THE APPRECIATIVE "THANK YOU"

It is the Small Courtesies that Make Life Worth Living

"On every hand one hears of the neglect to say 'thank you,' writes Edward W. Bok on 'The Saying of 'Thank You,' in the November Ladies' Home Journal. I wonder sometimes if some people really know how little of what comes to them is their due and right, and how much of what comes to them is by favor and courtesy. The vast majority of things which come to us, come by pure favor, by courtesy. And we should recognize this. No act of kindness, however slight, should go unnoticed. A 'thank you' is a simple thing to say; it requires but a few moments to write it, but it often means much; it means everything sometimes to the person receiving it. It means a renewed faith in human nature in some cases. A word of thanks is never lost, never wasted. If it sometimes seems to be lost upon the person to whom it is directed, its expression has not been lost upon some one else who has heard it. It is certainly not lost upon our selves. The most of us are quick enough to thank some one who does us a great service. But the small courtesies, just as great as the large service in reality, we overlook. It doesn't seem worth while to give thanks for small things. And yet what would we be to-day, and where would some of us be but for the small courtesies of life? They are what make life worth living."

"It is all very well to have the last Thursday of each November set apart as a day of Thanksgiving. But it would be far better if a great many of us carried the spirit of the day into all other days. Perhaps, if we did so we might have more mercies to be thankful for on Thanksgiving Day. Do not let the spirit of thanks stop with nightfall on Thanksgiving Day. Let us extend it to all the other days of the year, to the people whose lives touch ours. When we receive a favor at the hands of any one, no matter how small it may be, let us say the words, 'Thank you.' If they should be written let us write them. Let us not delay them, but take advantage of the instant when our heart is touched. Let there be more 'thank you's' said by everybody—thousands of them. And the world will be a better, brighter and happier place to live in because of them."

St. John Sun: While Great Britain is sure to maintain a pre-eminence in some lines of industry, it is now admitted that the United States and Germany will in the near future be close competitors over nearly the whole field. Until recently the British economist always contended that while the United States might manufacture for the home trade under protection there was no possibility of making headway in the markets of the world while that policy was maintained. England does not talk that way now. Even the Cobden Club people perceive that some countries with a protective tariff are reaching out for export trade, and are actually competing in the English home market in English staple products.

THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE for November is an exceptionally good number. Its table of contents starts with "Some Days and Nights in Little China," by Mabel C. Craft, in which the Chinatown of San Francisco is described with all its picturesque and its oddity. Mr. Freeman Furbish has a clever semi-humorous sketch entitled "Football as we find it," in which the big games are described in a most amusing manner. Mr. Haynie, for many years Paris correspondent of the Boston Herald and other papers, has an illustrated article of a pastoral nature picturing the vineyard customs and scenes in the pleasant districts of France. Mr. Arthur W. Tarbell has a clever article treating of the "College Settlements of the Great Cities," designed to show the work done by college men in the slums. The other articles in this excellent publication are all good and well worth reading. "The National Magazine." For sale at all news-stands. The W. W. Potter Co., 91 Bedford Street, Boston.

Denis, while playing on the trapeze, fell to the ground head foremost and with so much violence that the lad's neck was broken.

HE DIDN'T KNOW.—The North Sydney Herald tells this story: A well known Presbyterian minister, whose parish is in this county, was in Arichat on a recent Sunday. The proprietor of the hotel at which he was stopping invited him to vesper that evening, and there being no church of his own denomination there, the minister went. Our minister, on seeing the people putting a hand to the fount, which is at the entrance of all Catholic churches, thought they were making contributions, and he gravely dropped a coin into the holy water.
