Rupert were co-chairman and choir president Paul Hansen asked the blessing. Following the dinner, the joint chairmen directed an exciting and enjoyable program of music, games and skits. Ralph Rupert and Neils Hansen brought a great deal of merriment to the group in their original skit on "Professor and Mrs. Always A. Zornote," who attended the banquet as "prospective" choir members and gave examples of the "tests" required to join the choir in their home in Flatsburg, Bavaria. Later, Neils Hansen as Mrs. "Arpeggio B. Plat" gave a discerning preview of the next program of the "Federation for the Propagation of Music and Art."

Bruce Lewis and Barry Bugden led in group singing of hymns and old songs, featuring solos, duets and quartettes. The accompanists last night were Mrs. G.E. Full and Mrs. Douglas Cameron.

Curlers' Tour Described At Rotary Club Luncheon

The sixty Maritime curlers who made the tour overseas by air made no brilliant attempt to establish records but they undoubtedly succeeded in creating and developing an atmosphere of good fellowship." Dr. F.S. Giddings told Rotarians at their weekly luncheon meeting at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

Dr. Giddings in his interesting talk on the tour, stressed the hospitality experienced in England in Scotland and noted the purely businesslike attitude of the people in Paris. Touching on the various places visited, Dr. Giddings remarked on the rink in Glasgow where 5,000 children were in waiting to skate when the curlers finished their tour of use of the fourteen rinks space, probably the largest rink in the world.

Mr. Roy Thomson, of the Thomson Newspapers, attended the matches in which the Maritimers were engaged and later gave a dinner in honour of the island visitors. In London two games were played in a rink 35 miles from the city which was followed by a dinner with many notables in attendance. In Paris they witnessed vaudeville which had been featured at the Charlottetown two years before and in Switzerland they witnessed toboggan slide runs with contestants reaching a speed of over one hundred miles per hour. The international contest witnessed was won by a Canadian Army man now on duty in Germany.

On return to London the party visited many places which hold a wealth of tradition, including the House of Commons where they listened to a debate for two hours. Dr. Giddings was made an honorary member of the Rotary House of Friendship while in London. In Scotland the trip across country was made by train in daylight and cattle were grazing everywhere. It was noted that the grain was up six inches and the countryside presented a wonderful appearance.

The speaker was introduced by the chairman, Randy Manning and thanked by co-chairman Reg Jenkins. Bob Pitt made a report on the visit of the Charlottetown Rotary Club curlers to Summerside, stressing the spirit of fellowship which dominates these friendly competitions. President Geo. Fisher extended congratulations to the honoured
