Choosing as his topic "The Monarchy", Hon. F. Walter Hyndman, former lieutenant-governor of P.E.I., spoke on the constitution of Canada and the role of the monarchy in it, at a banquet celebrating Remembrance Day observances here last night.

Other guests at the banquet included Lieutenant-Governor W.J. MacDonald.

Mr. Hyndman stated that the parliament of Canada consisted of the Sovereign, the Senate and the House of Commons. The parliament made the laws of the country, he said, and without the assent of the monarch a Canadian people could not enjoy the freedom which they now do.

He said that the monarch is a person who is not a part of the government but who is a part of the life of the country.

Solicitor-General Is Speaker At Remembrance Banquet

MISCOUCHE — Canada's Solicitor-General, Watson MacNaught, in a Remembrance Day speech, told a large banquet gathering at Miscoche Royal Canadian Legion Home last night that "we can look back over the past two world wars and can learn from the sacrifices that were made if we are to maintain peace."

"As I look back over the two years," the number of people charged and gasoline duty Britain's overall deficit at the end of 1963-64 was between £400,000,000 and £450,000,000 ($1,200,000,000 and $1,275,000,000).

"In the field of tax reform I aim to stimulate a lively and radical interest," said the chairman in his hour-long address.

"Our system has become unjust both in incidence between different individuals and social classes and in some ways a stumbling block to economic progress."

His first target was a capital gains tax.

"The dividing line between capital and income has become blurred," said Callaghan.

Tuberculosis Still Global Disease Says Doctor After Foreign Study

"Tuberculosis, in this day of fast transport and large scale movements of people, must be considered a global disease," Dr. Donald found, provincial director of tuberculosis control, said yesterday.

Dr. Donald returned recently from England where he had his post-graduate work on chest diseases as a Canadian Tuberculosis Association scholar. He is now, as president of the association, he attended the annual meeting of the International Union Against Tuberculosis in Paris in early September.

Representatives of 11 nations attended the Paris meeting, which, according to Dr. Donald, discussed "the worldwide tuberculosis situation, particularly the situation in underdeveloped countries."

According to Dr. Donald, India, Africa and China have the worst tuberculosis rates in the world. "For example," he said, "there are 3,000,000 cases of tuberculosis in India and about 1,000,000 people die from the disease annually. Treatment facilities are most inadequate."

COMPARABLE TO 1900

Dr. Donald said that the incidence of tuberculosis in underdeveloped countries is comparable to what it was in Canada in 1900. "In that year, in Canada," he said, "the death rate was about 200 per 100,000 population. In 1963, in Canada, however, the death rate was 4.5 per 100,000."

MORE

The Scandinavian countries, according to Dr. Donald, now have the lowest death rates of tuberculosis. Canada, Great Britain and the United States are in the middle.
