

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 27, 1883.

The Spring Park Nuisance Case.

It is understood that the Stipendiary Magistrate has arrived at an ultimatum respecting the action for nuisance, brought by the City of Charlottetown against the Charlottetown Woollen Factory Company; and a few remarks, without prejudice to the case as it stands, may be permitted.

The evidence adduced on the complaint is, in brief, to the effect that the "wash" from the factory discolors and pollutes the water of Spring Park Brook and renders it unfit for use. Horses, it is said, won't drink it, for cattle it is injurious, and the women can't use it to wash with.

The nuisance has this extent—no more.

Now, besides the Charlottetown Woollen Factory, Spring Park Brook drains the whole of the northern section of the town extending from the residence of William Heard, Esq., on the northeast, to the residence of William Welsh, Esq., on the southwest—Gregortown, and the upper extension of Prince street, Palmer's Lane and the upper end of Great George street, Bayfield street, and all the other streets from Euston street north which run from Great George street to Lower Spring Park road. The drainage of all this part of the town goes into Spring Park Brook. Yet it is charged that, simply because of the wash of the factory and of a skin store near it, the water is unfit for use. Why, if the factory were never started or if it were closed down to-morrow, no horse could be forced to drink of the brook, and any cow which would show such bad taste as to do so should be butchered off-hand. Granted that the "wash" of the factory makes the water unfit for washing purposes, the day has certainly gone by when any woman would think of lighting a fire beside the brook as of yore, and washing her dirty linen, etc., there.

It should be remembered—it should never be forgotten—that the prosperity of Charlottetown—as of every town—depends upon the labor which is done in it; and should the town, by its action for a nuisance, hamper or close the Woollen Factory, it will shackle or destroy a valuable contributor to its prosperity. The factory distributes, every week, about a thousand dollars in wages and expenses, which would go out of circulation; employs a large number of men, women and boys, who would be compelled to go elsewhere; has a large amount of capital, which would be lost or taken away; gives value to property, which would be rendered valueless; enables our farmers to sell the wool they have to dispose of right here, and with the money received for it to buy other goods from our merchants, which they could not do,—if the factory were closed.

And what cause is there for stopping this valuable industry?—the infliction of a fine of thirty dollars a day is tantamount to that—or for the alternative of compelling the company to make at a heavy cost a separate sewer to carry off the wash? Horses won't drink out of the brook, and it hurts cows to do so, and women can't use the water for washing purposes! This is the sole cause; a cause which must continue to exist independently of the factory so long as the town continues to be a town!

Granted that the Woollen Factory Company contribute most largely to the pollution of the stream, it cannot be denied that hundreds of citizens do so in a smaller measure; and are the Company to bear all the expense of a sewer? Is it not quite evident that, taking everything into consideration, the Company should not be compelled by the City to make the sewer? Is it not quite evident that the City Council should have the sewer made at the expense of the whole civic community?

Both the Spring Park Brook nuisance and the Governor's Pond nuisance should, in our opinion, be dealt with by the City Corporation. If will, of course, be impossible to restore the waters of either to their pristine purity, or even to make them fit for the use of horses and cattle of ordinary good taste. But for the health and credit of the town the filth and ugliness of both should be abated at the common expense.

—Mr. G. W. Ross, the member for West Middlesex, one of the best Grits in Parliament, has been unseated in precisely the same way as Sir John was. Were we to do as the Patriot does, we should try to ruin the character of Mr. Ross by denouncing him as a briber, personally cognizant of the offence, on account of which his seat was forfeited. Will the Patriot now admit that a good man may be unseated?

—It appears that Sir Charles Tupper has nipped in the bud the plans of speculators operating for a decline in Canadian securities, by demonstrating to English capitalists the fact that the sensational rumors set afloat for the purpose were unfounded.

There is another monster trial to come up shortly before Vice Chancellor Bacon, in England, which promises to last as long as the Tichborne case, of which Lord Coleridge was a great part. The amount in dispute is $2,500,000. There are ten defendants, who make separate defences and employ separate counsel. Three counsel are engaged for each defendant; and the plaintiff, a well-known company, has five. The company's leading lawyer has $5,000 marked on his brief, and the other on both sides $2,500 down to $1,500. The pleadings make up a large folio volume. As Sir James Bacon is 85, it is likely to finish him.

British News Notes.

The murder of the farmer named Spence, near Cork, on the 15th inst., was the result of a private land quarrel.

The Yorkshire colliery owners have resolved to refuse the advance of 15 per cent. wages demanded by the miners.

A Dublin despatch states that a circular containing a black list of jurors in the Phoenix Park trials and in the case of men tried for the attempt to murder Juror Field have been mailed to thousands of the inhabitants of that city.

The reason for the abrupt departure of the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh from a ball given in their honor by the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, at his castle in Cobourg, has just come to light. It appears that they insisted upon omission from the list of invitations of the names of the wives of two of the court officials of the Duchy, one of whom was formerly an actress, and the other having been divorced previous to her marriage with her present husband. The Duke of Saxe-Coburg not deeming the antecedents of the two ladies in question sufficient grounds for excluding them demurred, but was met with a firm insistence on the part of the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh. The Duke of Saxe-Coburg thereupon gave orders prohibiting the attendance of any of the court officials. Upon hearing of this decision of their host the Duke and Duchess abruptly left the castle. As the Duke of Edinburgh is the heir of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, the episode may lead to some amusing complications.

Foreign News Notes.

San Francisco is to test the electric and cable street cars on parallel avenues.

The gold table service of Baron Nathaniel Rothschild is worth 2,000,000 marks.

It is reported at Paris that England has complained to France concerning the prolonged occupation of Tamatave to the injury of commercial interests.

Lieut. Viand, author of the report in the Figaro that the French sailors massacred the natives at Hue after they ceased resistance, has been removed from active service.

A Berlin despatch states that two Jews have been convicted at Costin of setting fire to the synagogue to obtain the insurance. They were sentenced to four years' imprisonment. Others implicated in the crime were sentenced to shorter terms. The crime was originally attributed to the Christians.

A Paris despatch says that a yellow book, issued recently, detailing the negotiations between France and China regarding Tonquin, says:—"China demands the whole of northern Annam, and the French evacuation thereof, allowing France only the southern province. There is no doubt the arrival of the reinforcement expedition will promptly terminate the work so gallantly begun in Tonquin. France is still ready to negotiate with China in a friendly spirit, and hopes that accomplished facts may induce her to take a more just view of the matter, especially when she sees the moderate, but still resolute policy of the French Government supported by the Chambers and country."

Home News Items.

Referring to the rumor that the Government is considering the advisability of throwing open for settlement the Northwest lands within the mile railway belt, the Winnipeg Sun says there will be a rush of settlers to the lands if such a policy is determined upon. The action will unquestionably be a popular one, and in the best interests of the rapid settlement of the Northwest.

A correspondent who interviewed Mr. Edwards, M. P., at Quebec the other day, reports him as saying "he is confident that Lord Lansdowne will be much more popular in Canada than was Lord Lorne, being much more condescending, familiar and affable. Lady Lansdowne he describes as a beautiful, homespun woman, with all the grace and ability, but none of the desire to shine in society, and more resembling the Marchioness of Bath than any other titled lady in London, in her home attachments and personal attention to her children." Mr. Edwards has been a personal friend of Lord Lansdowne for many years, and his tribute to the Governor-General is in harmony with that of all who have had the honor of His Excellency's acquaintance.
