LADIES' JACKETS.

When We Cut We Cut

Our Miss Beers, who has so successfully run our Mantle Department since we opened our retail store (Spring 1892) has left us for the winter, for a three months' holiday, and we are glad to say only left us a small quantity of Jackets yet to dispose of. The management has resolved to make a clearance at

GREAT BRITAIN IN THE VAN

Seeking Reciprocity for West Indies in a Business-like Way.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—There is reason to believe that Great Britain will again take the lead of the other nations in the negotiation of reciprocal treaties under the Dingley Tariff Act. While other nations were lodging complaints against the terms of the act and of the very limited advantages offered by the reciprocity clause, the British Embassy has been quietly carrying out negotiations for a series of treaties extending the benefits of so much reciprocity as may be obtained under the act to British possessions in the West Indies.

ONTARIO IN THE WAY.

Sir Richard Won't Consent to the Purchase of the Canada Eastern Railway.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Hon. Mr. Blair has not given up hopes of converting his Ontario colleagues to the project of purchasing the Canada Eastern Railway. Blair, Davies and Fielding had long conference with Sir Richard Cartwright, this afternoon. Sir Richard is strongly opposed to acquiring the line. Senator Snowball is here in connection with the proposed transfer of the line to the government.

THE ARSON TRIAL.

Fletcher Found "Not Guilty"

And Walks off a Free Man.

KENTVILLE, Jan. 7.—After addresses by Mr. Christie for the Crown and Mr. Roscoe for the prisoner, Judge Chipman gave a verdict of "not guilty," in the case of George Fletcher, the colored man accused of arson at the Windsor Conflagration. Fletcher was therefore discharged, and walked out a free man.

Black-Balled.

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—Mr. Billinger United States Consul General here, was black-balled by St. James Club last night, on account of an interview given by him to a Chicago paper and of stories concerning his career in Missouri.

Abolition of Sugar Duties.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—The morning papers anticipate that Belgium will shortly call a conference for the abolition of sugar duties. Germany and Austria have already intimated to Belgium their willingness to send delegates.

MONTREAL, January 5.—The gross earnings of the C. P. R. for the past year were $24,046,792, as compared with $20,881,596 in 1896—an increase of $3,055,196.

This is a Bookstore

Several other lines of business live under this same roof, each of them the largest of its kind in this Province. But, first and foremost, this is a BOOKSTORE, and especially it is a School Book Depot. All the authorized School and College Books are kept in stock, and a big stock of all School Requisites, and the prices are always as low as the lowest. Need we say more?

THE BUBONIC PLAGUE.

Great Mortality and Excitement.

BOMBAY, Jan. 7.—The plague returns for the past forty-eight hours record, 142 cases and 115 deaths. There is a general exodus of the population and a suspension of the business is threatening.

An Old Friend Arrives

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Among the passengers on the London, is the Earl of Ava, eldest son of the Marquis of Dufferin and a former Governor-General of Canada.

LATEST NEWS BY WIRE AND MAIL

PARIS, Jan. 4.—The Liberte asserts that Hippolyte Lhote, over which the Mexican flag is reported to have been hoisted by a party of marines after the Stars and Strips had been hauled down, really belongs to France and is, "Naturally, the Americans have asked for the protection of their government, but it is France's duty to re-establish order in that island, adjudicate between the Americans and Mexicans and demonstrate our own rights, which have never been contested."

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Brussels correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says that the nephew of King Leopold, of Belgium, Prince Albert Leopold, the heir presumptive of the Belgian throne, will make a long tour of the United States and Canada.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Here are a few rules for you, under the fecund system. Though not exactly correct, they are about what should be the case.

Ten hens in a house 10 by 10 feet are enough.

The yard should be at least ten times as large as the floor of the house.

Ten weeks from shell to market is the time allotted a chick.

Ten cents per pound is about the average price of hens in market for the whole year.

Ten cents should feed a chick ten weeks, and it should then weigh two pounds, if highly fed, the 10 cents covering the greatest abundance of food.

Ten months in the year is usually the highest limit of time during which a hen will lay.

Ten hens with one male is about the proportion.

Ten quarts of corn or its equivalent should feed a hen ten weeks, if she is of a large breed, but ten quarts in three months is a fairer proportion.

Ten pounds is a good weight for males of the larger breeds, 1 year old.

Ten eggs is the average number to each pound.

Ten flocks, each consisting of ten hens, are enough for an acre.

Ten chicks, when just hatched, weigh about one pound.

Ten hens should lay about 1,000 eggs during the year. This allows for some laying more than 100 eggs each, while others may not lay so many.—Poultry Keeper.

TOWN TOPICS.

When a New Yorker tries to remember the part of the city he lives in, he will find that he has just commenced to brough trouble.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Boston asylum advertises for "gratuitous contributions of periodical literature for chemo-sensory distribution." The Bostonians have such a charming way of putting things.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Reading (Pa.) woman knocked her sister through a plate glass window and broke her nose with a fist. Reading is the place where the nice folks have started a crusade against tight.—Cleveland Leader.

Helena may be a good town to sleep in after the cases of the day, but Butte is the best town in which to keep wide awake day and night. There are saloons here that never close.—Butte (Mon.) Inter Mountain.

Chicago papers should beware of trying to shame the city into a regard for art. Better for the windy citizens to go on plowing the Chicago river than meddle with things of which they know nothing. That solidified sewer is easier to cultivate than art.—Kansas City Times.

CANADA.

If we will play for fun while she plays for keeps, Canada kindly consents to come into our yard and play her one alley against our whole pocketful of marbles.—Milwaukee Journal.

The military spirit is not strong in Canadians. There is not in this country that constant pressure of conviction that there is in England that the day may come when by our arms our rights must be defended.—Montreal Herald.

The popular idea in this country, and in Canada also, with those who can read between the lines, is that the people of the Dominion are not quite so sure that "patriotic independence" will butter Canadian parsnips.—Tacoma Ledger.

WHEEL WHIRLS.

What commission do these doctors get anyway for prescribing bicycles?—Boston Globe.

In India when a native sees a bicycle he reverently prostrates himself. He does not wait to be run over.—Washington Star.

The chief advantage of the chainless bicycle appears to be that no one can mistake it for a last year's model.—Detroit News.

In Germany it is proposed to put a very heavy tariff on American bicycles. It will be a revenue raiser, for the world is not willing to be deprived of its American wheels.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
