First Encyclical Is Completed

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican sources said Thursday they understand Pope Paul has finished writing his first encyclical setting down the program of his year-old pontificate.

The informants said the encyclical, a letter to the bishops of the Roman Catholic Church, is to be made public next month.

There was no word whether it would mention the birth control question. Pope Paul said on June 28 the church was reviewing the question of birth control.

Some Vatican sources expressed belief the birth control questions would be covered in a papal document separate from the encyclical.

Pope Paul's first encyclical has been long expected. Pope John XXIII published his program encyclical when his reign was eight months old.

Information Bill Is Challenged

OTTAWA (CP) — The Senate banking committee served notice Thursday it will drastically alter proposed legislation that would enable the state secretary to demand any kind of information from federally - incorporated companies.

Senator Salter Hayden, committee chairman, said there have been "all kinds of objections" from lawyers and accountants to the proposal, appearing with lengthy amendments to the Companies Act.

Some senators said earlier the clause smacks of police state powers. It says that if any company fails to provide whatever information is demanded by the state secretary, every director of the company can be taken to court and fined.

Senator Hayden (L—Ontario) said the origin of the clause was a similar provision in the Ontario Companies Information Act — a provision that many people didn't know existed until the matter was raised in the Senate.

Final Chapter In Disaster

QUEBEC (CP) — The final chapter in one of the St. Lawrence's worst marine disasters will be written this summer.

The final blast in a series which will eventually destroy the wreck of the ore carrier Tritonica will be let off Thursday.

It was July 20, 1963, that the 14,800-ton ship went to the bottom with 34 hands aboard. It sank in 64 feet of water off Petite Riviere St. Francois, 45 miles downstream from Quebec City.

The sinking occurred about 1:53 a.m. after the Tritonica had collided with the Irish freighter Roonagh Head. The British ore carrier sank with a full load of titanium aboard a few minutes after the smash in fog.

Only the smokestack and the mast of the ship remain above water. The Roonagh Head, with a hole in its bow, limped back to Quebec for repairs.

Two companies, Foundation Company of Canada Limited and Marine Industries of Sorel, received a contract to remove the wreck "by any means."

After the first explosion, blasting will continue throughout the summer.

NEW STATION SET UP

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Russia has set up a new radio station beamed toward Latin America, the government newspaper Izvestia reported Thursday. Aim of the station will be to give Latin Americans news of the "social, economic and cultural life of the Russian people and also the Soviet society's view of the most important events of internal and international politics."

Pass	2♦	Pass	2♥
Pass	3♣	Pass	3♦
Pass	3NT	Pass	4♣
Pass	4♦	Pass	4NT
Pass	5♣

Opening lead — three of spades.

This was Board 60, the last hand of the match between Italy and the United States to determine the 1964 world championship. It was also the 11,268th hand to be played in the Second World Bridge Olympiad, a giant event staged in New York in May with 30 nations entered.

The result of the match was a foregone conclusion when the last hand got under way. Italy was ahead 146 international match points to 112 at this point, but the players did not know the score and were still fighting hard on the last hand.

The United States lost 12 IMPs on the deal, though somewhat unluckily. Their North-South pair, Mitchell and Stayman, had reached six clubs at the first table on the following bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1♠	Pass	1♥
Pass	2♣	Pass	4♣
Pass	5♣	Pass	6♣

The contract was certainly a reasonable one. Looking at only the North-South cards, it is clear that a slam would be made far more often than not. However, in the actual case, the East-West cards being divided the way they were, the slam could not be made. Mitchell lost two trump tricks and went down one.

Forquet and Garozzo, the Italian North-South pair, stopped somewhat reluctantly at five clubs after six rounds of bidding. They made exactly five, adding one more triumph to a series of good decisions they had made in the final session.

Had the East-West cards been divided more favorably for declarer, twelve tricks would have been made and the U.S. would have gained 13 IMs instead of losing 12. The final score would have been 146 to 125 instead of 158 to 112.

The U.S. will now have to wait till next year to try again to dispossess Italy, the perennial champions.

Address Of Banks Still Being Sought

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said Thursday he is not aware of the whereabouts of former SIU president Hal C. Banks. An opposition MP provided him with a Maine address where he said Mr. Banks was Wednesday.

The exchange between Mr Pearson and Eldon Woolliams (PC—Bow River) occurred in the Commons in renewed questioning about efforts to arrest Banks on a warrant to serve a one-month jail sentence for contempt.

Mr. Pearson told Mr. Woolliams he did not know where Mr. Banks was, but inquiries were under way and a statement would be made Friday.

Mr. Woolliams said it is surprising the prime minister and Montreal, and reporter Ed Murphy that Banks could be found at Higgins Beach, Scarborough, Me.

SAYS NO CONNECTION

Donald S. Macdonald, parliamentary secretary for justice, said there is no connection between Banks' contempt conviction and the fact that Banks is free on bail pending appeal on a conspiracy charge.

As Mr. Woolliams pressed for action, Mr. Macdonald repeated that a statement will be made Friday.
