

Idea Of Summit Conference Spurned If Deadline Is Set

By JOHN SCALI
 WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is reported to have determined to spurn the idea of a summit conference if Russia fixes a new deadline for turning East Berlin over to the East German Reds.
 He also is pictured as ready to refuse to meet with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev if the Kremlin threatens in advance any kind of one-sided action in East Germany.
 State Secretary Christian Herter has made this attitude clear to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko during private talks outside the Big Four foreign ministers conference room at Geneva.
 Top officials said Wednesday Herter had Eisenhower's full endorsement.
HINT OF NEW DEADLINE
 Eisenhower's backing of Herter's notice to Gromyko was made known because Gromyko's comments were interpreted as threatening a possible new deadline for handing over to the German Reds control of access routes to the divided city of Berlin.

 The May 27 deadline originally set by Khrushchev expires in one week with no sign the Soviets intend to carry out their threats to end four-power control on that date.
 Authorities familiar with Eisenhower's attitude stressed the president is sticking to his condition that there must be genuine progress at the foreign ministers level to make a summit conference worthwhile.
 Most administration authorities expect the Soviets belatedly to offer enough concessions to make a summit meeting likely in late summer.
