"RUN" ON CANADIAN BANKS.

The "run" on the branches of the Canadian banks recently established in St. John's illustrates, in a forcible way, the means that are being resorted to by the opponents of Confederation to poison the minds of the people against Canada.

END OF THE NICARAGUAN MATTER.

GREAT BRITAIN has come out of the Nicaraguan difficulty with infinite credit. She has taught to all nations the lesson that British subjects cannot, without good and sufficient cause, be arrested and imprisoned even in the most out of the way parts of the world.

REMEDIES FOR BLACK KNOT.

EVERY fruit-grower knows more or less about black knot, and will appreciate the efforts of the Dominion Government to stir up and create a wholesome feeling as to the danger of allowing the disease to multiply and spread the contagion.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Opposition papers are trying to make a point out of the fact that while Mr. Foster's Canadian budget speech was a deficit, Sir Vernon Harcourt's exposition of the state of the British finances showed a surplus.

CANADIAN TRADE.

In the course of the Budget Speech, taking up the condition of trade, Hon. Mr. Foster pronounced its course during the last five or six years eminently favorable to Canada, and something of which they had no reason to be otherwise than proud.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

In the course of the Budget Speech, the Finance Minister said, in respect to the public debt of Canada, that "there was assumed for the four provinces in 1867, $77,500,000, as there had been assumed since $31,930,000, with which no body quarrelled, or a total of $109,430,000.

NEWS NOTES.

The Marquis de Levis, a descendant of the Marquis de Levis, will soon visit Canada. It is announced that the Marquis, with the Marchioness de Levis and her niece, the daughter of Count d'Hinnisald, will leave Havre for Quebec on the 18th prox.

RICHARD HIMSELF AGAIN.

A Tariff for Revenue only the Policy of the Liberal Party.

Effective Speech by the Minister of Railways.

OTTAWA, May 8.

In the House of Commons yesterday, the crisis made another splendid attack on the institutions and industries of the Maritime Provinces.

Sir Richard Cartwright resumed the budget debate. He hurled defiance at the Government with all his old-time abandoned recklessness.

He charged the Government with reckless and foolish expenditures of all kinds, the Behning Sea Arbitration, the Militia grant, the Intercolonial Railway and projected railways in the Northwest being included in list, and in conclusion, on behalf of the agitator he advised the Government to learn prudence and economy, and to dispense with the Atlantic Service and Pacific Cable, and not to hanker after more territory, but to make friends with the United States.

Before sitting down he moved a resolution in amendment to the motion to go into supply, the burden of which was that for the present tariff there be substituted one for revenue only.

Hon. Mr. Haggart took the floor at 8 o'clock. Replying to Sir Richard Cartwright's criticisms of Mr. Foster's speech, he said that the Conservative party would go to the country on the policy they had stood by since 1878. (Cheers.) He twitted Cartwright with having failed to touch either Commercial Union, Unrestricted Reciprocity or Continental Free Trade, and with having by his amendment laid down another policy, that of tariff for revenue purposes only, which Mr. Davies had said in a recent speech was a tariff such as they have in England. Mr. Haggart was well armed with statistics, replied effectively to Sir Richard's attacks. As to Cartwright's onslaught on the Intercolonial Railway, Mr. Haggart said his first instruction to the General Manager was that he should, at all hazards, maintain the road in the highest state of efficiency. (Cheers.) He had the best authority for saying that the I. C. R. was in as good condition as any line in America and he assured the House that the Intercolonial Railway this year, as last, had come out with a small surplus. (Applause.)

Hon. Mr. Dickey moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House rose.

Sir C. H. Tupper's health is not improving as rapidly as was expected, and he had to leave the House yesterday.

MOORE & McLEOD

—ARE—

Always Satisfied.

Everybody knows we sell FURNITURE POLISH at 15 cents, and MOTH BALLS at 10 cents a box. These we call the trash of the business. But when we are touched in our DRUG DEPARTMENT we ask the public to remember that our store is as well and as largely stocked as any in the city, and we buy for cash, too.

Our CIGAR TRADE needs no advertisement at our hands. We have made this department the same as every other—the best goods at the lowest prices.
