

MacLean, Macquarrie Calling For Integrity

"Absolute integrity in the conduct of public affairs" was the keynote as J. Angus MacLean and Heath Macquarrie hit the campaign trail last night at a meeting in Brudenell.

The two members of the Conservative team for the dual riding of Queens emphasized to the audience of about 140 supporters that they preferred not to "take political advantage of unfortunate circumstances in the federal administration but the truth must not be hidden from the electorate."

Speaking about the recent Dorion inquiry, the Rivard case and other moral issues Mr. MacLean stated that there were "sinister and sordid elements that should be swept completely from the affairs of government." He noted that the government had asked the political leaders of the nation to conduct a "clean" election but, he stated, "we must strongly consider this moral question."

Turning to the Canada Pension Plan, Mr. MacLean pointed out to the audience several points in the plan which he said may not be common knowledge to the average man in the rural areas.

He held the gathering, comprised primarily of farmers and rural businessmen, that the most important point and the greatest flaw in the pension plan was the fact the plan was compulsory and not optional. He pointed out that every working man could expect payroll reductions from his wages and that the self employed could expect "not only to pay their own share

Betty Grable Gets Divorce

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Former actress Betty Grable was granted a divorce Thursday from band leader Harry James.

The divorce was granted in a sealed settlement by Clark county District Court Judge John Mowbray.

Miss Grable, 48, a striking blonde singer-actress, was a favorite pinup girl of the Second World War. She and James were married in 1943 and theirs was known as the ideal Hollywood marriage.

A court spokesman said terms of the sealed settlement wouldn't be made public. It was worked out in the judge's chambers.

Both Miss Grable and James have been living in Las Vegas for the last few years.

Indonesian Deadlock Is Unbroken

By ARTHUR GAVSHON LONDON (AP)—Prime Ministers Harold Wilson and Ian Smith failed Thursday to break the deadlocked British-Rhodesian negotiations over the white-ruled colony's renewed threats to seize independence.

The two men agreed merely to talk again today after a two-hour conference in the cabinet room of 10 Downing Street had produced not an inch of progress.

"If tomorrow's meeting is fruitless too," one member of the British cabinet said, "we shall have to decide whether there is any point in going on."

Renewed with the 1966 equipment as optional sold for $3,120 whereas the 1966 model will sell for $3,062—a reduction of $58.

An $82 reduction was made in the 1966 model of Oldsmobile Delta 88 model. The model will sell for $4,198 compared with $4,280 with the optional equipment.

The company's Buick Wildcat custom will sell for $4,397 compared to $4,483 with equipment optional in 1965.

The average Canadian-produced car, GM said, sold for $3,261 in 1965. With optional equipment it sold for $3,350.

The average 1966 model with previous optional equipment now standard will sell for $3,257—a reduction of $73.

"The price reductions give consideration to the duty adjustments resulting from the Canada-United States automotive trade agreement."

Be said GM of Canada will continue to import a relatively small volume of cars from the U.S. consisting principally of Cadillac and the higher price models in the Buick and Oldsmobile lines.

Reductions averaging $260 are also being made in the prices of these imported models.

Long Civil War In Indonesia Could Ruin Struggling State

An AP News Analysis The writer of this analysis is chief of The Associated Press' Southeast Asian services. He has worked frequently in Indonesia since 1957 and was there just before the current crisis broke out.

By DON HUTH KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—A prolonged civil war involving the Communists in Indonesia could spell disaster for that floundering Southeast Asian country already on the brink of economic chaos.

The country, fifth-largest in the world, is ill-equipped to meet such a strain and will maintain the political and financial stability it sorely needs to prevent a complete collapse.

President Sukarno, struggling to hold his one man rule, has publicly admitted he cannot control the rampant inflation sweeping the country.

He recently "ordered" that it be eliminated in one year, saying Indonesia is rich enough to stand on its own feet. That was before the current crisis began. Indonesian currency was in bad shape. The rupiah had shot to 16,000 to $1—an all-time high. The official rate is 45 to $1.

LIQUIDATE HOLDINGS Financial analysis attributed the jump to efforts by 10,000 or more Indian merchants to liquidate their holdings. Indonesia had announced its support for Pakistan against India in the Kashmir border dispute. Indian shops in Jakarta were seized by the government after violent attempts to solve Indonesia's economic problems have failed. The Communists concentrated their attack on manipulators of the party said was racing the country to ruin. Aitid received powerful support throughout Java, the country's key island.

DANGER OF HOLY WAR The Communists and their sympathizers now are reported concentrating in central Java, where they are strongly organized. They are moving into sectors where the fanatical Darul Islam, who demanded a Moslem state for Indonesia, fought the government for 12 years. A civil war could renew this religious movement's activities if the government's strength deteriorated. Since Sukarno told the United States last year to "go to hell" with its aid and took Indonesia out of the United Nations, he has had to turn to his new alliance with China for financial aid.

The Indonesian Communists are being supported by the Chinese Communists. If a civil war is in the making against the Communists, Sukarno cannot be expected to get the financial help from Peking that he critically needs to meet the financial crisis.

The army, bitter over the death of six of its generals at the hands of Indonesian Communist or pro-Communist elements, is expected to show no sympathy if Sukarno presses for continued strong relations with Peking.

The 64-year-old "president for life" presumably is well aware of this. If Indonesia does not get economic relief from somewhere and a civil war cannot be prevented from breaking out, Sukarno's "guided democracy" may have reached the end of the road.

UPSET OVER PROTESTS Sukarno was fully aware of what was happening. He became irritated with propaganda as daily demonstrations directed against his government on price increases.

The leader of this campaign was Communist party boss, D. N. Aitid, whose part in the present upheaval still is not clear. Aitid employed youth organizations to parade the streets of Jakarta with banners condemning price manipulators, corrupt officials and militarists declared to be growing fat on graft.

Aitid, whose 3,000,000-member Communist party is the largest outside the Communist countries, criticized Sukarno for naming obscure ministers to his cabinet. The president has had an unwieldy inner cabinet of more than 100 members. Its attempts to solve Indonesia's economic problems have failed.

The Communists concentrated their attack on manipulators of the party said was racing the country to ruin. Aitid received powerful support throughout Java, the country's key island.

DANGER OF HOLY WAR The Communists and their sympathizers now are reported concentrating in central Java, where they are strongly organized. They are moving into sectors where the fanatical Darul Islam, who demanded a Moslem state for Indonesia, fought the government for 12 years. A civil war could renew this religious movement's activities if the government's strength deteriorated. Since Sukarno told the United States last year to "go to hell" with its aid and took Indonesia out of the United Nations, he has had to turn to his new alliance with China for financial aid.

The Indonesian Communists are being supported by the Chinese Communists. If a civil war is in the making against the Communists, Sukarno cannot be expected to get the financial help from Peking that he critically needs to meet the financial crisis.

The army, bitter over the death of six of its generals at the hands of Indonesian Communist or pro-Communist elements, is expected to show no sympathy if Sukarno presses for continued strong relations with Peking.

The 64-year-old "president for life" presumably is well aware of this. If Indonesia does not get economic relief from somewhere and a civil war cannot be prevented from breaking out, Sukarno's "guided democracy" may have reached the end of the road.

UPSET OVER PROTESTS Sukarno was fully aware of what was happening. He became irritated with propaganda as daily demonstrations directed against his government on price increases.

The leader of this campaign was Communist party boss, D. N. Aitid, whose part in the present upheaval still is not clear. Aitid employed youth organizations to parade the streets of Jakarta with banners condemning price manipulators, corrupt officials and militarists declared to be growing fat on graft.

movement's activities if the government's strength deteriorated. Since Sukarno told the United States last year to "go to hell" with its aid and took Indonesia out of the United Nations, he has had to turn to his new alliance with China for financial aid.

The Indonesian Communists are being supported by the Chinese Communists. If a civil war is in the making against the Communists, Sukarno cannot be expected to get the financial help from Peking that he critically needs to meet the financial crisis.

The army, bitter over the death of six of its generals at the hands of Indonesian Communist or pro-Communist elements, is expected to show no sympathy if Sukarno presses for continued strong relations with Peking.

The 64-year-old "president for life" presumably is well aware of this. If Indonesia does not get economic relief from somewhere and a civil war cannot be prevented from breaking out, Sukarno's "guided democracy" may have reached the end of the road.

UPSET OVER PROTESTS Sukarno was fully aware of what was happening. He became irritated with propaganda as daily demonstrations directed against his government on price increases.

The leader of this campaign was Communist party boss, D. N. Aitid, whose part in the present upheaval still is not clear. Aitid employed youth organizations to parade the streets of Jakarta with banners condemning price manipulators, corrupt officials and militarists declared to be growing fat on graft.

Aitid, whose 3,000,000-member Communist party is the largest outside the Communist countries, criticized Sukarno for naming obscure ministers to his cabinet. The president has had an unwieldy inner cabinet of more than 100 members. Its attempts to solve Indonesia's economic problems have failed.

The Communists concentrated their attack on manipulators of the party said was racing the country to ruin. Aitid received powerful support throughout Java, the country's key island.

DANGER OF HOLY WAR The Communists and their sympathizers now are reported concentrating in central Java, where they are strongly organized. They are moving into sectors where the fanatical Darul Islam, who demanded a Moslem state for Indonesia, fought the government for 12 years. A civil war could renew this religious movement's activities if the government's strength deteriorated. Since Sukarno told the United States last year to "go to hell" with its aid and took Indonesia out of the United Nations, he has had to turn to his new alliance with China for financial aid.

The Indonesian Communists are being supported by the Chinese Communists. If a civil war is in the making against the Communists, Sukarno cannot be expected to get the financial help from Peking that he critically needs to meet the financial crisis.

The army, bitter over the death of six of its generals at the hands of Indonesian Communist or pro-Communist elements, is expected to show no sympathy if Sukarno presses for continued strong relations with Peking.

The 64-year-old "president for life" presumably is well aware of this. If Indonesia does not get economic relief from somewhere and a civil war cannot be prevented from breaking out, Sukarno's "guided democracy" may have reached the end of the road.

UPSET OVER PROTESTS Sukarno was fully aware of what was happening. He became irritated with propaganda as daily demonstrations directed against his government on price increases.

The leader of this campaign was Communist party boss, D. N. Aitid, whose part in the present upheaval still is not clear. Aitid employed youth organizations to parade the streets of Jakarta with banners condemning price manipulators, corrupt officials and militarists declared to be growing fat on graft.

Aitid, whose 3,000,000-member Communist party is the largest outside the Communist countries, criticized Sukarno for naming obscure ministers to his cabinet. The president has had an unwieldy inner cabinet of more than 100 members. Its attempts to solve Indonesia's economic problems have failed.

The Communists concentrated their attack on manipulators of the party said was racing the country to ruin. Aitid received powerful support throughout Java, the country's key island.

DANGER OF HOLY WAR The Communists and their sympathizers now are reported concentrating in central Java, where they are strongly organized. They are moving into sectors where the fanatical Darul Islam, who demanded a Moslem state for Indonesia, fought the government for 12 years. A civil war could renew this religious movement's activities if the government's strength deteriorated. Since Sukarno told the United States last year to "go to hell" with its aid and took Indonesia out of the United Nations, he has had to turn to his new alliance with China for financial aid.

The Indonesian Communists are being supported by the Chinese Communists. If a civil war is in the making against the Communists, Sukarno cannot be expected to get the financial help from Peking that he critically needs to meet the financial crisis.

The army, bitter over the death of six of its generals at the hands of Indonesian Communist or pro-Communist elements, is expected to show no sympathy if Sukarno presses for continued strong relations with Peking.

The 64-year-old "president for life" presumably is well aware of this. If Indonesia does not get economic relief from somewhere and a civil war cannot be prevented from breaking out, Sukarno's "guided democracy" may have reached the end of the road.

UPSET OVER PROTESTS Sukarno was fully aware of what was happening. He became irritated with propaganda as daily demonstrations directed against his government on price increases.

The leader of this campaign was Communist party boss, D. N. Aitid, whose part in the present upheaval still is not clear. Aitid employed youth organizations to parade the streets of Jakarta with banners condemning price manipulators, corrupt officials and militarists declared to be growing fat on graft.

NEW KINSMEN PRESIDENT

The annual meeting of the Charlottetown Kinsmen Club was held at the Charlottetown Hotel last night where past president H. C. MacDonald, right, handed over the gavel and duties of president to Brian Scott who will fill the office for the coming year. Mr. Scott, reporting on the National Convention held in Montreal, noted that the Kinsmen Clubs of Canada are banding together in the construction of a $350,000 building for the training of persons to teach retarded children. Andy Humphrey received an ovation on being named "Kinsman of the Year."

Suspended Term Given For Arson

Harold Stewart White of Kelly's Cross, convicted under a plea of guilty to a charge of arson, was given a two year suspended sentence yesterday by Judge C. St. Clair Trainor who presided in a trial at County Court Judges Criminal Court for Queens County.

The charge involved the burning of a barn on the property of Rosaline Murphy, Kelly's Cross, Aug. 12.

The accused was ordered to enter into reconnaissance a surety of $1,000 and to keep the peace and be of good behavior for a period of two years. It was stated that the accused must appear and receive sentence upon any breach of his reconnaissance during this two year period and that he should not leave the province

Regal Festivities Underway Today

MONTAGUE — Excitement runs high at Montague Regional High School as final preparations are made for the crowning of the king and queen this evening.

Festivities get under way this afternoon at three o'clock, with a parade through Montague by the royal party.

The gala evening begins at 7.30 with a variety concert, during which the candidates for king and queen will be introduced. The contestants are: Valerie MacPherson and Danny Compton, representing Grade 12; Christine Roloson and John Sullivan, from grade 11; and Florence Richards and Cyril MacKinnon, candidates from the commerce department.

The princess and princesses are: Johnny Conohan and Kathy Mesters, from grade 10, with Sandy Munroe and Janet Martin representing grade nine.

The Coronation Dinner will follow the crowning of the king a queen, and will feature the school bands, the Silhouettes and the Riverbeats.

DEATHS

JARDINE — At Summerside, Oct. 7, 1965, George D. Jardine, Freetown, in his 87th year. Remains resting at Davison Funeral Home until funeral arrangements are completed. Please omit flowers.

MacLEOD — At 196 Prince Street, Oct. 7, 1965, Nelson MacLeod of Long River in his 80th year. Resting at the Cutcliffe Funeral Home. Funeral notice will be announced later.

PURSEY — At the Charlottetown Hospital, Oct. 7, 1965, Wallace C. Pursey, North Rustico, in his 83rd year. Resting at the Cutcliffe Funeral Home from where funeral will be held on Saturday with service commencing at two o'clock. Interment in New Glasgow cemetery.

GAUTHER — At Newton, Mass., Oct. 5, 1965, Merrill Gauthier, formerly of Summerside and Miscouche, aged 38 years. Remains expected to arrive Friday evening to the Compton Funeral Home, then forwarded to the home of Edmund DesRoches, Miscouche, from where funeral will be held Saturday, Oct. 9, to St. John the Baptist Church for Requiem High Mass at 9 a.m. Interment in church cemetery.

Officer Handed New Command

It was announced at RCAF Station Summerside yesterday that Wing Commander John Pierpoint recently took over the duties of Officer Commanding 415 Maritime Patrol Squadron, one of the three Argus-equipped squadrons located in the Maritime Provinces, which is under the operational control of the Canadian Maritime Commander Atlantic.

Wing Commander Pierpoint takes over the duties of Wing Commander William E. Asbury who is now Chief Operations Officer at RCAF Station Summerside.

DOUBLE DECKER NEARS HALIFAX

HALIFAX (CP) — A touch of England was expected to roll into Halifax today.

A London double-decker bus is to be part of a promotional program called British Forthright at a shopping centre here when it completes a winding trip via highway and byway from Charlottetown.

The vehicle stopped Thursday night in Truro.

The bus, brought to Charlottetown last year for centennial celebrations, was too high to clear many highway underpasses in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and highway department officials of both provinces had to map out a route around obstacles.

Driver Ernest Murley of Halifax took to country lanes on several occasions to skirt bridges and subways. Mr. Murley drove a similar double-decker for more than five years at Kirkcaldie, Scotland.

Roy Emerson Rejects Offer

BRISBANE, Australia (Reuters) — Wimbledon champion and Australian Davis Cup star Roy Emerson said Thursday he has rejected a new professional tennis offer from U.S. promoter Jack Kramer.

Emerson said he intends to retire from tennis in two years' time.

Kramer was reported to have said Emerson could make up to $100,000 in a year if he accepted his offer, but he would not guarantee that figure.

Emerson, on holiday here, said: "I have not replied yet, but you can take it as 100 per cent certain that my answer will be no."

"I am 29 and I'm thinking of retiring. I won't be playing as much tennis next year, but I hope to defend my Wimbledon title."

Emerson, married with two children, is Australia's major hope in the defence of the Davis Cup against the winners of the Spain-India, Inter-zone final, Fred Stolle, Australia's No. 2 player, has been badly off form lately.

Island News Page Western and Central Districts

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP) — The suggested retail prices of all 1966 General Motors North American-type passenger cars will be lower than those of similarly equipped 1965 models.

General Motors of Canada announced Wednesday.

On Canadian-produced cars, the suggested retail price reductions range from $57 to $113 from the 1965 prices adjusted for comparable equipment.

A 1966 model Chevrolet six-cylinder Impala will sell for $3,169. A similar 1965 model with 1966 equipment optional sold for $3,245—a reduction of $76.

E. H. Walker, president and general manager of GM of Canada, said that all 1966 models include as standard equipment, six safety items which have been available as extra-cost options on most 1965 models. They are: Rear seat belts, padded instrument panel backup lights, outside left hand rear view mirror, dual windshield wiper and washer and padded sun visors.

Furthermore, he said, improved penetration resistance windshield glass will be standard on all 1966 GM North American-type cars.

A 1965 model Pontiac six-Lux

Punch Imlach To Stress Youth

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) Punch Imlach, coach and general manager of Toronto Maple Leafs, said that his team may be forced to lean more toward a youth movement this National Hockey League season.

Imlach, quite perturbed over his team's 5-4 loss to New York Rangers in an exhibition game in Kitcher, said Wednesday:

"It begins to look as if we'll have to break in two more kids than we bargained for this season.

"The legs haven't been there in the quantity that we need," he said.

John Surtees Set For Home

TORONTO (CP) — John Surtees, the ace British racing driver, seriously injured two weeks ago in a trial run, will be able to return home next week, the chief surgeon at Scarborough General Hospital announced Thursday.

"I report all tubes are out of (Surtees) and all systems are going," said Dr. Paul McGouey.

"Surtees will be ready for liftoff and orbit back to England next week," he added.

The 31-year-old Surtees was injured at Mosport racetrack when he was pinned beneath his Lola T70, which he was to drive Sept. 25 in the Canadian Grand Prix.

GM Suggested Retail Price Said Down From Last Year's

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP) — The suggested retail prices of all 1966 General Motors North American-type passenger cars will be lower than those of similarly equipped 1965 models.

General Motors of Canada announced Wednesday.

On Canadian-produced cars, the suggested retail price reductions range from $57 to $113 from the 1965 prices adjusted for comparable equipment.

A 1966 model Chevrolet six-cylinder Impala will sell for $3,169. A similar 1965 model with 1966 equipment optional sold for $3,245—a reduction of $76.

E. H. Walker, president and general manager of GM of Canada, said that all 1966 models include as standard equipment, six safety items which have been available as extra-cost options on most 1965 models. They are: Rear seat belts, padded instrument panel backup lights, outside left hand rear view mirror, dual windshield wiper and washer and padded sun visors.

Furthermore, he said, improved penetration resistance windshield glass will be standard on all 1966 GM North American-type cars.

A 1965 model Pontiac six-Lux

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of John Robert MacLean

Souris who passed away Oct. 9, 1964

Wife and family of Mrs. John R. MacLean, Souris.

BUILT TO FORMULA The Washington Monument has the dimensions of a true obelisk, the height being 10 times the width at the base.

Mr. Bill Long Service Manager

HILLSIDE MOTORS LTD. St. Peters Rd., Charlottetown Ph. 892-1243

MARITIME RACING

FREDERICTON (CP) — Oil Capital, owned by F.J. LeBlanc of Rogersville, N.B. paced the fastest mile of the night on an eight-dash harness racing card here Thursday night. The horse was clocked in 2:06.45.

Jackie Bernard drove home three winners — Sherman Ken (2:16.25), Golden Ruby (2:14.45) and Miramichi Robert (2:08.35).

Other winners were Adam's Joy (2:19), Martha D (2:16), Sherman Jess (2:17.35) and Queen Scott (2:18).

The exactor combination of Miramichi Robert and Bendonas Hal returned $941.10 to two winners.

WE SPECIALIZE IN Camera REPAIRS

Taylor's JEWELLERS LTD THE CAMERA EXPERTS

12 TOP NOTCH REASONS...

Why you should buy a 1966 Pontiac at

HILLSIDE MOTORS LTD.

"Where Customer Service and Satisfaction Come First"

Pictured at the left & below are eleven of these reasons. These men have all completed the General Motors service course and are ready to give your new Pontiac, Buick, Acadian, Vauxhall, or G.M.C. truck the prompt, courteous service required. Yes, in today's driving conditions you need the best factory trained servicemen to look after your car. "And we have them!"

"REASON NUMBER TWELVE" — The dealer service policy carried by Hillside Motors. What does G.M. 24,000 mile warranty mean? At Hillside Motors exactly what it says. Your new car or truck is guaranteed for 24,000 miles or 24 months and will be repaired and serviced by nothing but the best in parts and servicemen.

Mr. MacGregor Sales Service Manager

HILLSIDE MOTORS LTD. St. Peters Rd., Charlottetown Ph. 892-1243