This Is The Spring Of The Trout Bonanza

The spring of 1965 will go down on the records as the year of the trout bonanza. Whatever caused the change will probably never be definitely established. In the old days the 'strawberry run' at Gurney's could be clocked within a two day period... May 30th to the night of June 1st and 2nd: One day the stream would be practically devoid of trout and the next one couldn't be the bottom of some favourite pool for the milling swarm of silvery beauties.
