C.N.R. SERVICE

Sir—Amid all the criticism and fault finding regarding the arrangements of the Royal Visit, it must indeed be gratifying to the Railway management and employees, that nothing but the highest praise is heard for the accommodation furnished on that memorable day.

The Railways did a big job, and they did it well. In common with the rest of the country, the handling of the extremely heavy passenger traffic connected with it was so faultless as to receive the public commendation of His Majesty.

On the Island Division, an all time record was made, including return excursionists and regular services, almost eight thousand passengers were handled, and without one accident, not even one child left behind or overboard.

That record is probably the best answer to certain people who make a practice of using the press at every opportunity to criticize the Railway management and service.

I am, Sir, etc.,

FAIR PLAY.

ISLAND POET

MR. JAMES MATTHEW MACLEAN

found there 21 male prisoners.

We think there is a lot of room for improvement in the ventilation of this building, and we also recommend that new mattresses be supplied. The gutters of this building should be repaired as the water is getting into the basement.

Our visit to the Infirmary was a very pleasant one. We found everything in first class condition, 150 patients, male and female, are being cared for in a manner reflecting great credit on the management.

We have examined this Court House and found it to be in excellent condition, but we find that the ladder leading to the clock room is defective and the beam carrying the heavy weights of the clock also looks defective.

In conclusion we would respectfully request your Lordship to urge upon all motorists the necessity of the utmost care in the operation of their trucks and thus help to reduce the number of serious accidents occurring from time to time.

(Signed) Henry J. Phillips, foreman, for self and fellows.

Before discharging the Grand Jury, Chief Justice Matheson warmly commended their diligence and competence in discharging their duties.

BALDWIN EXTOLS SHEPHERDS WISE

LONDON, June 20—(CP)—"The wisdom of the ploughman and the shepherd is the oldest wisdom in the world," according to Lord Baldwin.

The former Prime Minister extolled the merits of English rural life in a speech here to the Shropshire Society. He praised the "prideless continuity" in English country life. "That continuity," he said, "has survived invaders in this country. It has lasted through the centuries. It has seen us through the Tudor age and the Civil War. It is going to see us through the age of change we are living in now."

THE KING PAYS WARM TRIBUTE TO BOY SCOUTS

OTTAWA, June 21—Hearty commendation on the fine appearance of the many Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs who played a part in the Royal tour arrangements has been received here from King George.

In a message to the convention, Lord Tweedsmuir, Chief Scout for Canada, for the Boy Scouts' Association, the King wrote:

One of the pleasantest features of my tour through Canada has been the sight of the strong contingents of Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs in all parts of the Dominion. I have been greatly struck not only by their numbers, but by their clean and smart appearance and fine physique. These boys are indeed a credit to Canada and to the Boy Scouts' movement, the cause of which both you and I know so well.

As Chief Scout for Canada will you please convey to all members of the association my warm thanks for the good work they have done in connection with my visit and my congratulations on the way in which they are maintaining the scout tradition in this great country. I wish them all the best of luck. I am,

Yours very sincerely,
GEORGE R. V.

May Search For Lost Flier In New Brunswick

(By The Zita Press)

WASHINGTON, June 21—Senator Rush D. Holt (Dem.-West Virginia) said today that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police might launch a search for Thomas E. Smith, 25, whose "Baby Clipper" disappeared after he left Old Orchard, Me., on a projected flight to Europe last month.

Holt said Smith's mother, Mrs. Harvey F. Smith, of Clarkburg, Va., had received a letter, dated June 13 and written in French, from Emile P. Guerec, a resident of Gloucester County, N. B. The flier's mother forwarded it to Holt.

It said that the day Smith was scheduled to fly over Gloucester County "we did not see the plane, but we heard the noise over the forest on the west side."

"Very intently we tried to see it pass over our parish," the notification continued. "We were very much surprised to hear an explosion at once. We listened but heard no more, nor did we see the plane. That makes us believe that the plane exploded in the air."

Holt reported to the State Department and said the latter had communicated with the Canadian Legation here. He said there was a possibility that Canada might send its "Mounties" to investigate.

Mrs. Smith, the Senator added, had never believed that her son was killed. In the past, he said, Smith had successfully "called" several times.

Will Investigate

BATHURST, N. B. June 21—A Royal Canadian Mounted Police here said tonight they know nothing of a report that Thomas E. Smith's "Baby Clipper" might have come to grief in New Brunswick.

No search has been planned but police said they would investigate the story of Emile P. Guerec, whose residence near Bathurst is five miles from the nearest telephone.

A plane believed to have been Smith's was heard over Saint John after it left Old Orchard, flying under a low, dark, and in poor conditions. "We were told it was known to be up there. It was thought unlikely the "Baby Clipper" would fly north to Gloucester County if it had passed over Saint John.
