I CANNOT SLEEP

Is the Complaint of the Unhappy Victim of Starved Nerves.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Bring Sweet Sound Sleep by Ensuring Perfect Digestion, Which Means Plenty of Rich Blood to Feed and Soothe the Nerves.

"I can't sleep!" How often we hear this expression! And, if you will notice, you see that every person who uses it is pale-faced, haggard, with blood-shot eyes, trembling hands and a generally "used-up" look. His nerves are unstrung. Why? Because his stomach is out of order.

The nerves must have rich, nourishing blood to feed on, or else they become weak and incapable of doing their proper work. If the stomach is out of order it cannot and does not digest the food properly. That is, it cannot, and does not, change the food into rich, nourishing blood.

So the nerves are starved. Then the condition known as nervous prostration follows.

And when the nerves are starved, they inflict the most unbearable torture on their victim. Thousands of young men and women are swept into untimely graves as a result of nerve starvation, or in other words, indigestion.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets exert a powerful but gentle influence on the stomach. They bring it back from weakness to strength; from uselessness to usefulness. They put it in shape to do its work—to digest the food and that means to change the food into rich red, blood.

When the food is changed rapidly and regularly into rich blood, every part of the body benefits by it. The nerves grow strong, sleep returns to the longed eyes, rest brings strength and vigor, and good health. There are no more long sleepless nights; no more nervous headaches. You are made strong in every way.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will work this change. If you don't believe it try them. They'll prove it to you.

COCKATOOS

The cockatoos constitute a branch of the great parrot family, and, with the exception of the species which inhabits the Philippine islands, are peculiar to the Australasian region.

Leadbeater's cockatoo is one of the most beautiful of the group, his white plumage being tinged with rose color—W. T. Greene, the great authority on cage parrots, describes it aptly as "raspberry and cream" color—but as his mental endowments are by no means equal to his personal attractions he is less popular as a pet than species with more intelligence than good looks. One point in his favor must be mentioned—he is a less determined screamer than the majority of cockatoos. This, however, is not saying much. In his native woods of South Australia Leadbeater's cockatoo is very shy and difficult to approach. The birds sent to Europe, no doubt taken as nestlings in the majority of instances, remain usually wild and suspicious, though they bear confinement well and do not suffer from the cold.

At home in Australia the cockatoo is not beloved of the farmer, and it can be well imagined that a flock of these big birds, amounting often to thousands, commit fearful havoc upon the crops. Hence it is shot down as remorselessly as the sparrow in England when it grows too numerous to be acceptable to the agriculturist. Like the rest of the genus, this cockatoo usually makes its nest in a hollow tree, where the hen lays two pure white eggs.—St. Louis Republic.

Male Felicity.

"Talking about the humanity of man and the felicity of woman," said the in-story of a woman, "let me tell you a little story of a man and a cat. The story was told to me by the wife of the man, who is a domesticated woman. It seems that the family cat, besides being of a sportive disposition, had more ingenuity than most cats or understood better how to relieve the tedium of a domestic existence. This cat caught a mouse. Being well fed, her sporting instinct came into play, and she kept the mouse to amuse herself with. That is a feline custom, as you are aware, but where this cat showed superior mentality was in hitting upon a place to hide the mouse, thus protracting the amusement. She kept it in an old shoe in a storeroom. The man of the house discovered the proceeding, and was almost as much amused as the cat. Did he put a stop to it? No, indeed. For several days he fed both the cat and the mouse, after which the cat would take the mouse out for its daily exercise, to the delight of both conspirators. Then the man's wife found them out. She took the mouse away and let it go."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Sport as a Developer of Character.

Every now and then there crops out in this republic the notion that if our more cultured citizens were our rulers that we should be much better off. We very much doubt it. If our more manly citizens could rule us, then no doubt we should be better off. But there is a freakiness and finicalness, an inability to give and take, a general rubbing and creaking of machinery among men developed only on the one side of the mind, which always everywhere makes them objectionable as rulers. Boxing is just as likely to make a man meek as books, but if you have a bully to deal with neither the boxing nor the books will avail anything, and he becomes almost more objectionable as an editor than as a prizefighter. Of course sport will fail, just as every other agency will fail, with certain men. On the other hand, for the great majority of men, well conducted sport will teach them fortitude, gentleness, meekness and fair play as no other agency yet invented by man can do.—Outing.

HORRIBLE AGONY

Suffered by Mr. Thomas Harrison, of St. Mary's N. B.

Stone in the Bladder Brought Him to the Point of Death—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him After All Else Had Failed.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 23.—All residents of the village of St. Mary's, a suburb of this city, will remember the recent narrow escape of Mr. Thomas Harrison, who was so seriously ill with stone in the bladder.

It will be remembered that Mr. Harrison had become so ill that many of his friends thought he could never recover. All medical treatment failed to relieve him; his urine was thick and bloody, and his chances seemed gone.

At this period, Mr. Harrison was persuaded to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. After having used one box, he passed a large stone, that had formed in his bladder as a result of defective kidney action.

All his pain vanished with the passing of this stone. He "mended" rapidly, gaining health, strength, and flesh, rapidly.

Mr. Harrison continued the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills for a time, till his kidneys were perfectly restored and all danger of another stone forming had passed.

Today he is strong and healthy, and no man in Canada is louder in praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have had the same result in every case of Kidney Disease for which they have ever been used. They have always cured.

Victims of Kidney Disease—in any form—may be absolutely certain of a thorough and permanent cure, if they use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Coughs and colds need not be endured; they can be cured, and that quickly.

Many mixtures are temporary in effect, but Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is a permanent remedy.

The oil feeds the blood and warms the body; the hypophosphites tone up the nerves; the glycerine soothes the inflamed throat and lungs.

The combination cures. This may prevent serious lung troubles.

50c. and $1.00; all druggists. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto.
