Dorothy Dix's Column

Continued from page 2. that really do constitute acute problems, but others, like yours, are deplorably simple. Your husband is a good man, offering love and security to the best of his ability.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been writing to a sailor for the past year. He's 18, I am 16. I have never met him, but am told he's married. Should I believe the people who told me, or ask him?

ANSWER: The fair thing would be to ask the boy. While it's foolish to put stock in stray gossip, it's equally unwise to be too trusting concerning a correspondent whom you have not met in person.

Miss Nissen cannot reply personally to readers but will answer problems of interest through this column.
