

Annual Regatta At Souris Attended By Large Crowd

Amid the roar of engines and flying spray, Souris annual Regatta hit a maximum peak of success yesterday afternoon when all types of powered fishing boats gave the huge crowd a thrilling display as they vied for leading honors over a mile and a half course in a total of 11 different events. This was only one feature of the gala entertainment staged during the day.

Swimming and diving competitions, dory racing and many other events made Souris' annual display one of its best in history. Blessed with perfect weather for the occasion, a competent group of presiding officials ran off the large program smoothly and efficiently.

All proceeds are to be divided between the Souris Hospital and Canadian Legion.

John Irving of Point Pleasant, Lester Graham, Murray Harbour North and John Beaudreault of Lower Montague were the big double winners in the boat racing events, all taking two firsts each in leading events and each taking second or third honors in at least one other event.

Other first place winners were Malcolm Allen, Georgetown, Syl Sutherland, Souris, Henry Irving, Cambridge, Lewis Higginbotham, Fortune, and Joseph Chapman, Little Harbor.

Lester Graham was the winner of the big event of the day, the Free-For-All Car Engine race that produced a particularly close, fast battle all the way. Graham finished about a length in front with only about a quarter length separating the second and third place winners, John Beaudreault and John Irving who finished in that order.

The other close win of the day was in the six-cylinder car engine event, John Irving just nosing out Lester Graham at the finish by half a length.

The big winner in the swimming events was youthful Richard Bushey of Souris and Boston, who took firsts in the boys 14 years and under and boys Free-For-All and boys 14 and under diving competitions. The other winner was Kimbal Jarvis, Souris, in the boys 16 and under swimming event.

Sheila DeLory of Georgetown was a double winner in the girls division taking firsts in the Free-For-All and 14 years and under events. Ann Prosper of Georgetown took top honors in the girls 16 years and under.

Bob Mills of Annandale was the winner of the men's open diving competitions, while Jake Gilliam and Bill Gilliam of Souris won the men's double dory rowing competition over John Dan Paquet and Joe Chapman, Souris.

Jack Stewart of Annandale won the Greasy Pole climbing event.

Lobster Dinner A Highlight
One of the leading highlights of the gathering was the delicious lobster dinner served in the Souris Rink by the Ladies Auxiliary of Souris and provided for by the Women's Institutes of Eastern King's County. Served with the grace of the most elite dining room, in a gaily decorated rink, the fresh lobster dinner with all the trimmings was something out of this world and the hundreds who partook of the delicious repast were high in their praise of the ladies responsible for its preparation and serving.

Another leading feature of the regatta section of the celebrations, was the fine demonstration of water safety and rescue technique put on by members of the Souris and Charlottetown Red Cross swimming and water safety divisions. Demonstrating the art of ring buoy, dory and fishing boat rescue work and artificial respiration, Irwin "Jinks" Jenkins of Charlottetown gave an excellent commentary on the demonstrations while John Mullally and Stephen DeLory of Georgetown, Paul Jenkins and Larry Glover of Charlottetown carried out the practical demonstrations.

The officials, who made such a commendable job of running off the program, were as follows: J. H. Brennan, Chairman; Racing Committee, P. A. MacLellan, W. A. Wright, P. A. Paquet; Swimming and Diving, J. B. St. John, J. J. MacDonald; Judges, W. Arthur Gaudet, City, William Power, William Ryan; Starter, Aeneas MacDonald; Announcers, W. A. Malpeque Cove Boat Races Largely Attended

A large crowd of interested spectators witnessed the boat races at Malpeque Cove yesterday afternoon. The spectators watched the events from a high cliff which made an ideal gallery for viewing the sport. Besides the boat races there were a few children's races held. Two catboats were in operation and dinner was served on the grounds.

The following were the results of the boat races:
V-8 engines: 1. John Andrew Francis, Lennox Island; 2. J. Malone, Lennox Island; 3. Archie Pidgeon, French River; 4. Chev. Chev. 1. Geo. Wall, Darnley; 2. Geo. Hickey, Darnley; 3. Geo. Carr, French River.

Double cylinder, 10 horse power: 1. Bob MacKenzie; 2. Lee Champion, Malpeque; 3. Geo. Simmons, Fish Island.

Five horse power: 1. R. Lewis, Lennox Island; 2. Russ MacKenzie, Malpeque.

Gordon Kennedy won the free-for-all foot race with James Saunders inches behind him at the tape. Mary MacNutt won the free-for-all ladies' race with Janet MacKinnon second, and the same two girls finished in the same order in the girls' race—14 to 16.

In the evening dancing took place.

Stars Clash Here Tonight

The West End Anchors and the East End Stars will close out the first section of the City Baseball League schedule here this evening when they clash at Memorial Field at 5:30.

Trailing in the third and fourth place positions behind the leading Flyers and Falcons, tonight's rivals can't change the final standing at the end of the first section as far as the first two teams are concerned. But it can make a difference between themselves.

Anchors hold a one-game bulge over the Stars, and a win can give them sole possession of third spot going into the second section while a victory for Stars will pull them up to a third-place tie with Falcons.

Both will be battling for that difference tonight, and should produce a nip-and-tuck affair. Anchors only topped out Stars 5-4 in their last meeting on June 19th so there isn't much to choose between them.

Presentation On Retirement From Customs Dept.

Mr. Percy McCausland, Charlottetown, was presented with a token of affection and goodwill by members of the Customs and Excise Division in Charlottetown on Tuesday, July 10, on the occasion of his retirement.

Mr. McCausland has served in the local branch for the past eleven years, after having been transferred here from Moncton. He retired as a Customs Excise Officer Grade 11.

In the address made at the time of the presentation, the spirit of goodwill which has existed between the staff was commented on, and Mr. McCausland was told that his fellow workers have realized his capacity for hard and constant work, and his zealousness and regard for the protection of the Revenues.

The address was signed by Messrs. J. R. St. John, R. F. Acorn, G. E. Sherren and L. W. Goodwin.

College Students In Camp, Plan Series of Concerts

During the past week about 25 College students, proteges of the St. Thomas Aquinas Society, were in summer camp at Egmont Bay. For several years Mr. Matt Gallant has generously given these young people the use of suitable buildings for the camp, and both he and Mr. Gallant had done everything possible to make the students comfortable and happy.

In their various colleges these young men and women have prepared material for a series of concerts which they intended to give in various centres of the Province. During the past week many rehearsals were held, and now the troupe feels that they have something really worth-while to offer to the public. During the present week they have appeared at Mount Carmel, Egmont Bay, Tignish and Bloomfield, where they were greeted with overflowing houses. They intend to be in Charlottetown on Friday night, at North Rustico on Saturday night, and at Rustico on Sunday night. This is the first time that a group of College students attempts such a tour of the Province, and no doubt they will meet with the success that such an undertaking deserves.

The address was given by Messrs. J. R. St. John, R. F. Acorn, G. E. Sherren and L. W. Goodwin.

NEWMARKET, England — (CP) — Decorators stripped wallpaper off layer by layer, in a house here. When they came to the original covering they found it was dated 1797.

A. L. Takes Spotlight In Pennant Race Today

NEW YORK, July 11 — (AP) — Although the National League slugged out a victory in the 1951 major league All-Star game, the American circuit will bounce right back into the spotlight tomorrow when the pennant races are resumed, after a three-day intermission.

The four clubs involved in a knockdown battle for the lead start off by battling one another. Boston Red Sox, hottest team in either league for the last couple of weeks, to open Chicago for a doubleheader opening a four-game series with the league-leading Sox. At the same time New York Yankees, who have slipped to third, open a four-game set in Cleveland with a night game against the fourth-place Indians.

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers, breezing along in an 8½-game lead over New York Giants, open a long, home stand against the Western Clubs with a night game against the seventh-place Chicago Cubs. The Giants and Cardinals fight it out for second place.

So far this year Chicago has a 7-4 margin in games over Boston. But three of Boston's four victories came in their last series in Boston. Red Sox began a drive that carried them to 13 victories in 17 games, the last six in a row.

Yankees, who beat Indians eight times in 11 attempts during the first half of the season, open a 13-game western tour with a road game at St. Louis.

It may all work out O.K. in the end, but John, Glace Bay and a new aspirant to Major League Hockey, New Glasgow, throw in their lot as indicated. But if one, or maybe even two of said teams don't, it looks like there will have to be a few new angles dug up if the Maritimes is going to operate the big seven-team circuit they originally planned.

Mat followers who like their sport rough and rugged, certainly didn't have anything to gripe about over the Forum's "tag-team match" presentation there on Tuesday night. The Bull Curry-Bull Montana combination, who won out over Len Hughes and Sal Balbo in a best of three-fall match that went the limit, sure gave the small crowd on hand a bundle full of action.

A smart wrestler and a super showman, Bull Curry's debut here was a crowd-pleaser when he teamed up with Montana and also squared off with Hughes in a single 20-minute fall affair, while Montana and Balbo also pulled a 2-0.

British Scout Seeks Canadian Hockey Talent

LONDON, July 11 — (CP) — Keith (Duke) Campbell, familiar to hockey fans as the oldest hockey player on this side of the Atlantic, sails for Canada tomorrow on a 12,000-mile hunt for talent.

Campbell, 42-year-old coach and manager of Earl Court Rangers in the English National League, will cross Canada twice visiting such centres as Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton and Kimberley, B. C.

His itinerary includes Sudbury, Ont., where he will talk with Danny Linton, former English star, and Cornwall, Ont., where he hopes to see Pete Payette.

Earl Court players retained from last season are goalie Ken Dargavel of Fort William, Ont.; Defencemen Alf Harvey of Montreal and Pete Wright of Edmonton; and forwards Stan Dequoy, Montreal, Les Anning, Rimouski, Que., and Buck Kavanagh, Kimberley.

Campbell's main search will be for a speedy forward line, but he will also pick up skaters, boots, uniforms and padding.

Thrilling Battles And Surprise Win Feature Great Night's Racing

Nell Kalmuck, a sleek black mare, owned and reined by Willard Kelly, won both dashes of the trot and Miss Commando, driven by Archie Llewellyn, paced her way to an upset win in the 222 race to provide the highlights of a great racing card at the Exhibition track last night which featured driving finishes and keen battles from wire to wire.

Nell was the only horse to win more than one dash last night. Willard Kelly had her in front nearly all the way in both heats and beat off the challenge of Jennie Kalmuck, driven by Louisa Letcher both times. Jennie made a great try in the first dash but was a nose behind at the wire.

Archie Llewellyn gave Miss Commando a terrific drive home in the second dash of the 222 race. The little pacer was in fifth place at the five eighth pole and moved into third position going up the back stretch.

She remained in third place until she came into the stretch and when the second place horse pulled out Miss Commando slipped through and hit the wire a half length in front of Calumet Onward, the second place winner. Her time was 2:13, a new record.

There were only two win tickets bought on Miss Commando and both of them were purchased by Jack Edgett, proprietor of the Barn Drive Inn. He was handed a cheque for $342, a nice present for his birthday which he celebrated yesterday. In purchasing his tickets Mr. Edgett bought two on each of the three long shots on the board.

Lucky Number and Calumet Onward were the other winners of the 222 pace. Lucky Number with Willard Kelly in the sulky won the first heat. Kelly started his drive with Lucky Number before he reached the half way mark and took his horse around the outside of Calumet Onward and New Look to the head of the stretch.

He put on a great drive in the stretch to come in a half length ahead of Calumet Onward who finished second. New Look was a close third.

But Calumet Onward with driver Harold Stead was not to be denied in the final dash of the evening. Stead took the Onward horse to the front at the first turn and remained there to the wire. Miss Commando challenged but had to be content with second place.

A bad spill that might have proved disastrous occurred in the last dash. Duke Hyland driven by H. T. Ramsay fell at the first turn. C. Albert Budlong driven by E. Bernard went right over the top of Duke Hyland and narrowly averted injury. Ramsay, Bernard was thrown onto the track and was run over by Romeo's sulky.

Bernard received arm and leg bruises and was badly shaken.

For a time it was feared that C. Albert Budlong was badly injured but the animal was able to return to the stable. Another upset involved Ma Cherie and Billy Conn. Ma Cherie was drawn from the last race.

Dale B., driven by Claude O'Brien, paced her way to a spectacular win in the third race by nosing out Filbert and Mannister Direct. Dale B. went most of the mile in third position and came through the centre with a great stretch drive to win.

Willard Kelly drove Mannister Direct to a win in the seventh dash. Prince Budlong, who led nearly all the way, finished second.

Mannister Direct came from third position at the seven eighth pole with a great stretch drive to overcome Prince Budlong and Filbert.

Miss Donna Mae, a bay mare, set a new record by winning the fourth race in 2:11. Rosalie H., driven by W. Craig came from fifth place at the half to beat out Resourceful and Miss Donna Mae in the eighth dash. Milldale, driven by Willard Kelly won the first heat.

Willard Kelly was the leading driver of the night as he piloted five winners, Milldale, Lucky Number, Mannister Direct and Nell Kalmuck twice. The daily double of Lucky Number and Dale B. paid $58.
