MR. AND MRS. HERBERT S. SIMPSON

Young Couple Pledge Vows At Ceremony Held In York

York United Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding recently when Marilyn Georgina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, York, became the bride of Herbert Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Simpson of Bayview.

Rev. G.D. Elliott performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Arthur Vessey was organist and accompanied Miss Beryl Vessey as she sang "The Wedding Prayer" prior to the ceremony and "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden", during the signing of the register. The church was attractively decorated for the occasion with baskets of mixed flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father looked lovely in her floor length gown of nylon net over satin with tiers of lace covering the full skirt. The lace bodice had a bateau neckline trimmed with pearls and sequins. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a pearl crown and she carried a white Bible, a gift from her parents, with a cascade of sweetheart roses.

Miss Helen Lewis, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and wore a street length dress of nylon multicolor lace over taffeta with pink accessories and she was carrying a bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Marjorie Lewis, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. Her gown was in a similar style to the maid of honor's and her accessories were in gold. She carried a bouquet of gold carnations.

Mr. Beverley Simpson, brother of the groom was the best man and the ushers were Frank Lewis, brother of the bride and Nelson Vessey, cousin of the bride. The guest pews were marked with small pink mums.

Mrs. Lewis chose for her daughter's wedding a navy sheath dress with ribbon rosettes of the same color, with fuchsia accessories and a matching corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a red wool sheath dress with overskirt complimented by white accessories and a matching corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for 60 guests was held at the Towers Restauront. Bouquets of soft coral snapdragon with white tapers in silver candleabra adorned the wedding table which was centered with a three tier wedding cake.

Miss Florence Vessey, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vessey, uncle and aunt of the bride, were host and hostess for the occasion welcoming the guests and showing them to their seats. Rev. G.D. Elliot pronounced the blessing and proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom. A telegram receved from Norma and Sterling, sister and brother-in-law of the bride in Colorado, U.S.A. was read by Richard Vessey. Other guests who offered congratulations to the young couple were Mrs. Hazen Howard, aunt of the bride; Dr. Simpson, uncle of the groom Mr. Richard Vessey, uncle of the bride; and the bride's father, Mrs. Harry Lewis.

Following the reception the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to points of interest in the Maritimes. For travelling the bride chose a suit of dark green wool with winter white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

On returning Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will reside in Bayview.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored by her Sunday School class who presented her with a gift and she was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by neighbors and friends. Following their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were guests of honor when neighbors and friends gathered at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson to honor them with a miscellaneous shower.

MARY HAWORTH

37-Year-Old Bachelor's Actions Are Immature

Dear Mary Haworth: I need good advice, not so much to open my eyes as to strengthen my will and help me let go.

Two years ago, at 21, I fell in love with Sam, now 37. We had seven bright, happy months, followed by ups-and-downs. It was I, mostly, who reasoned things through and kept us together.

Always, when things went wrong, he would stay away a few days, but I knew he had some hidden feeling and wasn't as cold and bitter as he pretended. I don't think he had ever had the love and understanding that I gave him. In the past, he would drop a girl after a few months. With me, it was a steady two years, and not because he was making-out; he wasn't.

He proposed marriage after a few months. Then we had an argument and he was so hard-headed I told him not to call me again. So he didn't, for three months. When he came back, he found it hard to explain himself, but I understood and tried to make it easier for him. We got along fine after that.

One Saturday he called, feeling pretty high, and had quite a lot to say, to which I listened with great interest. It seemed that maybe he was just beginning to open his nature to me, sealed off at first. Towards the end of the talk we had agreed (though not directly) to call it quits.

Next day he called again, as if everything was just fine. I let it be that way. But now we are broken off. He hasn't called in two weeks. I still love him very much, as I am sure he loves me too, but why did he react this way? Is it because he has been alone for so long? Or has he just got cold feet?

Do I deceive myself in thinking he was finally coming out of his shell? Should I wait awhile? Or should I let go? This bit of doubt holds me in suspense. P.Y.

Dear P.Y.: As I get the picture, you are a wonderful girl with an unspoiled capacity to love and in relation to Sam you have been throwing yourself away. The word for Sam is unstable, as he plays hide-and-seek with your affections.

It is possible he has moments of responding to your true devotion with a flickering, honest urge to put aside his defenses and try to meet your efforts to reach him. But, if so, these are as specks of gold in a carload of gravel, I think.

In effect, his performance (as described) proclaims that his nature is flinty, with fixated hostility towards womankind, a bias that he has been acting out since childhood, probably. This would account for his long history of "dropping" girl friends. He is so deeply grooved in this negative habit by now that even your invincible sympathy can't get through to him to evoke a lasting change of heart.

As to why he talked more freely than usual that Saturday night just before breaking off, I suppose it was because he knew in his own mind (or felt he knew) that this was goodbye. Feeling safe in that assumption, he could let down his guard a bit.

Also, he is very likely currently involved in an ego-struggle with some other girl. While contesting her desire to get close to him (or to gain control, as he figures it) he probably automatically feels more relaxed towards you.

I am glad for your sake that you realize the need to strengthen your will, to close the book on Sam. Go ahead and do it. If he returns again, don't try to understand or help him explain. Send him away with finality. You are able to love, as he is not. Thus your lives could never really merge. It is a blessing in disguise thae the dream of marriage fizzled out. M.H.

Montague Legion Auxiliary Has Annual Meeting

Following a delicious pot luck supper, the annual meeting of the ladies auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Montague branch, was held at the Legion Home on December 12th., with twenty-five members and five visitors present.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. William Dewar, and opened with the Act of Remembrance. The members responded to roll call with a food contribution towards Christmas boxes for needy families. The minutes of the last annual meeting and the last regular meeting were read by Mrs. Calvin Hilchey.

The financial report for the year was presented by Mrs. Mack MacKenzie. The report showed that more than seven hundred dollars had been raised during the year and a large amount of this sum was used for renovating the Auxiliary Clubroom, purchasing banquet tables and other furniture, and contributing to all worthy appeals.

Mrs. George Preece reported on the success of the party held at Riverside Hospital for the patients at which the local auxiliary assisted, Mrs. Preece also reported for the visiting committee.

The report of the nominating committee was read by Mrs. Thomas Clair and the following officers and committees were elected: past president, Mrs. William Dewar; president, Mrs. Stewart Dewar; first vice president, Mrs. Calvin Hilchey; second vice president, Mrs. Athol Robertson; secretary, Mrs. Sandy MacDonald; treasurer, Mrs. Francis Fraser; directors, Mrs. B.C. Johnston, Mrs. Charles Burke; auditors, Mrs. Thomas Clair, Mrs. Bryon Stewart; trustees, Mrs. Leonard Gillis, Mrs. Emery MacNeill; ways and means committee, Mrs. Atwood MacDonald, Mrs. Jessie Shaw, Mrs. Buddy Fraser; membership committee, Mrs. George McKeeman, Mrs. John Gaudet, Mrs. Mack MacKenzie; visiting committee, Mrs. John Gaudet, Mrs. George McKeeman;

In her address, the retiring president reviewed the highlights of the past year, and expressed her appreciation for the co-operation of the members during her term of office. As a token of appreciation for her leadership, Mrs. Dewar was presented with a past president's jewel by Mrs. Stewart Dewar, on behalf of the members.

New business included plans for packing Christmas boxes and a committee, comprising Mrs. McKeeman, Mrs. F. Fraser and Mrs. Preece, was appointed to assist the officers in this project. The sum of ten dollars was voted towards the Retarded Children's Association. Mrs. Buddy Fraser, Mrs. Basil MacKinnon and Mrs. Sandy MacDonald volunteered to assist at the social evening on December 28th.

The members and guests enjoyed a social hour at the close of the meeting.

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

Tignish U.C.W. Units Have Joint Christmas Meeting

TIGNISH — How a Christian prepares for Christmas, and the gifts we give were part of a worship service presented by the Alberton United Church Women at the December meeting of the Tignish group held recently at the home of Mrs. Wiliam MacLeod.

In conducting the worship Mrs. A.C. Green, program convener, was assisted by Mrs. Fred Leard, as she led in prayer and Mrs. Carl Weeks as she read the story "Th3 Three Chests." The scripture reading was given by Mrs. Roy MacLeod, and Mrs. Reg Aldershaw. All joined in the singing of Christmas carols.

The business portion of the meeting was conducted by the Tignish president, Mrs. Reg Eldershaw; the secretary Mrs. Roy MacLeod read the minutes of the previous meeting and a letter from the parsonage committee.

Mrs. Gunnar Pedersen reported for the sick committee.

Following the service and business meeting, a delicious lunch was served by the Tignish United Church Womens group.

BORDEN UCW

Members of the Borden U.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth MacInnis recently with the vice-president, Mrs. Preston Darrach in the chair.

Because of road conditions the women were unable to accept Mrs. R.M. Cameron's invitation to hold their meeting at the Manse in Bedeque.

Meeting opened with a brief worship period followed by the study period led by Mrs. Kenneth MacInnis, assisted by Mrs. Robert Dalziel and Mrs. Darrach. The study was based upon chapter two of "The Word and the Way". The business period followed and showed a very successful year. Reports were given by the secretary and treasurer and showed a substantial balance on hand after all obligations had been met.

Plans were made for Christmas activities including remembrances for shut-ins and senior citizens in the community.

The following officers were elected for 1963: president, Mrs. Preston Darrach; vice-president Mrs. Hirley Conrad; secretary, Mrs. Willard Pickering; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Jay; Program and literature, Mrs. Kenneth MacInnis; chairman of Manse committee, Mrs. Roland Ramsay; community friendship, Mrs. Preston Darrach; co-operation in Christian Education, Mrs. Robert Dalziel.

VICTORIA UCW

The United Church Women of Victoria held their annual meeting in the WI room on Tuesday, Dec. 11, with the president, Mrs. Max Thompson, presiding. The meeting opened wit.. the singing of "As with Gladness, Men of Old." A total of 14 members answered roll call and there were two visitors present. Mrs. Robert Butterfield presented "The Word and The Way" in a revealing manner during which several members aided the discussion by reading aloud the suggested passages of scripture.

At the January meeting which is to meet at the home of Mrs. Keith Boswell, the study book will be interpreted by Mrs. Richard MacQuarrie. The outline of activities during the first year of the organization was heard and commended by the group as well as were the other reports given by the conveners of the various committees.

Mrs. Younker, who was also in charge of the Birthday Box, reported for the Friendship committee and Mrs. L.D. MacLeod informed the meeting that she had, as directed, procured the required Hymn books and placed them in the Church. Specific donations for the Christmas Boxes and be given to our senior citizens were pledged by each member. Before the election of officers Mrs. Thompson, in a few brief remarks, thanked the members for their attendance at the meetings and their co-operation during the year. She also expressed the hope that they would go forward to do even greater things in the year ahead.

Mrs. Allison Lea was appointed temporary president during the election of officers which were nominated by the committee comprised of Mrs. Emerson MacDonald, Mrs. Robert Butterfield and, as convener, Mrs. Richard MacQuarrie.

These are: president, Mrs. Max Thompson (re- elected) vice- president, Mrs. Keith Boswell (re- elected); recording secretary, Mrs. Sandy Morrison (re- elected); treasurer, Mrs. L.D. MacLeod (re-elected); assistant to Mrs. Mac Leod, Mrs. Norman Boulter; community friendship, Mrs. Minnie Younker (re- elected); flowers, Mrs. D.G. MacLeod (re- elected); manse, Mrs. George Cannon (re - elected); membership, Miss Arlene Stordy; nominations and program, Mrs. Jean Howatt; supply, Mrs. Harry Crushy; recruiting, Mrs. Ivan Craig; press, Mrs. H.B. Wood; citizenship, Mrs. Stet Stordy; literature, Mrs. Robert Butterfield; periodicals, Mrs. Allison Lea; social, Mrs. Keith Boswell.

The members expressed their approval of these officers and Mrs. Lea terned over, with pleasure, the office as president to Mrs. Thompson.

Mrs. Jean Howatt expressed her personal appreciation for all the assistance given her by the Victoria UCW. "You have no idea," she said, "how our group has helped me in my duties as provincial president, for only by understanding and helping solve any problems which arise in our group can I hope to fulfill my presidential responsibilities."

Mrs. Robert Butterfield and Mrs. Max Thompson, the committee - in-charge, served sandwiches, donuts and tea.

AUGUSTINE COVE W.I.

The December meeting of the Augustine Cove W.I. was held on Thursday evening, December 6th at the home of Mrs. Gordon Dawson with the president in charge. Meeting opened by singing "Silent Night" followed by the creed in unison.

Roll call was responded to by 17 members, one visitor was present. Five members paid their dues for the coming year.

The sick committee reported three calls made and treats taken to each. School committee reported that paper cups were needed for the pupils and the Christmas Concert is to take place on December 20th at 7 o'clock.

New committees are as follows. Sick and Program, Mrs. Jean Carruthers and Mrs. Priscilla MacFadyen: school, Mrs. Edith Robinson and Mrs. Myrtle Ceretti: lunch, Mrs. Bea Dawson, Mrs. Joan Dawson and Mrs. Lillian Cutcliffe.

The Institute is to purchase a container for paper towels for the school. It was decided that we provide the Christmas treat for the school children and Bessie Cameron was appointed to purchase it. It was planned to pack Christmas boxes for eight shut-ins in the district and the buying committee were asked to pack and deliver these.

All members present paid 50 cents to be used towards paying for cleaning the school basement. Members agreed to bring odds and ends of wool to next meeting and these will be used in knitting articles for United Services Committee.

A thank you note from Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dawson was read thanking the Institute for remembering their golden wedding anniversary with a gift. An auction of bazaar articles followed with Bea Dawson as auctioneer and the sum of $7.10 was realized.

Next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Eric Robinson.

Members then exchanged Christmas gifts and lunch was served by the hostess assisted by committee in charge.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE E. TAYLOR

N. Bedegue United Church Is Scene Of Autumn Wedding

North Bedeque United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on November 10th, 1962 at 2,30 p.m., when Ruth Doreen daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Baker of North Bedeque, became the bride of George Ensor Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Taylor, Freetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C.R. Webber, assisted by Rev. J.T. Waldron. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with baskets of yellow and rust 'mums and ferns

Mr. Alden Leard, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Horace Estabrooks who sang "The Lord's Prayer", before the ceremony and "Because", during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her floor length wedding gown of white taffett faille, featuring a rounded neckline, long sleeves coming to points over the hands and the full skirt fell from the waist into large unpressed pleats with straight panel front and bustle back with chapel train, with crystals and seed pearls around the neck and down the front panel. She wore cultured pearl earrings, gift of the groom. Her tulle illusion bouffant veil was held in place with a crown of matching crystals, and she carried a cascade of orange edlight roses and ivy.

Mrs. Grant Gallant, as matron of honor, was gowned in rust peau-de-soie, street length and featuring the same lines as those of the bride, with matching three-quarter mitts coming to points over the hands, and matching shoes. She carried a semi-cascade of coffee shasta daisies. Miss Joyce Birch, as bridesmaid, was gowned in coffee peau-de-soie with matching mitts and shoes and she carried a semi-cascade of gold shasta daisies. Miss Carol Baker, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid, was gowned in gold peau-de-soie with matching mitts and shoes and she carried a semi-cascade of rust shasta daisies. Their headdresses were pill box hats with veiling and pearl trim.

Mr. Irwin Drummond was best man and Messrs. Waudron Heffel and Wendell Taylor ushered the guests to their pews which were marked with white satin bows and pansies.

Mrs. Baker chose for her daughter's wedding a two piece dress of beige imported lace entwined with ribbon with a brown feather hat, brown accessories and a corsage of orange delight roses. The groom's mother was gowned in a two piece dress of blue printed sheer with winter white hat and corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The grandmother of the bride was gowned in a Dior blue bcucle dress with matching feather hat and accessories and Bavm Martin furs and corsage of tea roses.

A reception for eighty-five guests was held at Birch Hill Lodge, where the bride's table with its attractive decorations of mixed flowers and candelabra, was centred with a three tier wedding cake topped with a swan and yellow roses, encircled with yellow tulle and roses. Miss Michelle Sudbury circulated the guest book.

The bride received a long distance call from her aunt, Mrs. Richard Palmer, in Cleveland. Ohio, just prior to the wedding.

For the honeymoon trip to New Brunswick, the bride travelled in a three piece suit of brown with beige and blue braid trim, with beige and brown accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside in North Bedeque.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sudbury, Mr. Larry Sudbury, Jr., Miss Michelle Sudbury, Miss Valerie Sudbury, Mr. A. W. Sudbury, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Gerald Williams of Barrie, Ontario; Mr. James Sudbury, Moncton, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Buchanan, Charlottetown; Mr. Alden Leard, Sackville, N.B.
