COLONIAL PREMIERS BANQUETTED.

Gift of a Battleship From Cape Colony to Great Britain.

LONDON, July 12.—St. George's Club, the leading Colonial Club in London, gave a banquet on Saturday night in honor of the visiting Colonial Prime Ministers, all of whom were present with the exception of Mr. Laurier, Mr. Leden, of New Zealand, and Reid, of New South Wales.

Mr. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced that Cape Colony, through its Prime Minister, Sir Gordon Sprigg, had presented a first-class battleship to Great Britain. The gift was unconditional. The vessel would be built at the expense of the Colony as an addition to the British navy and not for the defence of their Colony.

The announcement was received with enthusiastic cheers.

THE NAVAL MOUNTED 'ORSE.

(From the London Globe.)

A wrestling match between the N. S. W. Lancers and a team of bluejackets from the Excellent at the Military Tournament caused a great deal of amusement, and, although Jack was on a vessel of whose steering he knew little, he managed to win, there being two sailors still "on deck" when all the Lancers had been dismounted.—Daily Paper.

I.

We've played in every kind o' game,
Since fust we comed to sea,
We've served in every kind o' land
From the Lizard to Fiji;
We've fought in every kind o' way,
With every kind o' force,
But best of all was the 'Cultural 'All
An' the Naval Mounted 'Orse.

II.

Oh! all the little soldier men
So bustin' up with pride,
Sez they, "You little sailor-men,
We'd like to see you ride."
Sez we, "We'll do the best we can,"
An' drops our legs across;
An' one o' the drums sez, "Ere they
comes,
It's the Naval Mounted 'Orse!"

III.

We started out in line abreast,
A-kicking up the dust;
The Tommies sat a watchin' us,
An' laughin' fit to bust.
Sez Jimmy, "Can you pull'er up?"
Sez Ginger, "W'y, of course.
We're troopers now—but I don't know 'ow
In the Naval Mounted 'Orse."

IV.

We folered up the Leader,
We reckoned that was best.
We got 'em in the centre,
An' the 'orses done the rest.
The Tommies folered awful,
An' the people 'owled across;
'Twas the first parade o' the Big Brigade
O' the Naval Mounted 'Orse!

V.

But w'en we got to business
It didn't look so gay,
The soldiers sat it splendid,
They seemed to 'ave the way.
So w'en the lines was facin'
We didn't make salutes,
We waited for the whistle,
An' we grabbed 'em by the boots.

VI.

An' w'en w'd fairly started in
We didn't 'ear no more,
'Cept everyone was cheerin'
In a sort o' 'owlin' roar.
An' w'en the ranks was opened
I looks along the gorge,
An' I sees 'em done. Sez I, "That's one
For the Naval Mounted 'Orse!"

VII.

They said we was the winners,
Which made us cock a chest.
They said we done it splendid;
We said they done it best.
But w'en the drinks was ordered,
We 'auled 'em all inside,
An' asked 'em wery nicely
If they'd teach us 'ow to ride.

VIII.

We've played in every kind o' game
Since fust we comed to sea;
We've served in every kind o' land
From the Lizard to Fiji;
We're Infantry, Artillery,
And Seaman too, of course,
But the best of all was the 'Cultural 'All
And the Naval Mounted 'Orse!

NEWS NOTES.

The Pall Mall Gazette says that owing to the drought in certain parts of Australia it will be necessary to import thousands of tons of California wheat.

The arrangement in connection with the Australian steamship service, by which vessels will call regularly at a New Zealand port, goes into effect this month. It is made possible to call at New Zealand by the placing of the third steamer, the Aorangi on the route.

Lord George Hamilton, the secretary of state for India, replying in the House of Commons as to the number of persons killed during the recent rioting in the vicinity of Calcutta, said that about seven persons were killed and that about twenty were wounded during the riots. According to native reports no less than fifteen hundred persons were killed during the disturbances about Calcutta.

A despatch to the London Daily Mail, from Cape Town, says that Captain Barr, of the schooner Seabird, belonging to the Cape Government, and engaged in trade with the Guano Islands, reports that he has had trouble with the Germans, on account of the restrictions placed upon obtaining labor supply for the Islands from Damaraland. The captain, on arriving at Angra Pequena, a bay on the West Coast of Africa, was detained for several days, and then, as his boat was about leaving, she was fired on by German soldiers.
