Item Creates Interest

NEWSPAPER READERS who happened to be perusing through Wednesday afternoon's Patriot may have read the following short article "Walter John (Nig) Brenneman, former hockey player with St. Louis of the American League and a number of Senior teams in Ontario, died Saturday in hospital".

Most of the younger generation would pay very little attention to this bit of news but to hockey fans of the Maritime Big Four in the '30s the item would revive old memories.

In 1934 Charlottetown Abbies imported intact a forward line to bolster their Big Four edition for the 1934-35 season and fans were convinced that with the addition of that line the Abbies were sure winners of the Allan Cup.

On this line were Walter John 'Nig' Brenneman at centre, Joffre Desilets on right wing and Ray Getliffe on left wing. They were nicknamed the Stratford Kid Line as that is where they originated from and they had been playing as a line for some time. They were also just out of junior hockey.

From the first time we hit the Island we've been hearing stories of this 'terrific' kid line. Unfortunately this was before our time but we've often wished that we could have been around to see these three youngsters perform.

Island fans at the time were all het up' about their team's chances in Allan Cup playdowns but the CAHA president, whose name was Gilroy, had been threatening to clamp down on the Big Four for bringing in imports after registeration deadline.

ACCORDING TO sports news reports that year Gilroy ruled that no branch to branch transfer would be permitted unless effected before News Years Now that rule worked we don't know but a Guardian reporter at that time wrote that "Abbie officials were confident that the half dozen imports on the team would come within the industrial and education categories and would be allowed to play. Little did they realize that Mr. Gilroy was serious in his threats to clamp down and just at the start of 1935 he enforced the rules, thus making the 'kid line' ineligible, in the Big Four.

Sold Team 'Down River'

TO THIS day some fans of that era vow that Gilroy sold their team down the river by the rule. The two previous seasons Moncton Hawks won the Allan mug and when Abbies lost these players in 1934-35 Halifax Wolverines became the powerhouse on the Maritime circuit, capturing the Cup.

Members of the Abbie team at the start of that season were:: goal-Leo Sargent; defence-Harold Gross who also was coach Renaud, Des Smith, McCabe; Jack Kane, Hickey Nicholson and Pete Kelly on one line, the kid line of Getliffe, Brenneman and Desilets and utility man Frank Currie.

After the Stratford line left here Desilets had a try with the Canadiens and Getliffe played with Canadiens and Boston and Brenneman went down to the American League

Johnny 'Snag' Squarebriggs, who played with the Abbies later that season, mentioned the other day four of this original team are now dead:—Harold Gross, Jack Kane, Hickey Nicholson and now Brenneman and all of them comperatively young men when they died.

Just before Getliffe arrived down here in November of 1934 he had been at the New York Rangers training camp and had been offered a pro contract but turned it down for another year of amateur competition. That same fall Pete Kelly and Desilets had been trying for a berth with Montreal Canadiens.

We'll write some more on the Abbies of 1934-35 in another column, that is, the team that remained after the imports departed.

Combines Show Reversal; Shut Out RCAF Eagles 4-0

The Prince County Combines, showing a complete reversal of form from their last three outings, scored their first shut-out of the season at Civic Stadium last night, beating the RCAF Eagles by the score of 4-0. Ev White, one of the best corner hustlers in the league, scored two goals, Vance Harris and Greg Deighan getting the others.

The home team, playing with a new determination, struck for two goals early in the first period. White notched his first after four minutes of play, finishing off a combination bout with Alger Cutcliffe and Charlie Sark.

A little over a minute later, Vance Harris, waltzed in close took a forward pass from Greg Deighan, drew Walsh out of position, and poked the puck in the net. Then the teams played even hockey for the rest of the period, both Mann and Walsh making key saves to keep the score sheet clean.

Walsh drew a penalty for slashing MacArthur and Ron went to the sin bin himself shortly after for holding, and Ken MacDonald got a hooking penalty near the end of the period.

The second period produced neither goals nor penalties. The checking was particularly close, and the type of play resembled ping pong at intervals, but both teams were hustling all the way.

The Combines scored two goals in the final frame, one fifty seconds after the period began, and the other 44 seconds before it ended. Ev White chalked up one of them on a pass from John Noonan, and Greg Deighan slapped Garth Harris's rebound past Walsh in the final minute of play.

Ulric Gallant and Bob McCallum, who were carrying on a feud, took turns going to the sin bin. Ulric chased for high sticking near the half way mark, and McCallum for tripping at 13.35.

Before the intermediate game the Summerside Midgets defeated the RCAF Midgets by a 7-2 score. Alan Gaudet scored four of the winners' goals, Muttart getting two and Richard Allen one. Young Amos Whitmore fired both RCAF counters.

SUMMARY

First period: 1. Combines, E. White (A. Cutcliffe, C. Sark) 4.01; 2. Combines, V. Harris (G. Deighan) 5.24. Penalties — I. Walsh, R. MacArthur, K. MacDonald.

Jack Nicklaus Batters Par For 5-Stroke Lead Friday

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus battered par Friday in firing a five-under-par 67 for a 54 - hole score of 202 and a commanding lead of five strokes in the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic .

The 23-year-old Nicklaus got in his best shots before a high wind blew up in mid-afternoon, then managed to coast home on his last nine holes in even par. Nicklaus played the Bermuda Dunes Country Club course, which has par of 36-36—72.

His nearest rival, with two rounds to go in this 90-hole golfing marathon, was young Johnny Pott, who had a 70 for 207.

The defending tournament champion, Arnold Palmer, after making a challenge to get back into the picture with two strokes under par for his first nine, took a 38 on his final nine for a 71 and a total of 214.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver was among six golfers grouped at 213. Leonard shot a 70, the same score he had Thursday.

NHL Opens Investigation Into Remarks By Toe Blake

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The National Hockey League has opened an investigation into remarks Montreal Canadiens coach Toe Blake is reported to have made about referee Eddie Powers following the Canadiens' 6-3 loss to Toronto Maple Leafs Thursday night.

Blake was quoted as saying among other things that Powers handled the game "as though he had bet on the outcome" and that Powers was "working against the Canadiens."

Blake later denied making the remark about the bet.

He said he was "awfully peeved" about losing the game and said he "let off a lot of steam."

But he said he also told reporters that "what's the use of blaming the referee—our team just quit and that's why we lost."

LOST HIS TEMPER

He also said he was furious with himself for losing his temper and arguing with Powers after Toronto scored a goal in the second period—an argument that led Powers to assess Montreal a bench penalty.

"That was bad and after it happened some of the players looked as though they were using what I did as an excuse," he said.

NHL President Clarence Campbell said Friday an investigation has been started but declined to comment further until it is completed.

Blake was quoted in the French - language newspaper Montreal Matin as saying that "instead of discussing the case of Don Gallinger, the league would be better off to investigate its officials because after the way they handled themselves tonight (Thursday night) they gave the impression that they had bet on the outcome of the game."

ANGERED BY PENALTY

The Montreal Star said Blake unleashed a tirade in the dressing room after the game.

"Don't tell me he's not working against us," Blake was quoted in The Star. "He lets everything go and then he calls a chippy penalty against us."

Powers called a total of nine penalties against Montreal, including two misconducts, a game misconduct and a penalty shot. He hit Toronto for four penalties—three minors and a misconduct.

Frank Selke Jr., director of public relations for the Canadiens, also was quoted as blasting refereeing.

"I don't know how much referees get for each game, but if he (Powers) got more than $10 he was overpaid," He was quoted as saying in the French language La Presse.
