

UPEI to greet two Soviet historians

By Carolyn Ryan

Two historians from the USSR will visit UPEI next Monday as part of a seven-member delegation touring Atlantic universities.

The highlight of the Charlottetown stop will be Monday night when professors I.A. Akhtanzian and Victor Mal'kov join in a panel discussion on "Soviet-Canadian Dialogue on the Possibilities for Peace and Disarmament".

The tour is sponsored by the Association of Atlantic Universities (AAU). Seven leading natural and social scientists will make stops at Dalhousie, St. Mary's, Saint Francis Xavier, Mount Allison, University of New Brunswick, Memorial University of Newfoundland, and other institutions.

AAU organized the visit as their contribution to Disarmament Week, October 26 to November 2.

Before splitting up to go their separate ways, the academics will converge on Tatamagouche from the 26 to the 28 for an Orientation session, which will also be attended by Professor Andy Robb of UPEI's Department of Canadian Studies.

Also joining in the panel discussion Monday at 8:00 in the Duffy Amphitheatre will be Professor Reg Stuart (History), Harry Baglole (Island historian), and student Randy Gass.

On Monday at 10:30 the visiting Soviets will meet with students in the Robertson Library Lounge, and answer questions.

Professor Akhtanzian is a Lecturer, and the Chair of History of International Relations and External Policies, at the Moscow State Institute of International Relations. His lecture topic is "Politics of the USSR in the Field of Disarmament."

Professor Mal'kov is a professor of U.S. History with the Institute of General History, and has a special interest in U.S. social and labour history. He is co-editor of the History of Canada 1918-1945 and is prepared to address the subject of Soviet/Canadian relations.

Dry Pub a dry run that didn't work?

By Tony Sauer

The dry Pub held last Friday drew a mediocre-sized crowd, but provided good entertainment for the people that were there.

The video show was excellent, as was the music. The fact that no alcoholic beverages were sold there didn't seem to dampen the spirits of most in attendance.

Sixty-six people showed up and roughly half of those danced most of the night.

"The cost was 10.50 $ for both nights," said Howard Beattie, VP External, referring to the cost of the C-100 video show for the Pub on Thursday night and the dance on Friday night.

Overall, the Student Union probably took a loss on the whole affair. As to whether or not we will have another one, we'll let you be the judge. Would you have one?

Employment Centre interview deadlines

For interested seniors, the following deadlines for recruiters should be borne in mind:

- Oct. 29 — Royal Bank — Pre-Screen deadline.
- Oct. 30 — Toronto Dominion Bank — Pre-Screen deadline

(Transcript of marks is required).

- Oct. 30 — Touche Ross & Co. — Pre-Screen deadline.
- Oct. 31 — Imperial Oil — Interviews for selected candidates.
- Nov. 1/2 — Canada Packers.

— Interviews in Moncton for selected candidates.

- Nov. 1 — General Foods — Pre-Screen deadline.

- Nov. 16 — Bank of Canada — Pre-Screen deadline.

CUSO Information meeting will be held on Thursday, November 1st at 7:00 p.m. in Faculty Lounge, Main Building.

There will be a session, open to any interested student, dealing with interviews — what to expect and how to deal effectively with employers. The four key interview questions will also be discussed as well as the different types of interviews.

This session will be held at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, October 30th in the Robertson Lecture Theatre and in Room 313 on Wednesday, October 31st at 2:30 p.m.

Individual assistance with various aspects of the job hunt ranging from What do I do? to How do I handle job offers and salary negotiations can be arranged through the Canada Employment Centre on Campus.

This assistance is open not only to seniors, but to any student who is thinking about the world of work.

CHOICES is a computerized job-search process whereby possible job titles are obtained from a central data bank, subject to your individual selection of factors such as interests, aptitudes, temperament, educational level, etc.

Our office is located in Main Building adjacent to the Career Centre and we are open from 8:00 - 4:30 p.m., Monday to Friday. Students interested in part-time employment should also feel free to register with us.

"Social and Sexual Ethics"

Two leading theologians from the University of Toronto will be visiting UPEI next week to speak at a conference entitled "Dimensions of Christian Social and Sexual Ethics".

Father Phil Callaghan from the Chaplaincy Centre of UPEI organized the meetings, which are taking place October 30 and 31.

Reverends James Farris and Bela Somfai will each be featured in a public lecture at Duffy Amphitheatre and a half-day of lectures and discussion at the Chaplaincy Centre.

On Tuesday at 7:30, Reverend Somfai will speak on "Reproductive Technology in Light of the Judeo-Christian View of Sexuality and Marriage" in Duffy.

The next afternoon at 2, he will lecture on "The Legal and Moral Dilemma of Artificial Life Supports: Developments in the United States Versus Canada" and then lead an hour-long discussion.

On Wednesday morning starting at 9:30 Reverend Farris will speak on "Ethics in a Canadian Context", and all students are invited to the discussion following immediately at 10:30.

"Upper and Middle Class Lifestyles and The Issue of Social Justice" will be the topic on Wednesday evening when Reverend Farris speaks at Duffy at 7:30.

Father Callaghan hopes more than students will be interested in the topics under discussion and wants to see a good turnout for all items on the agenda.

Engineering competition announced

An opportunity to combine technical ability with creativity and communication skills is being offered to engineering undergraduate students of the Atlantic provinces with the introduction of the first annual Atlantic Engineering Design Competition, to be held March 1-2, 1985, at the Technical University of Nova Scotia.

The competition is divided into four categories: Entrepreneurial Design, Corporate Design, Explanatory Communications, and Editorial Communications.

Engineering students may submit entries in any category, however, the first two divisions usually involve a certain degree of technical expertise and thus are geared toward senior students. The latter two may permit the students with less experience a chance to compete fairly, and for students of any level these two categories offer a chance to develop and promote communication skills which are an asset in any professional career.

Each of the four divisions have first, second, and third cash prizes of $1000.00, $750.00, and $500.00 respectively.

A similar competition has been held successfully in Ontario since 1980, and winner of the A.E.D.C. will proceed to compete in the first annual Canadian Engineering Design Competition on March 22-23/85.

Financial assistance for participant accommodation is being arranged by the competition's organizing committee, a group of students at the Technical University of Nova Scotia.

Further information may be obtained from Carrie Bernard or Michael Smith, co-chairpersons of the 1985 competition to be held at T.U.N.S., c/o Industrial Engineering Dept., P.O. 1000, B3J 2X4 or telephone, (902) 429-8300 ext. 281.

Thus far, major financial support has been provided by Northern Telecom, Nova Scotia Power Corporation, Nova Scotia Pulp Ltd.

The Ombuds-column

By Jacinta Gallant

If you can't think of a good word, make one up! That's the way to solve problems, right?

Speaking of solving problems, how many of you are aware of the upcoming General Meeting of UPEI Student Union on October 31 at 11:45 a.m. in the library lounge? It is your constitutional right as a member of UPEI Student Union to participate in a general meeting at least twice annually.

These meetings give you a chance to meet your student council executive and representatives; to hear what's been going on and what's been planned for the future; and to voice your own questions and concerns.

The general meetings ensure that the Student Council and executive are accountable to the UPEI Student body.

You can implement policy at a general meeting! If there is a quorum (10% of student union population), then motions can be made from the floor concerning policy, procedures, roles of the Student Union, or any other issue relating to the UPEI Student body.

If you have specific concerns, get organized before Oct. 31 and present your concerns at the general meeting!

The agenda for the meeting was published in last week's Netted Gem. Get a copy, read the agenda, and be prepared to ask pertinent questions, to offer constructive criticism, and to encourage the student council in its many endeavours on behalf of the student union.

The most important thing for UPEI students at 11:45 a.m. on October 31 is this General Meeting. Show your interest and support of student union and Be There!

Did you know?

Any member of UPEI student union is welcomed at all student council meetings. A student can speak at a meeting by advising Michelle Dorsey, President, in advance of the meeting so she can put it on the agenda. If you want Council to hear your views, be there on Oct. 28th at 7:30 p.m. in Kelley 210.

Office Hours — Ombudsman Tuesday 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. Thursday 2:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. or call Student Union to make appointment.
