World Wheat Trade Pattern Shift Seen

REGINA (CP)—Trade Minister Sharp said today Canada's long-term wheat contracts with Communist countries indicate a fundamental shift in the pattern of world wheat trade, with Red China showing every sign of becoming a permanent, substantial importer and Russia likely to be a significant buyer periodically.

Mr. Sharp, addressing the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, forecast a rosy immediate future for Prairie farmers who this fall are harvesting an all-time record wheat crop of 703,000,000 bushels.

"If traditional markets take their regular supplies — and I see no reason to think otherwise for the next couple of years at least — we can look forward to a very substantial movement of wheat up to at least July 31, 1966, although probably not the extraordinary level which is being established during the present crop year."

Dealing with the rapid succession of big wheat sale agreements this year with Communist countries, Mr. Sharp said:

"The significance of these long-term contracts with China, the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia and Poland is that they seem to indicate a fundamental shift in the pattern of world wheat trade.

"Mainland China shows every sign of becoming a permanent importer of wheat and on a substantial scale. . . . The same may be said of the socialist countries of Eastern Europe which as a group were once self - sufficient in wheat and which more recently were large importers of wheat from the Soviet Union.

REASSESS DEPENDENCE

"I do not think these countries would have been interested in agreements with Canada extending ahead for three to five years had there not been a pretty fundamental reassessment by them of their dependence upon supplies from the Western World."

As for Russia:

". . . One is justified in suggesting that, without some pretty radical changes in agricultural practice, the Soviet Union is not going to be a serious competitor in world wheat markets for some time to come and could from time to time be a significant importer.

"Furthermore, I should think that an effort is going to have to be made in the Soviet Union to build up stocks so as to avoid the recurrence of another serious shortage of bread grains. For that reason alone, demands may continue beyond the end of the current crop year (next July 31)."

GET GOOD NEWS

MONTREAL (CP)—The Protestant school board of Greater Montreal reported Tuesday it completed its 1962-63 year of operation with a deficit of $45,796, some $130,000 less than its budget prediction. Revenues were less than predicted, but this was made up for by expenditures which were appreciably lower than the predicted $29,323,960.

Permanent List Of Voters Seen Of Little Value

OTTAWA (CP)—Chief Electoral Officer Nelson Castonguay said Thursday adoption of a permanent voters list won't provide a more accurate list of electors on polling day than now is available.

He told the Commons committee on privileges and elections that he regards this question as an important factor in the committee's study of electoral laws.

He estimated that to launch such a list would cost a minimum of $10,000,000. Keeping it up to date would require an increase in electoral office staff to 700 persons from the present permanent staff of 18. This would cost at least $2,500,000.

Revisions of the permanent list twice annually would cost another $8,000,000.

The committee is continuing a post-election review of electoral laws.
