

Cowan Family Re-Union Held At Lower Montague

The Leith Cowan family, formerly of Lower Montague, held a reunion last week at the Lower Montague hall. Over 30 members attended the dinner and social evening. This gathering marked the first time all the family had ever been together. Mrs. Brooks had not visited the island since she left here 40 years ago. During the evening slides of the family gatherings and scenes in the U.S.A. and Canada, were shown by Lou and John Cowan and Bob Balcome. Members of the immediate family are: Mrs. Leith Cowan, London, Ont.; Mrs. Robert Balcome, and Mrs. Balcome, Douglas, Mass.; Mrs. Donald Spoor and Mr. Spoor, Keene Valley, N.Y.; Louis and Mrs. Cowan, Detroit, Mich.; John and Mrs. Cowan, Newton, N.J.; Lucy (Mrs. Art Brooks) and Mr. Brooks, Milburn, Mass.; Vera (Mrs. Harry Walker) and Mr. Walker, Boonton, N.J.; Irving and Mrs. Cowan, She-d-den, Ont.; Beth (Mrs. Jack Smith) and Mr. Smith, London, Ont.; Frances Cowan, London, Ont.; Phyllis (Mrs. Cliff Hughes) and Mr. Hughes, Halifax, N.S.; Mrs. Balcome, Mrs. Spoor and Mrs. Brooks are graduates of the Orange Memorial Hospital, Orange, N.J. John, now spending the summer months at Lower Montague, returned this year from a fruit growing business in N.J. Louis was retired in 1965 from Burrows Adding Machine Co. In 1940 Irving joined the RCAF and did a tour of operations on the island of Malta and won the D.F.C. as a wireless operator and six-gunner. Later he returned to Canada and was posted in Alberta where he became a pilot. Both Mrs. Smith was a member of the RCAF Women's Division during 1944-45 and Frances served for seven years with the RCAF in Quebec and Ontario. Phyllis (Mrs. Hughes) has been with the Navy since 1952 and has just recently received her discharge. After the reception friends and neighbors called to renew old acquaintances. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Smith and Frances Cowan.

Mushroom Pickers Fail In Their Evening Search

"Could anyone climb up a tree and know well the little rainbow?" Peter wondered this evening when we talked of one and the other. Kirk, of their had recently seen standing on the hill. "How could one?" A rainbow's colors the sun makes in the evening, when shining through a shower. "Oh." "You can't climb a rainbow. But it's like the new moon, the first star of evening, there's no harm in wishing on one," we said. July's new moon was a pale blue then, come to be not only the thinner moon, but the moon of the having, as well. With the pair of lads and Scampie in attendance, we were surely searching along a hillside pasture for mushrooms. The horses summering there came up to be greeted, then cantered away, hoof-beats soft on the low clover which carpets their pasture so sweetly. Pretty echoes came to us there, a car door closed. Someone was homing from fishing in the stream below. We could hear James making kindling wood at the chopping block of the door of the woodshed. Tomorrow's first fire was assured. Up the valley cows lowed. A dog-or-was that a fox's shrill bark? Perhaps the mother of the pair of "cute ones" the family sees playing about in a field. Among today's visitors to Alderlea were cousins of the name from a distance, come by to become better acquainted with this farm and its neighborhood, particularly, we think, the old mill. Because one of their grandmothers, the first miller's daughter, was born and reared in the house on the hill. She was aunt to James' her namesake, one of his two sisters, now gone. Those girls of that now long

Shower Honors Young Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Elbe, (nee Doris Wright) who were recently married at Prince George, B.C. are spending their honeymoon in the Maritime provinces. Last week they were guests of Mrs. Elbe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Len Wright. At Lower Montague a shower and social evening was held at the hall in their honor. During the evening an address was read by Mrs. Keith Elliot, and a gift was presented by Shirley, Graham, from friends and neighbors. Individual gifts were opened by Mrs. Elaine MacDonald, and the gift cards and good wishes were read by Mrs. Graham. Refreshments were served by friends of the bride.

Roses, Orange Blossoms Adorn Pownal Church

Pownal United Church was the over silk print. She carried a basket of shasta daisies. Carol Lavina, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Herman, became the bride of Bruce MacPherson Pippy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pippy, Hazelbrook. Rev. Fred Mackinnon, brother-in-law of the groom, officiated at the double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with baskets of roses, orange blossoms and snowballs. Rosebuds marked the guest peas. The church organist, Mrs. Edward Wood, accompanied Mrs. Blake Wood, who sang O' Perfect Love before the ceremony and I'll Walk Beside You during the signing of the register. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown (empire style) of peau de soie, the bodice and livy part sleeves were of lace. A detachable lace train fell softly from the shoulders. Her elbow length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a cluster of orange leaves, pearls and crystals. She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of red roses, entwined with ivy and wore a cultured pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. Attending the bride as maid of honour was her sister Pearl Herman. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Gordon Herman, sister-in-law of the bride, and Nancy Pippy, sister of the groom. They wore identical floor length empire style, sleeveless gowns of aqua silk print. Their head-dresses were of organza gathered to bows. They carried nosegays of green tinted carnations. Debby Jeffery, niece of the groom, as flower girl wore a trany gown of aqua organza.

Margate UCW Reports On Recent Nova Scotia Meet

At the July meeting of the Margate UCW, Mrs. Bruce Clark gave an interesting report on the visit to Pictou County, Presbyterial which was held recently. She said there were 90 women from the Island 6 women attended from the Margate group. Elma Inman, a retired missionary, and a native of P.E. Island, gave the address. Mrs. Philip Henderson was leader for the meeting held in the church vestry. The devotional period opened with the hymn "I am Thine, O Lord" followed by scripture read by the leader from Phillipians 2:5-8 and a reading entitled "Mastered by What?" read by Mrs. Heath Mayhew. With the president, Mrs. Heath Mayhew in the chair 15 members responded to roll call with a verse of scripture containing the word "life". The treasurer reported $907.00 to the Presbyterial with a balance on hand of $108.05. A motion was passed that the UCW start an In-Memoriam fund. It was decided to cater to a wedding reception in September. The community friendship secretary, Mrs. Justin Woodside, reported 18 hospital calls, four home calls, 23 cards and six treats. The offering was dedicated by the president. Leaders for the August meeting will be Mrs. Bruce Clark and Mrs. Justin Woodside. Text word will be "friend". Mrs. Heath Mayhew was in charge of the study book and Mrs. Philip Henderson gave the mission study on Brazil.

Dinner Dessert Delight Orange Coconut Cake

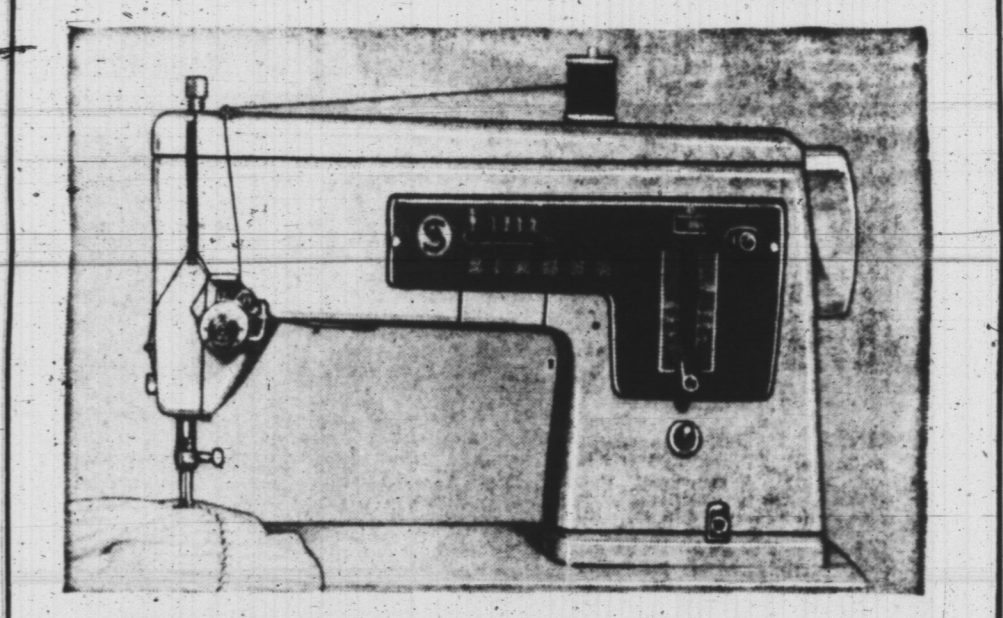

WHETHER you live in or visit New York City during the summer, you will enjoy lunching outdoors or dining and dancing at the famous Tavern on the Green in Central Park. The terrace is decorated with flowers and vines, and shaded with trees. Colored umbrellas shade the tables. The menu is a blend of continental and American offerings. Today we present the most popular cake: ORANGE COCONUT LAYER CAKE, TAVERN-ON-THE-GREEN (For Elms-Saving Tip, see Chef) THE CAKE
6 egg whites
1 tsp. cream of tartar
1 1/2 cups sifted sugar
1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 cup baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
4 egg yolks
1/2 cup water
1 tsp. orange extract
Preheat oven to 345 degrees. Combine egg whites and cream of tartar in large bowl. Beat until soft mounds begin to form. Add 1/2 cup sugar gradually, beating until stiff peaks form. Sift remaining sugar, flour, baking powder and salt into small bowl. Add egg yolks, water and extract. Beat with spoon until well mixed (45 strokes). Fold into egg whites, using 30 fold-over strokes. Pour batter into 3 oiled and floured 8" layer cake pans. Bake in pre-heated 345 degree oven about 20 minutes, or until toothpick inserted in center of cake comes out dry. Cool five minutes. Then turn 3 cake layers into waxed paper, let stand about 1 hour or until cold. The Frosting and Decoration
Ingredients: 1 quart heavy cream; 1/4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar; 2 1/2 packages shredded coconut; 4 California oranges, peeled and sectioned. Whip together cream and confectioners' sugar until stiff peaks form. Trim a little from top and bottom crusts of each cake layer, so all layers will be level. Spread whipped cream over top of first layer; place 10 orange sections atop this filling. Cover with second cake layer and prepare as before with whipped cream and orange sections. Top with third layer and cover top and sides with remaining whipped cream. Lightly press coconut into frosting around sides of cake. Decorate cake-top ring of orange sections. Pastry-tubed swirls of whipped cream between the orange sections add a decorative finish. Serve within 2 hours. Serves 8 to 10. MONDAY DINNER (Featuring Plentiful Scallops)
Hot or Chilled Consomme Madriene (canned) with Lemon Wedges • Broiled Deep Sea Scallops with Watercrest Sauce, Buttered Noodles • Red Kidney Bean and Onion Salad with Mustard Dressing • Bouquet of Fresh Fruit-in-Season - hot or Iced Coffee or Tea, Milk BROILED DEEP SEA SCALLOPS FOR 6
2 lbs. deep sea scallops, frozen
1 1/2 eggs
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
2 cups fine dry bread crumbs
1-3 cup soft butter or margarine
Sauce Tartare
Thaw and wash scallops; drain on absorbent paper; cut in halves. Beat eggs; add seasonings; stir scallops into this. Cover sparingly with crumbs. Rub baking pan thoroughly with butter. Layer scallops (not touching each other) in pan. Dot with butter or margarine. Broil at moderate heat, allowing seven minutes if small, 10 minutes if large. Turn once. Pass Sauce Tartare. TIP FROM THE CHEF
If you crave the orange layer cake, but haven't time to bake it, buy three 8" cake layers. Then frost and decorate as directed.

MARY HAWORTH

TV Performer Finds Problem Mail No Joke

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: You are getting so many letters with serious problems. Perhaps you would appreciate one that may amuse you. My wife, whom I met overseas, hadn't been in this country more than a few months when one of those glib book salesmen came to the door, unrecognized as such by her. This was 17-18 years ago, when TV was still in its infancy. He claimed to be taking a survey on the popularity of radio programs. My wife told him that I loved Fred Allen. She affixed her signature to a sheet of paper he had, believing that thereby she had done her bit to make Allen's position (the "shaky" money secure). The man then wanted a $3 deposit, but she had only $1, with which he was satisfied. When I came home, she told me of the visit and I studied her copy of the supposed vote for Allen. She had signed, irrevocably, an order for a 25-volume encyclopedia. She was quite upset when she realized this. I didn't think there was anything we could do about it, though your recent discussion of TV's similar predicament suggests that there may be. However, we didn't have to honor the contract. We were living in a new housing development, not yet on the postal map. A couple of weeks later I got a letter from the publishers. I seems their parcel delivery service had been unable to find us. Would I be kind enough to send instructions on how to reach Savannah Terrace? I wasn't so kind. This one experience completely cured my wife of her over-trustfulness towards door-to-door salesmen. That $1 was well spent. Very truly yours, J. Y. DEAR J. Y.: Your reference to the preponderantly serious vein of my mail, plus your allusion to Fred Allen's radio TV career, reminds me of a certain contemporary TV performer's unhappy reaction to a glimpse of some of my unanswered mail at a time when I was being readied, so to speak, for a fleeting appearance on one of his shows. Theoretically, my participant role was to give the audience a behind-the-scenes glimpse of my philosophy and routine as a newspaper columnist. However, as the event transpired, it seemed that the performer's hope was to wax humorous at the expense of all persons, possibly on both sides of the fence, who have anything to do with columnist counseling. In any case, in that characteristic last minute scramble, material, which seems to be a standard procedure on TV "talk programs," this particular performer asked permission to glance through a handful of letters (signatures inked out) that I had brought along, per studio request. As he riffled through the letters, his face "felt" perceptibly. "But all this mail is so heavy," he said with dismay, "so troubling and so detailed." I agreed that it was, even though I had done my best to select from the comparatively lighter side of the current intake. Later, when we were on the air, he more or less clung to his assumed necessity to treat the whole subject lightly. While I remarked carefully that a gentleman of his intelligence and sensitivity would recognize, of course, that help-seeking mail is no laughing matter. He not around that obstacle by citing another columnist's evaluation of his potentialities, problem-wise. The verdict? A problem-free type except for "normal" problems. I believe he said. But back to the weight of my mail. I am indeed grateful for your generosity in enlightening the load; just as, I felt enormously thankful, years ago, as new recruits to the ranks of nationally syndicated so-called ad-
