

COMPETE IN MASTERS CLASSIC

World's Finest Golfers Get Together This Week

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The finest golfers in the world get together in this east Georgia city this week for one of the finest golf shows in the world — the Masters tournament.

The carefully-screened field includes kings and crown princes of golf from the United States, England, South Africa, Australia, Canada, Mexico and Spain. All are hoping that between Thursday and Sunday their games will be sharp enough to get them a slice of golfing immortality, not to mention a healthy pay cheque such as the $11,250 Arnold Palmer pocketed for his victory last year.

The exact amount of the purse is not announced until the final day. The big bankroll offered — it totalled $60,000 last year — is for the professionals only, of course. But other factors provide incentive for the amateurs.

TWO CAME CLOSE
No amateur has ever won a Masters although two have come exceedingly close — Billy Joe Patton in 1954 and Ken Venturi in 1955.

And it is no secret that Bob Jones, president of the sponsoring Augusta National Golf Club and universally accepted as the greatest amateur golfer ever, would like to see an amateur win this classic he helped originate.

One of those trying will be Bruce Castator of Toronto, 32-year-old industrial caterer who, like many other leading golfers, started his career as a caddie. Castator won the Canadian Amateur last year with a 1-up victory over Eric Hanson, also of Toronto.

Two veteran Canadian pros are entered, Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Lachute, Que., and Henry Martell of Edmonton.

WON PGA CROWN TWICE
Martell, 45, won the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship for the second time last year. His first success was in 1953. Although he plays in few tournaments now, the Highlands Club pro carved an outstanding record as an amateur, winning the Canadian title in 1946, the Edmonton city amateur 12 times and the Alberta Amateur nine times.

Martell and Leonard represented Canada in the Canada Cup matches last year. Leonard, 43, has been on the Canadian team every time since the series was inaugurated and was low scorer when the matches were held at Montreal. The Vancouver pro played out of the Marine Drive club until he joined the tournament trail as a regular contender in 1955. In 1956 he won the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas. The victory was worth about $20,000.

Another 112 golf stars — present and past — were invited to this year's Masters and indications are that about 90 will tee off.

In addition to Palmer, who will be trying to break the Masters jinx of no winner ever repeating the next year, the field includes the elite of the touring pros; members of the "old guard" such as Ben Hogan, Cary Middlecott, Sam Snead, and such patriarchs of the games as Fred McLeod, who won the U.S. Open in 1906.

Horton Smith, who won the inaugural Masters in 1934 and repeated two years later, is the only man who has played in all 22 previous Masters.

Sultans, And Y Meet Tuesday

RCAC Sultans and Charlotte-town YMCA will tangle at Summerside airport Tuesday night in the final game in the best-of-five Island Basketball League semi-finals.

Each of the teams has racked up two wins and the winner of Tuesday's game will advance to the finals against the Trotters, who ousted Prince of Wales last week.

The final round will likely be the best-of-five and will get underway later this week.

The tournament is played over the Augusta National course carved out of 365 acres of an old nursery. The par 36-37-72 layout plays at an average length of about 6,300 yards. The Masters' rolling fairways are tree-lined but wide and lush.

LILIES KILLED
NEW YORK (AP) — A sleet storm and a 25-degree temperature that hit New York Friday night killed the hundreds of Easter lilies traditionally displayed in Rockefeller Center's open-air garden.

Victory Sat. Should Serve As Inspiration For Hawks

CHICAGO (CP) — The jubilant Chicago Black Hawks, winners Saturday night over Montreal Canadiens, were told by coach Rudy Pilous that they now know it's possible to beat the highly-favored Montrealers in the Stanley Cup semi-final.

The Hawks won 4-2 after dropping the first two games of the best-of-seven series in Montreal. "This game should serve as an inspiration for Tuesday's game here on our own ice," said Pilous.

"Our fellows skated better and they had the desire to win. It was a real team victory for everybody."

In the Montreal dressing room Canadiens had little to say except little Phil Goyette, centre on the third line, who tried to cheer up his mates. His ankle was bleeding from a cut he suffered in the first game in Montreal.

Jean Beliveau, who injured his back, was being looked after by the club physician. "This is a heck of a time to get an injury," wailed Beliveau who may be out for the rest of the season.

Montreal coach Toe Blake was sharply critical of the work of referee Red Storey.

"There was tripping and holding all through the game and there were lots of times penalties should have been called."

"Beliveau was thrown into the boards by Glen Skov when Beliveau didn't even have the puck but still no penalty."

Beliveau Suffers Spinal Fracture

CHICAGO (CP) — Jean Beliveau, Montreal Canadiens giant centre who was the National Hockey League's hottest scorer with 45 goals this last season, suffered a spinal fracture in Saturday Night's Stanley Cup game against Chicago Black Hawks.

The injury was described by the Montreal club physician, Dr. L. G. Hampson, as a fracture of the transverse spinal process. The injury is in the lower part of the spine. Two vertebrae were effected.

Beliveau was injured in the second period of the game won by Chicago 4-2. The Hawks now are on the short end of 2-1 in games

SPORT ECHOES

BY NOEMAN MACDONALD

Tonight could be the night when Summerside Aces win the Maritime Inter-mediate "A" championship if the local club beats the Windsor Maple Leafs tonight. It will have annexed the highest honor of its career, which stretches for less than a decade. A few years back the Aces won the Maritime Inter-mediate "B" crown, but nobody attached too much importance to this accomplishment.

It is much more of a feat for a home brew team from a centre of Summerside's size to capture the Inter-mediate "A" title and trail to victory, if victory should be achieved, will have been blessed with an unusual number of spine-tingling victories. Three overtime games, two of them sudden-death encounters, and out of twelve games played, six were won by a one-goal margin, and two others by two goals, only because goalies were lifted for extra forwards and pucks were banged into empty nets.

Windsor fans are a real group of optimists. Before the first game we heard of a super-duper player named Weir, who would probably go through the Ace de-
