CONCLUDED.

Mrs. Hay Denver's life had been a very broken one, and her record upon land represented a greater amount of endurance and self-sacrifice than his upon the sea.

This son it was who kept them in the neighborhood of London, for the admiral was fond of ships and of salt water as ever and was as happy in the sheets of a 3-ton yacht as on the bridge of his 16-ton monitor.

There, under the guidance of his father's friend, he was instructed in the mysteries of billing and of bearing, in the strange usages of 'change, in the intricacies of carrying over and of transferring.

He looked happy, the young rascal," answered the admiral, pointing with his cigar. It was after dinner, and through the open French window of the dining room a clear view was to be had of the tennis court and the players.

Dr. Walker and Mrs. Westmacott were passing up and down the lawn. "Yes, he looks nappy, mother," he repeated with a chuckle. "It was not so long ago since it was you and I who were standing like that, and I don't remember that we were very unhappy either."

"Ah, the old Antelope! What a clipper she was! She could sail two points nearer the wind than anything of her tonnage in the service. You remember her, mother. You say her name into Plymouth bay. Wasn't she a beauty?"

"She was indeed, dear. But when I say that I think that Harold is not happy I mean in his daily life. Has it never struck you how thoughtful he is at times and how absent-minded?"

"In love perhaps, the young dog. He seems to have found snug moorings now at any rate."

"I think that it is very likely that you are right, Willy," answered the mother seriously.

"But with which of them?"

RIGBY POROUS WATERPROOF GARMENTS. Everybody wears them, ALWAYS ASK FOR 'RIGBY.'

Mrs. D. Wet—There, Reginald, are those Rigby Waterproofs I have been telling you about. Can't you see how stylish and comfortable they look—and they are just lovely for winter weather.

Mrs. Updell—Dear me, what a day like this without Rigby Garments. It takes some people a lifetime to learn how to be comfortable. Just think how we used to suffer in those horrid Rubber Waterproofs, and such smelling things.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil.

Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope to do it for the benefit of mothers who will consider the interest of the child first, and use Castoria instead of the dangerous cathartics which are so often prescribed for their infants.

ing girls, as he hangs in the wind between the two it cannot be serious. After all, the boy is four and twenty, and he made 2500 last year. It is better able to marry than I was when I was benighted."

"I think the two can see which it is not remarked the observant mother, Charles Westmacott had ceased to knock the tennis balls about and was chatting with Clara Walker, while Ida and Harold Denver were still talking by the railing with little outbreaks of laughter. Presently a fresh set was formed, and Dr. Walker, the old man out, came through the wicket gate and strolled up the garden walk.

"Good evening, Mrs. Hay Denver," said he, raising his broad straw hat. "May I come in?" "Good evening, doctor. Pray do."

"Try one of these," said the admiral, holding out his cigar case. "They are not bad. I got them from the Mosquito coast. It is a thing of signaling to you, but you seemed so very happy out there."

"Mrs. Westmacott is a very clever woman," said the doctor, lighting the cigar. "By the way, you spoke about the Mosquito coast just the other day, and you seemed so much of the fly when you were out there."

"No such name on the list," answered the seaman with decision. "There's the Hydra, a harbor defense turret ship, but she never leaves the harbor waters."

Don't STAY A COOL. If you do you will live ten times as long as a fever to starve. A cold is a shock received by the myriad nerves that bristle near the surface of a human body.

How a Queens County Man Found Permanent Healing. His Own Experience Tells Fully and Freely some Truths which all Readers of this Paper Should Know.

Here and there, in almost every town of our province, are "chronic" cases over which doctors disagree; cases that become worse year after year. It is to reach such that the gentleman to whom these lines refer, and whose portrait is here given, has written the story of his case.

Mr. Branscomb's home is a Chipman, Queens Co., N. B. It was there that a representative of the Groder company called upon him, Sept 1st, of the present year. His greeting, was most cordial. He gladly acknowledged his thanks, giving expression to the following statement:

"It is five years since I first became afflicted with a form of indigestion. Last winter it became more severe, developing into chronic diarrhoea. I cannot tell you how much I suffered for SIX LONG WEEKS. It seemed as though relief could not be found. You will remember how I told you of my condition, and asked your advice about taking a bottle of GRODER'S SYRUP. You told me that the medicine was a laxative and might not meet my needs. I delayed buying for a few hours until I began to hope that it would help me. Even my clothes seemed a burden because of bloating of stomach. It was with difficulty that I kept about sufficiently to attend to my business.

But I am a well man now from the use of your remedy. In three days after I bought GRODER'S SYRUP the terrible pain and distress across my stomach were removed. My bowels rapidly assumed a natural, healthy condition. Now I eat and drink as well as I ever could. I have gained constantly in weight since March last. I am perfectly cured.

It seems a duty for me to state my case fully, that others who suffer as I did may know where to find a cure."

Truly yours, E. A. BRANSCOMB.
