

Atomic Artillery Shown Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—A small model of an artillery gun designed to fire shells with atomic warheads was displayed today to members of the Senate-House atomic energy committee.

Light secrecy surrounded the showing, which took place behind closed doors. But from past official statements it could be inferred that the weapon has already been tested, although perhaps not with an atomic shell in it.

It was Senator B. McMahon, chairman of the joint committee, who described the model to newspaper men as that of a gun "designed to handle atomic shells."

McMahon declined to say whether it was a small-scale model of a gun already in existence, or made from blueprints of one not yet built.

However, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief-of-staff, said last month that atomic artillery "has been tested as a weapon."

Officials have been saying for some time that the U. S. has ready for use tactical atomic weapons which could be used against troops in the field.

But that description might cover smaller missiles, artillery shells, guided A-bombs or possibly radio-active dust.

Relatively small A-bombs are known to have been tested, and display of the model artillery weapon—along with Collins' comments—indicates that artillery shells are also about ready for possible use.

Collins said, in an interview Dec. 6, that they would be ready in the "not too distant" future. He said he did not want to say how soon it would be practicable to put them to use "because, needless to say, any potential enemy would like to have that information."

No Confirmation Of Missing Train Report
Citizens last night were wondering about a radio report regarding the whereabouts of one of the Canadian National Railway trains on the Eastern run. A Railway official last night said he knew nothing of it.

He stated that station agents at Murray Harbor, Montague and Souris would seldom still be on duty by the time trains reached their stations. Ordinarily the railway office here would have accurate information on the whereabouts of all its trains.

TORONTO, Jan. 11 (CP)—Agnes Macphail, says if women are going to take their places beside men in public life and organizations "they will have to stop being shrinking violets and speak up."

Participating in an Ontario Federation of Agriculture panel discussion on Wednesday on "Women's Place in Farm Organizations," Miss Macphail said women will have to think and express their convictions honestly, without fear of what others will say.

Canada's first woman member of parliament and in public life for more than 30 years, Miss Macphail said issues that used to be considered only women's are now coming to the fore and are "being hogged" by men. She cited welfare work as an example.

TO THE RESIDENTS AND VOTERS OF WARD 3
Dear Citizen:—
In response to requests made by a number of residents of your ward in particular and other serious-minded citizens of this City in general I am offering for election to the City Council in the Civic Election next month.

It is with regret that previous commitments require me to be away from the Province for the next three weeks. However, it will be my privilege and pleasure to meet as many of you as is possible early in February.

Participation in the work of the Charlottetown Board of Trade has shown me there are many things that can be done (some urgently needed) to improve this City. With your support in this coming election I shall earnestly strive to make such improvements.

R.C.A.F. Recruiting Unit Scheduled Here Next Week

The Royal Canadian Air Force has announced that a Mobile Recruiting Unit from the Summerside Recruiting Unit will be visiting Charlottetown, Montague and Souris during the coming week. Air Force representatives have been placing posters throughout the eastern part of the province during the past week, and have finalized arrangements for the arrival of the Mobile Unit.

In Charlottetown, Recruiting will commence Tuesday morning, and the Unit will remain here for two days. Located in the R.C.A.F. Association Clubrooms on the third floor of the Bank of Commerce Building, the unit will remain open until 9.00 p.m. Tuesday evening, for the benefit of those who cannot attend during regular hours.

From Charlottetown, the Mobile Recruiting Unit will move to Montague, where they will be located Thursday in the Town Hall. The last place visited on the current tour will be Souris, where recruiting will be carried out on Friday at the Town Hall.

This is the first tour in 1952 for the Mobile Unit. It is commanded by F/L J.A. Robertson, assisted by Flight Sergeant G.C. Conrad, LAC W.W. Green and ACI B.K. Myles, all of the Summerside Recruiting staff.

An Air Force spokesman has pointed out that interviews with the recruiting staff will place the visitor under no obligation. The purpose of the trip is to supply information to residents in the areas visited. Those who qualify will be provided with transportation to Summerside where medical examinations and actual enlistments are carried out.

Lyons-Waterston Wedding
The wedding of Grace Patricia, younger daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. E. J. Waterston, Westmount, Quebec, and Mr. Leslie MacKay Lyons, Montreal took place at high noon on December 29 at St. Mathias Church, Westmount.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Douglas Waterston, and two other brothers, Thomas and Cadet John Waterston. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Betty Lyons, was maid of honor. The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's mother following which the young couple left for Lake Placid. On their return they will reside in Toronto.

The bride's mother is the former Miss Dorothy Longworth, daughter of the late Col. John A. Longworth, of Charlottetown.

Visiting Gideon Camps in Maritimes
Mr. W. B. Wortman, president of the Gideons International in Canada, is visiting various Gideon camps in the Maritime Provinces and will pay a visit to this city as part of his tour. There are 76 camps in Canada, 12 of them being in the Maritimes.

The first members of the Gideons were three commercial travellers. Christians, they noted that their work prevented them from enjoying the Christian fellowship of membership in a church where they would be among their friends and families. They formed their own association for worship and thus the Gideons came into being in 1899.

Just nine years later they conceived the idea of enabling other travellers to have the privilege of religion wherever they might be and they placed 25 Bibles in the rooms of a hotel in Montana. Today the Gideon Bible is a familiar part of every hotel room. Later it was decided to distribute them to hospitals and schools and large numbers have found their way into the hands of the sick or the young. As an example of the scope of the work it is noted that 130,000 Gideon Bibles have been distributed in classrooms across Canada. In addition there have been 520,000 copies of the New Testament given to school children.

Expect National Advertising Volume To Be Maintained
TORONTO, Jan. 11 (CP)—The volume of national advertising expenditures in Canadian media in 1951 will be maintained and probably exceeded in 1952 if present plans of advertisers are realized, it is stated in the annual forecast of "Marketing," advertising trade publication.

"Marketing" adds: "Responses from several hundred advertisers, advertising agencies and media proprietors show that 52.20 per cent of national advertisers plan to spend more this year than last; 35.86 per cent plan to spend the same, 6.29 per cent plan to spend less; and 5.66 per cent are undecided.

"Practically all media will share in the increased budgets including daily newspapers week-end papers, magazines, farm papers, radio and trade papers.

"While some increased appropriations will do no more than take care of higher costs in the majority of cases they will purchase more space or time and more color.

"Sales managers expressed the view that sales generally will be up approximately 10 per cent. They reported that materials shortages had eased considerably, with many excellent substitutes now available."

"Mental Immunization" Needed For Young Children
TORONTO, Jan. 11 (CP)—Dr. C.G. Stogdill, school board psychiatrist, said today that young children need to be protected from extreme mental stress until they have developed "mental immunization."

He told the progress club that mental diet is as important as vitamin B in a child's growth.

As children grow up they get "in small anti-toxins of failure and frustration. Mental hygiene strengthens this progress."

He listed situations "as bad as open sewers" for a child's mental health: over-protection by the mother, rigid domination by a father with impossible high standards; parental friction.

Death In Accident Of Mr. T. A. Benson

Mr. T. A. Benson, long time member of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, died Monday night following an accident in which he was struck by a truck in Ontario. He will be remembered by many of this Province for his work as one of the first poultry promoters here.

The late Mr. Benson, believed to be about 80 years old, was one of the first men of the Dominion Department to open an office in this city. He worked closely with the Provincial Department of Agriculture in his efforts of approximately 30 years ago and was one of the first to offer assistance in the forming of the old P.E.I. Egg and Poultry Association which was such a power in the poultry industry of that time.

He was closely allied with Rev. Fr. Arsenault and the late Senator Sinclair in the work.

He retired about 10 years ago from the Department and since then had been acting as secretary to the Ontario Turkey Breeders Association.
