justice of the constituencies. Manitoba has been given time in which to do the justice which Mr. McCarthy, her advocate, and her leading politicians admit to be due the Roman Catholic minority. If the Government of Manitoba fail to do such justice, or give a sufficient guarantee that such justice shall be done, then no reasonable man can blame the Government for adopting a reasonable remedial measure in accordance with the demands of the constitution.

That the people will approve the course laid down by the Government is the more probable in view of the contemptible tactics pursued by the Opposition. In Quebec they are working up an agitation because the Government have not hastily interfered with Manitoba; in Ontario they are attempting to gain strength on the ground that the Dominion Government is pressing for remedial legislation on the part of Manitoba, merely to gain the Catholic vote in the next election. All the while their leader, Mr. Laurier, is careful not to announce any policy of his own; while his promise to use his influence with the Greenway Government in favor of an immediate and satisfactory settlement of the question remains unfulfilled. That Mr. Greenway and his colleagues are in duty-bound to settle with their Roman Catholic minority is now established; that they have not done so in order that they may if possible "dish the tories" is now evident. In other words they neglect their duty to gain a party end; and Her Majesty's Opposition, led by Hon. Mr. Laurier, are taking advantage of their neglect. Such tactics are utterly unworthy a great political party.

CROPS AND PROSPECTS.

Refreshing rains have rejoiced our farmers, and made the crops look up again. Though the splendid promise of the early spring has not been maintained, there is now prospect of a fairly good crop. Hay is much too light in some sections; but upon the whole the yield will be up to the average. Our wheat fields look well, and so do those of oats and other cereals. Just now it seems likely that the straw, for the most part, will be short, and the grain heavy; but in some poor fields the straw will be thin as well as short. Our potato vines have not yet been greatly injured by the bugs. The shell-backs which produced the bugs were at one time very thick. These have, it is reported, suddenly taken their departure; and it is hoped that the development of the bugs they have left behind may be checked by doses of Paris green or careful picking. In some localities the turnip seeds did not germinate, owing to long continued drought, but wherever they have taken root the prospect is good.

That which has been said concerning the crops in P. E. Island, is applicable to those of the other Maritime Provinces. But alarming reports come from all parts of Ontario. The drought there has been severe and long continued. It is reported that creeks, wells and water-holes have in some localities been dried up, and that farmers have to go miles for water. The intense heat has dried up the pastures and cattle are suffering for food as well as water. In these circumstances the crops cannot grow, and farmers are in despair It is stated that grasshoppers have made their appearance and threaten the remains of those crops which the drought has spared. We are told that the merchants in some localities are so greatly discouraged that they refuse to buy goods from the commercial travellers.

On the other hand, the reports obtained by the Molson's bank as to the condition and prospects of the Manitoba crops are stated by the Montreal Gazette to be exceedingly gratifying. The acreage, we are told, is much larger than last year, when it was larger than the year before, and the outlook at this date has rarely, if ever, been so good. In one case the wheat was headed out on the 1st of July, and everywhere, almost, the report is that the general condition is from two to three weeks in advance of that at this date twelve months ago. There is a general increase also in the number of cattle and hogs kept, more dairy factories are in operation, and a larger number of fat animals will be ready for market in the fall. A good deal is also said of the condition of the farmers themselves that is not the least satisfactory part of the reports. They would appear to owe less and to possess more than at any time since the Northwest was opened to settlement. Their store bills have been reduced, unwillingly perhaps, sometimes, and their mortgage indebtedness curtailed. One gentleman, whose position should enable him to speak with authority, says a million and a half less is owing on mortgage today in Monitoba than a year ago. All this means that the benefits of a good crop, when it is reaped, will go more largely than usual to those who have raised it, and that general business will be proportionately improved.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—We publish Mr. Davy's letter with pleasure. It is just what we expected. We feel sure that Mr. Davy will, upon reflection, agree with The Examiner that it is better to have such reports authoritatively denied and the facts explained than to have them circulating in an underhand way—even though the denial were called forth by an anonymous correspondent.

—Adrian Disconu, of Hungary, claims to have made a remarkable discovery. He has found in the remains of the old Roman camp of Borsovia, at Bogeseau, near Temesvar, what he and certain learned men of Bucharest regard as irrefutable evidence that the centurions of the fourth legion, who were stationed there at some time during the second century, were acquainted with the use of moveables types. Such a discovery, if verified, will throw back the origin of the art of printing nearly thirteen centuries. It is already known that the Romans used stamps with which to impress upon bricks such inscriptions as "Leg, Vic, Six;" but there has been no trace of the use of moveable types.

—The Ottawa correspondent of the Montreal Gazette pays the following tribute to Dr. Montague, the new Secretary of State:

"Dr. Montague, Secretary of State, is proving himself to be a splendid departmental head as well as a strong debater and platform speaker. He has evidently taken hold of his department with a strong grip and intends to carry out a policy which a little time ago he announced in the House, viz., That each man in the civil service ought to be paid a fair salary and that each ought to be compelled to earn his money. He has reduced the staff of his department by five or six, and thereby made a saving of seven or eight thousand dollars a year. The men are retired and their places abolished, the work of the department is redistributed so that the remaining members of the staff, by adding to their present duties, may be able to do the work."

—The accounts of the United States for the fiscal year just ended are said to have been cooked to the extent of seven million dollars in order to keep the deficit down to 43 millions—that is the expenditure account was closed promptly on the night of the 30th of June, instead of being kept open until all bills for services performed during the fiscal year have been rendered. A similar system, but much worse, is pursued by the local government of this province, many accounts which have been rendered during the fiscal year being carried into the next by promises to pay of one sort or another. The Dominion government system of keeping the accounts open until all the bills are rendered is the correct one. The Dominion accounts to June 30 show a surplus, but the bills that will be rendered during the next three months will create a deficit which has been anticipated and provided for. But in the matter of public expenditures it is best that every year should stand on its own bottom.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION.

A Boston despatch of the 10th says: Boston greeted the Christian Endeavor hosts today with wreaths of crimson and white decorations on her buildings and elaborate floral display in her public gardens. The delegates began to arrive on Sunday, and 14,000 had registered last night. Since sunrise today they have poured into the city by thousands, and by midnight there were nearly 50,000 Endeavorers in town. Each delegation was met about one hundred miles from Boston by four local members belonging to the accommodation and reception committees, who furnished the strangers with information about the city and telegraphed the size of the delegation and the hour of arrival to the city. On arrival the delegates were escorted to their state headquarters by white capped guides. The delegates registered at the state headquarters were furnished with convention badges and assigned suitable rooms in the neighboring houses. So systematically was the matter handled that delegations of several hundreds were placed in permanent lodgings within an hour after arrival in this city. During the afternoon the business portion of the city was crowded with endeavorers.

The grand convention opened at 7.30 this evening with 19 simultaneous meetings in Boston, Cambridge and Somerville churches, at which addresses were given by a large number of attending delegates on different subjects to be considered by the convention.

Big Liquor Robbery.—Developments were made in Halifax in the police court on Monday, which showed that the firm of John Tobin & Co. had been robbed of considerable liquor through one Fagg, a packer and general porter of eight years' standing in the house, and Scanlan, assistant storekeeper, eighteen months in the employ. Fagg gave the thing away. He admitted that his share of the plunder was about $150. The plan was to pack an octave of rum—about twelve gallons—in an empty sugar barrel, and get it away when the shipping clerk was not around.

American newspapers of all shades of politics have lately been publishing a vast amount of information showing that another era of prosperity has begun. The Philadelphia Record takes pleasure in making the following announcement: "One of the most encouraging signs of the times is the agreement entered into by the railway managers of the country to restore rates tomorrow, and to stop the pernicious practice of 'cutting.' When the railway companies can afford to 'tote square' there can't be very much wrong with the general business situation."

The New York Times says: The Rev. T. A. Ducey, pastor of St. Lee's Roman Catholic Church in this city, is authority for the statement that the Pope has promulgated a decree abolishing all the days of abstinence in this year except Fridays, even during Lent. This decree, however, is applicable only to poor persons and their families. That such a Papal decree had been issued has been surmised in Catholic circles for some time. That it was an absolute fact, the Rev. Father Ducey assured a reporter of the Times. "It is absolutely correct and authentic," Father Ducey said. "While I have not seen the official document sent to the Bishops of the United States, the information came to me from a trustworthy Roman correspondent two months ago. I know that this decree has not been promoted in the western part of the States, and I presume the Archbishop of New York will convey this information to the poor of the archdiocese of New York when he formulates an announcement."

WEDDING BELLS.

The residence of Mr. John McDonald, Vernon River, was on Monday, the 8th inst., the scene of a very pleasant social event, the occasion being the marriage of his sister, Mrs. Margaret McDonald, to Mr. J. E. Fellona, both of Portland, Maine. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Doyle, at St. Joachim's Church, Vernon River. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Peter McDonald, nephew of the bride, while the bride was attended by her niece, Miss Mary McDonald. The bride was very tastefully attired in a suit of fawn Indian cashmere, and looked charming. After the ceremony a luncheon and reception was held at her brother's residence, and at 4 p. m., the happy couple, amidst the congratulations of a large party of friends, started for their home in the United States. They have The Examiner's best wishes.

Special Despatches to the Examiner

PARLIAMENT OF CANADA.

The Ministerial Crisis Tided Over.

Caron and Ouimet Withdraw Their Resignations.

Several Conservative Members Announce That They Will Oppose the Government's Policy.

Ottawa, July 12.

After the House of Commons met yesterday afternoon Mr. Foster, in reply to Mr. Laurier, said that somedifferences had arisen between members of the Cabinet with reference to remedial legislation. These differences were chiefly on two lines. Some of his colleagues were of opinion that it was useless and, consequently, unnecessary to prolong negotiations or enter into further negotiation with the Manitoba Government. The ground was also strongly taken that remedial legislation should be introduced at once, as there was nothing to hope for from Manitoba. He regretted that one of his colleagues who sat in the Senate had found it impossible to accede to the view of the majority of the Government, and his resignation had been accepted. With reference to Sir Adolph Caron and Mr. Ouimet the difference between themselves and the Government was rather a misunderstanding than a difference of opinion as to the promise of the Government to bring down remedial legislation next session. It was only a matter of detail upon which they and the Government differed, and they have been able to come to the conclusion that in the statement made by himself on Monday Remedial Legislation was actually and positively promised, and there is no variableness or shadow of turning in so far. Having reached that conclusion, his two colleagues who sat in the House with him consented to withdraw their resignations.

Sir Adolph Caron and Mr. Ouimet made brief statements. Speeches were also made by Sir Charles H. Tupper, Mr. Laurier and others.

Mr. McCarthy said that he was still a Conservative, and speaking for many Conservative members he warned the Government against attempting to coerce Manitoba.

Mr. Girouard, of Jacques Cartier, urged the French-Canadian members to stand by the Government, as they had given a positive pledge that they would push remedial legislation.

Mr. Dupont (Conservative) said he must withdraw his support from the Government because they have not carried out their pledges.

Dr. Weldon said that he regretted to hear the statement of the Government on Monday that remedial legislation was their policy. He gave them fair notice that he would oppose it next session.

Mr. Joncas rose in a great state of excitement, and said that in view of Dr. Weldon's statement he would vote for Mr. Laurier's motion.

Mr. Jeanult said ditto.

Dennison and McNeill (Conservatives) also intimated that they would oppose remedial legislation.

At 10.30 the House divided on Mr. Laurier's motion to adjourn, which was rejected on the following vote: for Mr Laurier's motion, 82; against it, 116; Government majority, 34.

Lepine, Joncas, Dugas, Fourcette, Jenette, Dupont and Belley (Conservatives) together with McCarthy and O'Brien voted with the Opposition. The result was announced amid loud ministerial cheers.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, in the Senate, made an announcement somewhat similar to Mr. Foster's in the House of Commons.
