

Happenings of The Week

An attendance of five hundred guests, distinguished by the presence of Their Excellencies Field Marshal Viscount Alexander of Tunis, K.G., G.C.B., D.S.O., Governor-General of Canada, and the Viscountess Alexander, and including many high-ranking persons...

Miss Hazel Stewart was honoured recently by the firm of DeBios Bros. at a buffet-supper and dance at Sandy's Restaurant, prior to her leaving the position which she held on their staff.

Mrs. K. M. Martin who is visiting in the United Kingdom and the continent flew to Paris this week for a brief holiday in France.

The Musical Festival Association entertained at the home of Mrs. Wallace Rodd, Highfield for the adjudicators, Mr. John Lee and Mr. F. E. Hubble, on Friday evening following the final concert at Prince of Wales College.

Cadet Walter Conrad, R.M.C., who was visiting his parents, Col. and Mrs. F. E. Conrad left on Thursday for Camp Borden.

Mrs. William G. Hogg, North River Road, entertained on Friday evening at four tables of bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Green, Jr. left today for a holiday in Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Harland P. Found who spent the winter in Charlotte-town returned this week to their summer home in New London.

Friends of Mrs. C. H. Coles, Weymouth Street, will regret to learn she is ill in the P. E. Island Hospital.

Miss Laura Duncan, who was married this week to Mr. Robert Fox, was guest of honour at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. G. R. Soy, Spring Park Road.

Princess Elizabeth may re-establish the Royal tradition of large families, Buckingham Palace sources hint. The heiress-presumptive to the throne and her young husband, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, are expecting a second child in August.

King Edward VII had five children—three princesses and two princes. King George V, Elizabeth's grandfather, had six, five of them boys. The big family tradition was broken by Elizabeth's father, King George VI, who gave Britain two girls—Elizabeth and her merry younger sister, Princess Margaret.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, the rooms decorated with flowers. The couple left on a six weeks' trip to Western Canada and from Vancouver will proceed to Alaska by boat. The bride is wearing for travelling a three-piece grey suit with tawny copper accessories, hat of natural straw with tawny copper trimming and a corsage of Talsiman roses.

Major-General the Earl of Athlone, former Governor-General of Canada, will preside at a reunion luncheon to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the relief of Mafeking which will be held at the Royal Empire Society, Northumberland Avenue, W.C., London, on Wednesday, May 17.

The King and Queen on Monday received the Lieutenant-Governor Ray Lawson of Ontario and Mrs. Lawson at Buckingham Palace. A palace spokesman said the Lawsons had a "very pleasant" visit with Their Majesties.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. B. Longworth have returned to "Hillhurst" from Atlantic City, Florida, where they spent several weeks on holiday. Miss Norah Longworth who returned to Charlottetown the latter part of April.

Mrs. George Buntain this week returned from a month's vacation in Bermuda, stopping over for a short visit in Boston and New Jersey. Mr. Buntain and Master Derek returned from Bermuda last week.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. F. A. Large entertained for friends at her North River Road home, at four tables of bridge.

Miss Elizabeth Lantz, who is a student at MacDonnell College, St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, returned to Charlottetown to spend her holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Lantz. At Hampstead, Quebec, she spent some time visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Brodie.

Friends of Mrs. C. S. Drew will be sorry to learn that she is a patient in the Prince Edward Island Hospital.

Mrs. Frederick Gamble, Prince Street, had friends in for afternoon tea on Wednesday.

That Body Of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

MORE SUCCESSFUL RESULTS WITH DRUGS IN ARTHRITIS

Because rheumatism is the oldest and commonest disease known to man, it is only natural that almost everybody should be interested in the new drugs, cortisone and Acth, and are looking forward to obtaining them. In the meantime, headlines in our newspapers give information about the dramatic success of these drugs in treating old and severe cases of rheumatism and arthritis.

In a general way we think of rheumatism as pain in muscles, tendons and joints, whereas we think of arthritis more particularly as inflammation of joints only. Arthritis specialists themselves usually include both parts of the body.

In "General Practice Clinics," Mayo Clinic physicians Philip S. Hench, Edward C. Kendall, Charles H. Slocumb and Howard F. Polley give a preliminary report of the treatment of the patients with severe or moderately severe rheumatoid arthritis (the commonest form of rheumatism) with Compound E (cortisone). In their research studies on effects of various illnesses on the body they found that certain conditions (jaundice and pregnancy) actually had a beneficial effect upon rheumatoid arthritis.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Green, Jr. left today for a holiday in Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Harland P. Found who spent the winter in Charlotte-town returned this week to their summer home in New London.

Friends of Mrs. C. H. Coles, Weymouth Street, will regret to learn she is ill in the P. E. Island Hospital.

Miss Laura Duncan, who was married this week to Mr. Robert Fox, was guest of honour at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. G. R. Soy, Spring Park Road.

Princess Elizabeth may re-establish the Royal tradition of large families, Buckingham Palace sources hint. The heiress-presumptive to the throne and her young husband, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, are expecting a second child in August.

King Edward VII had five children—three princesses and two princes. King George V, Elizabeth's grandfather, had six, five of them boys. The big family tradition was broken by Elizabeth's father, King George VI, who gave Britain two girls—Elizabeth and her merry younger sister, Princess Margaret.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, the rooms decorated with flowers. The couple left on a six weeks' trip to Western Canada and from Vancouver will proceed to Alaska by boat. The bride is wearing for travelling a three-piece grey suit with tawny copper accessories, hat of natural straw with tawny copper trimming and a corsage of Talsiman roses.

Major-General the Earl of Athlone, former Governor-General of Canada, will preside at a reunion luncheon to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the relief of Mafeking which will be held at the Royal Empire Society, Northumberland Avenue, W.C., London, on Wednesday, May 17.

The King and Queen on Monday received the Lieutenant-Governor Ray Lawson of Ontario and Mrs. Lawson at Buckingham Palace. A palace spokesman said the Lawsons had a "very pleasant" visit with Their Majesties.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. B. Longworth have returned to "Hillhurst" from Atlantic City, Florida, where they spent several weeks on holiday. Miss Norah Longworth who returned to Charlottetown the latter part of April.

Mrs. George Buntain this week returned from a month's vacation in Bermuda, stopping over for a short visit in Boston and New Jersey. Mr. Buntain and Master Derek returned from Bermuda last week.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. F. A. Large entertained for friends at her North River Road home, at four tables of bridge.

Miss Elizabeth Lantz, who is a student at MacDonnell College, St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, returned to Charlottetown to spend her holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Lantz. At Hampstead, Quebec, she spent some time visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Brodie.

Friends of Mrs. C. S. Drew will be sorry to learn that she is a patient in the Prince Edward Island Hospital.

Mrs. Frederick Gamble, Prince Street, had friends in for afternoon tea on Wednesday.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS -

Secretary's Gripe

Boss's Wife Wants To Dictate Employee's Clothes, Make-up

DEAR MISS DIX: My boss is a fine man and I am an efficient secretary, so all is well except that his wife feels that she has a right to dictate about my clothes and personal appearance. The first week I went to work my employer said that his wife didn't approve of my style of dress. I started dressing ten years older, wearing nothing but black, brown and navy blue. A little later he told me that his wife wished that he would call my attention to my use of lipstick and rouge. No more make-up.

I would leave except that I don't want to give up a good job. What should I do?

ANSWER: It is an impudent and outrageous thing for your employer's wife to dictate to you about your clothes and your complexion. That is none of her business. She has no more right to tell you how to dress and what make-up to put on than you have to criticize her taste.

So I implore the boss's wives to have a heart and lay off their husband's employee's clothes.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is kind to me. He never finds fault with me for anything I do or don't do and he never refuses me anything I want. But there is one thing that I cannot stand any longer. He has a little rat dog that he will let sleep in the house at night in the winter time in spite of the fact that I insist on having it put out. He just worships that dog, and I have given him notice that I am going to leave him if he doesn't put it out. We would have a nice, agreeable time together, if it were not for this dog. What am I to do?

ANSWER: Fie, Mrs. H. R., aren't you ashamed of being jealous of a poor little dog? If your husband were petting some girl about half your age and who weighed about half what you do, you would have some cause to be green-eyed and tell your husband that he would have to choose between you and your deadly rival.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

ELLEN'S DIARY

By An Island Farmer's Wife

ancient Chinese symbol of love and beauty, happiness and riches...

Apple-tree wood was sawed in today's spell of storm, stout limbs off a Golden Russet in our remnant of orchard, that worn out by winds and weathers, gave up in part to a passing wintry guest. In a Spring cleaning of the yards the farmers gathered these and added the more sizable to the heap of sticks brought from the woodlands, to make intriguing flame for the housewives often called upon suddenly to "have the kettle boiling" to meet some requirement of man or stock.

DEAR MISS DIX: My boss is a fine man and I am an efficient secretary, so all is well except that his wife feels that she has a right to dictate about my clothes and personal appearance. The first week I went to work my employer said that his wife didn't approve of my style of dress. I started dressing ten years older, wearing nothing but black, brown and navy blue. A little later he told me that his wife wished that he would call my attention to my use of lipstick and rouge. No more make-up.

I would leave except that I don't want to give up a good job. What should I do?

ANSWER: It is an impudent and outrageous thing for your employer's wife to dictate to you about your clothes and your complexion. That is none of her business. She has no more right to tell you how to dress and what make-up to put on than you have to criticize her taste.

So I implore the boss's wives to have a heart and lay off their husband's employee's clothes.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is kind to me. He never finds fault with me for anything I do or don't do and he never refuses me anything I want. But there is one thing that I cannot stand any longer. He has a little rat dog that he will let sleep in the house at night in the winter time in spite of the fact that I insist on having it put out. He just worships that dog, and I have given him notice that I am going to leave him if he doesn't put it out. We would have a nice, agreeable time together, if it were not for this dog. What am I to do?

ANSWER: Fie, Mrs. H. R., aren't you ashamed of being jealous of a poor little dog? If your husband were petting some girl about half your age and who weighed about half what you do, you would have some cause to be green-eyed and tell your husband that he would have to choose between you and your deadly rival.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow, 26 years old, with two children and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man. I have supported my babies and about to marry a well-to-do man.

Chen Yu's Double Peony advertisement featuring an illustration of a woman and text describing the product as a symbol of love and beauty, with prices for nail lacquer and lipstick.

Jenkins Pharmacy advertisement listing various products and services, including dispensing chemists and contact information.

The Stars Say... Household Rapbook advertisement featuring Genevieve Kemble and Roberta Lee.

Apple Sauce advertisement with text about the benefits of apple sauce and a recipe for cut glass.

Pink Cheeks for Glamour Girls advertisement with text about skin care and beauty products.

Fox-Duncan Wedding advertisement with text about a wedding ceremony and reception.

Kennedy's Ladies' Wear advertisement featuring a list of clothing items and prices, including suits, raincoats, and sweaters.

Visit The Smart Shoppe advertisement with text about clothing specials and contact information.