

THE DAILY EXAMINER

DECEMBER 1, 1893.

POLITICAL TERRORISM.

We are informed that Mr. L. H. Davies at a meeting at Morell on Wednesday night, said that any Railway official that voted as a temporary employe at the local election would be dismissed by the Liberal Government as soon as that party got the reins of power.

NEWS FOR CRAPAUD, EAST RIVER AND BELFAST.

We learn that, at the meeting at Bannockburn last night, the Hon. Donald Farquharson stated that if the Peters Government were returned to power it was their intention to withdraw the subsidy from the steamer Jacques Cartier, which plies between Crapaud, Orwell, Charlottetown and East River.

THE STRENGTH OF RIGHT.

Advices from Morell state that Mr. Fitzgerald made a splendid speech and created a most favorable impression at the meeting held there on Wednesday evening. Mr. Fitzgerald had not had so much experience as a politician, but he has one great advantage over Mr. Davies: the truth and the right are on his side.

HE WILL DO IT AGAIN.

The Hon. Donald Farquharson has a new scheme on hand now. Besides withdrawing the subsidy from the East River, Crapaud and Orwell steam service, and depriving these places of steam communication, he intends to drop from the estimates the pauper grants and lodging the recipients into the Poor House.

KEEP COOL, GENTLEMEN.

REMEMBER that we are not trying "The Examiner's morality," or Senator Ferguson's right to take a part in Provincial politics, or the Sullivan Government, or the McLeod Government. You are trying the Peters-McLean-Farquharson Administration. Is the disfranchisement robbery in accord with the principles of Liberalism?

A WARNING!

WITHIN a week, two men and a boy have come to untimely ends in this community. The men belonged to the country, the boy to the city. A widowed mother has lost her boy; six children have been left fatherless and a widow has been left to weep, numerous relatives are in deep affliction—the whole community is horror-stricken.

There is strong reason for the belief that these men and this boy were done to death by the use of strong drink. We trust that the enquiry into the cause of the boy's death will be more thorough and more candid than that concerning the men. In such a case, it is wronging the men. It is cowardly to blink the facts. If these poor souls have been hurried before their Maker by liquor, we have a right to know the fact and to know who supplied the liquor.

Surely the deaths which have occurred—presumably as a result of the use of liquor—will deter liquor sellers and liquor dealers, and all political canvassers and workers who supply liquor to electors. We ought to have a better election this year.

THE CAMPAIGN IN BELFAST.

At a meeting here on the 28th, Mr. Forbes did not attempt to defend the Government, and refused to give a statement of the financial position of the Government for the year.

MEETING AT MORELL, KING'S CO.

The fine new hall at Morell was well filled by an attentive audience on Wednesday night, all deeply interested in local issues. The candidates for St. Peter's District and Messrs. L. H. Davies and R. R. Fitzgerald, of Charlottetown, were present, who, along with Hon. Mr. Hooper, ex-M. L. C., and H. N. Cox, Esq., occupied seats on the platform.

Mr. Judson Webster was appointed chairman, who after addressing a few words to the electors on the desirability of maintaining good order, called on Mr. Underhay as the opener of the debate. Mr. Underhay, with his usual courtesy, took the platform, although one of the Government candidates would have done so, as they had called the meeting. Mr. Underhay took up the financial position of the Province, and showed conclusively that the late Government had added largely to the revenue and resources of the Province, the present administration had decreased both the one and the other.

He then referred to the unjust system followed by the present management of the Land Office, showing how unfairly poor people were treated who tried to settle their accounts without the help of a lawyer. He also showed how unfair it was to give discounts to those who now paid up their accounts, whilst those who borrowed money to pay off their lands had no privileges given them.

Mr. Underhay made an excellent impression upon the minds of the farmers of Morell and vicinity, who years ago had secured free lands, but without getting discounts. His condemnation of the Hon. Mr. Peters' high-handed and tyrannical treatment of the High Sheriff evoked prolonged applause. Such a course had never before been taken by any government, and said Mr. Underhay, now can any conscientious man take the oath required to be sworn to by the returning officer, after having accepted this office on the express condition that he would appoint Government nominees for presiding officers and poll clerks?

It is however, only an other illustration of the tyranny that is practiced by the Leader of the Government. Mr. Arthur Peters followed and made a good speech in behalf of his brother's government. It only lacked the essential quality of being correct as to facts. When a lawyer like Mr. Arthur Peters deliberately states that the number of jury men of the most critical opinions were reduced from twelve to seven, by his brother's government, he states what he knew, or should have known, was false and untrue. It was this reduction, said Mr. Underhay, that has caused the administration of justice during the past two years; but as Hon. Mr. Sullivan was the Leader of the Government when this change was made, the Peters Government can claim no credit for it. Will Mr. Peters tell the people how much the administration of justice will cost this year? He dare not do so. Will Peter then went on boasting of what "The Examiner" had done for the Province, but many of his statements were like wind bubbles, that only have to be punctured with a needle's point of truth, when they collapse and fall to the ground.

Mr. Sullivan spoke forcibly on the manner in which the Public Works Department had been turned into a "sink of corruption" by the present Government. He instanced cases where hundreds of dollars had been thrown away on political tricks and for the purpose of buying support from Conservatives. This was known in every settlement throughout King's County, and there was no more of it done than in St. Peter's district. The brother of the Premier must be elected if possible. Peters & Peters want to have communal influences in the next Assembly, and they care not if thousands are spent to get the support that they would not otherwise receive. They have taken Lot 56 away from this district because it was strongly in favor of the Liberal-Conservative party. They have disfranchised the railway men and have taken one vote from the young men of the country, and now they are lavishing money in every possible way so that Mr. Peters and his colleagues may be returned to Parliament. Mr. Sullivan set assured, notwithstanding these efforts, that the independent men of St. Peter's district—the district that had stood true to the late Hon. Edward Whelan when he fought the family compact in days long past—would stand true to him and his colleague on the present occasion. From the canvass he had made throughout the district, he felt assured that the Liberal-Conservative candidates would be triumphantly elected. Mr. Sullivan made a fine impression by his vigorous speech, and many expressions of regret were heard that he had not spoken at greater length. He said that he would have done so only that the people, who could see him every day, would doubtless sooner hear from the learned gentleman from Charlottetown who were present. This, perhaps, is the strongest argument that could be used in favor of Mr. Sullivan's candidature. He lives right among the people of St. Peter's. If they want any information on public affairs, they can get it without having to trudge off to Charlottetown to see lawyer Peter. Judging by what he has heard of the speakers, and from advices received from different sections of the district, Mr. Sullivan will lead the poll on election day. Mr. Underhay's opponent is Mr. Anthony McLachlan, a pleasant and friendly man, who has been a member of the Liberal-Conservative party. Judging by the tone of his remarks, Mr. McLachlan is not particularly in love with Peters & Peters, although as a candidate in their interests he made an attempt to defend the late Hon. Mr. Cox, who was very unwise when the contract for the Morell floating bridge was under discussion, explained what he was paid extra for, but he did not tell what the Commissioner had told him on the Saturday night before Rice was sent over to see Thomas Melish. It would be interesting to know why it was that the commissioner had to stop over at Morell that particular Saturday night and be driven to Souris the next day. He did not tell the people of Morell that James R. McLean refused to give Mr. Hooper the contract for ferrying across the Morell River until that Robert N. Cox got half the amount. At the next meeting in Morell, Mr. Cox had better give this information, and gain credit for being the convert into Dominion politics, and not one of those whom Peters & Peters have seen for personal benefit.

Hon. Mr. Hooper spoke briefly on the political issue, but did not explain why he had been "side tracked" to make room for the Premier's brother.

Then came on the scene the leader of the Liberals of the Maritime Provinces, Hon. L. H. Davies. Truly, the case of Peters & Co. was getting desperate when they have to employ so renowned a special pleader as Mr. Davies to help them out, and have to get him to go down to St. Peter's district to defend them. Mr. Underhay and Mr. Sullivan. It is not apparent that Peters & Co. must have a great objection in coming to St. Peter's district when they got so renowned a gentleman as Mr. Davies to defend them. But great as is Mr. Davies' reputation in Dominion politics, when he comes to discuss local issues, his slips and misstatements are so apparent that anyone at all conversant with those questions can see his errors. "Why," said a young man who was listening to Mr. Davies, "does he think the people of Morell are a pack of ignoramus that do not know better than what he is telling them? He would do the person who said that Peters and Kichham had not accounted for $806.09 in the sale of the debentures was most amusing, and could only be equalled by Irving, the great tragedian, in one of his grandest roles in the drama of the drama. But when Mr. Davies said that Mr. Peters was a great financier, the best financier in the Province, he stated what he knew or should have known, was untrue. With lawyers who subtly he was careful to state that no Provincial Government in the Dominion had obtained better prices for their debentures; but he did not tell the people that the Water Works Commissioners of Charlottetown had sold their 4 per cent. debentures at 105 in 25 years for $100 per cent, or par, at the very time that Frederick Peters bartered the Provincial debentures for $96 on the $100. Mr. Davies should be more careful when he speaks to intelligent audiences in the country. They are posted on many things besides their ordinary farm work; and if they find him making many slips like he did at Morell, they will not credit his story when he seeks for their support at the next Dominion election.

Mr. Fitzgerald created a favorable impression from the beginning to the end. His voice and manner are decidedly in his favor, and his eloquent appeal on behalf of the rights of the farmers' sons was listened to with breathless attention. He reviewed many of the statements made by Mr. Davies, and showed their fallacy, especially those concerning the sale of the debentures. He did not charge Peters and Kichham with taking any money, but they should account for the discrepancy in their own public reports. After referring to other public issues before the people, he urged the electors to calmly consider the fact, that whilst the late government during their term had added $605,000 to the assets of the Province, the present administration had decreased them in two years by $174,000. This of itself, he said, was a most disgraceful record. Against the Peters Government, was sufficient to condemn them. Mr. Fitzgerald on resuming his seat, received long and loud applause.

A vote of thanks was given the chairman and the meeting dispersed.

ST. ANDREWS DINNER.

The annual dinner, in regular succession, to the honor of St. Andrew's Day, took place at Hotel Davies last evening. It is to be regretted that a misunderstanding among the members of the Caledonian Club, resulted in a division of force this year, and that, as a result, many of the familiar forms were missing from the festive board. St. Andrew's dinner was, nevertheless, a distinct success. The host and hostess of Hotel Davies had such viands prepared and served as would have delighted the taste of the most critical epicures. Everything (including the laggy) was first-class and well served. In this respect St. Andrew's Dinner was never better. A. McDonald, Esq., presided, and Mr. James Macdonald, H. M. C. C. C., acted as compere. At the beginning of the feast of reason and the flow of soul, the chairman referred to letters received from Colonel Irving, His Worship the Mayor and Senator Macdonald, expressive of regret on account of their absence. The speeches in response to the toasts were good, and the songs, riddles and stories excellent. We regret that the space of The Examiner will not admit of reports of the excellent addresses of the Chairman, Vice Chairman, Mr. F. McCourt, Hon. Senator Howland and Hon. David Laird. Special toasts were drawn in honor of Hon. Senator Howland and Hon. David Laird, and these elicited the speeches of the evening.

The following is the toast list:

- The Queen.
The Day and all who honor it—Mr. James Macdonald.
Lord Aberdeen, the Governor-General—Hon. D. Laird.
The President of the United States—Senator Howland.
Song—W. S. McKie.
The Parliament of Canada—Senator Howland.
Trio—Messrs Rowe and Mr. Calder.
The Lieutenant-Governor and Legislature of P. E. Island—Mr. Cotton.
The Canadian Militia—S. C. Moore.
Song—Mr. Calder.
Our Island Home, The Garden of the Gulf—A. McNeill, Esq.
Chorus—Messrs Good, Rowe, Wear and Moore.
The Bench and Bar—Jas. H. Good.
Our Guests and Sister Societies—Mr. McCourt and Alex. Blue.
Song—Mr. Vastian.
The Press—Mr. Cotton.
Song—Mr. Good.
The Ladies—D. R. McNeill, S. C. Moore, Senat r. Lowland and Jas. Macdonald.
Chorus—Messrs Bruce, Moore, Wear and others.
Song Mr. McKie.
Our Host and Hostess—J. J. Davies.
Col. Irving—A. McNeill.
Senator Ho was an—pled by the Senator in a very eloquent speech.
Hon. David Laird—Our next merry meeting.

ST. ANDREWS SUPPER.

St. Andrew's supper in the Caledonian Club rooms last evening, under the auspices of the Club, was a most enjoyable affair. The room was tastefully decorated with bunting and plaids, in honor of the occasion. Some thirty-five or forty gentlemen sat down, and did ample justice to the dainties and other good things so well served by the Messrs. Justice, David Small, Esq., President of the Club, presided, having on his right Senator Macdonald, and Rev. T. E. Ferguson, and on his left, Rev. D. Sutherland, J. B. Macdonald, Esq., vice-president, occupied the vice-chair, having on his right Alexander McKinnon, Esq., and on his left Charles Webster, Esq., Second Vice-President.

After the wants of the inner man were attended to, the intellectual portion of the programme was proceeded with. The chairman read letters of regret at their inability to be present, from His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, His Worship Mayor Howland, and Lieut.-Col. Irving, president of the club. The following toast list was then disposed of, the toasts being drank in cold water:

- The Queen.
The Day and all who honor it—Rev. D. Sutherland.
The Governor-General—Senator Macdonald.
The Lieutenant-Governor—A. McKinnon.
The Land of the Heather—Rev. T. F. Fullerton.
The Parliament of Canada—Hon. A. A. Macdonald.
The Local Legislature—James Paton.
Naval and Military Forces—Arthur Macdonald.
Sister Societies—James McIsaac.
The Bench and Bar—J. S. McDonald.
The Press—H. McNeill and R. E. McDonald.
Islanders Abroad—James McIsaac.
The Ladies—W. D. Small.
Our Absent Friends—Senator Macdonald.
And Lang Syne.

The proceedings were interspersed with excellent songs by John Ross, William McKay and Mr. McGlashen, of Toronto. About midnight the proceedings were brought to a close, and everyone left for home well pleased with the manner in which the evening had been passed.

LITERARY AND SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY.

The Literary and Scientific Society had an interesting meeting last evening. Professor Harcourt briefly reviewed his progress of the previous week after which a general discussion took place, engaged in by Messrs Pope, Newton, Harcourt, Houll, Morrison, Bulmer and others. A number of new experiments with oxygen and hydrogen gases were given at the close. Mr. Pope read an interesting article on Professor Dewar's experiments with those and other gases which quite interested the generally accepted theories respecting the general nature of their results will not be held till after the election. Due notice will be given.

SIR JOHN AND SIR HIBBERT AT PICTOU.

The Tariff Reform Proposed.

A Statesmanlike Policy is Outlined.

PICTOU, Dec. 1.

Sir John Thompson and Sir Hibbert Tupper had a grand welcome here yesterday. A large gathering of the best men of the county listened to addresses from the two ministers.

Sir John Thompson declared that his Government was for tariff reform. They proposed a tariff as low as possible to provide the revenue necessary to carry on the public services, and that, at the same time, afford the Canadian workman, Canadian manufacturer and Canadian farmer a preference over foreigners.

Referring to the tariff proposed by the Democrats, Sir John Thompson emphasized the fact that, instead of being in the direction of free trade, the Democrats were clinging with night and main to the protective policy, and that the duties on manufactured goods under their proposed tariff reform were away higher than those under Canada's present tariff.

He did not believe that there would be any reciprocity treaty. The Republicans would not negotiate reciprocity with a dependency of the British Crown, and reciprocity was in still greater disfavor with the Democrats. "Still," added the Premier, "for every step the United States takes in reducing duties on Canadian products, we will do everything in our power to make trade freer between the two countries as far as the requirements of our revenue will make it possible for us to do so, and without sacrificing our commercial independence, control of our tariff, and our attachment to the Mother Country."

A Great book: The World's Columbian Exposition, magnificently illustrated with half-tone photographs, wood engravings and pen drawings, all done in the very highest style of modern art. They are all truthful representations of real exhibits, or the buildings which contain them, and they convey an impression as lasting and instructive as though the original was before the eye.

The book is not filled with cheap engravings from old books, but thousands of dollars have been spent in making new engravings, made expressly to illustrate the great Fair. The work contains 700 pages and over 500 engravings and half-tone photographs of exhibits, buildings, sculpture, paintings, etc. Fine silk cloth, $2.75; full morocco, $3.75; superior edition, $5.75. Mr. Theo. L. Chappelle is sole agent for this beautiful book. Everyone should have a copy.
