

The Daily Examiner

JULY 29, 1885.

Editorial Notes.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, in a speech at Hackney, a few days ago, said that the Conservatives, in promising an inquiry into the Maantrassa cases, had done more to weaken the cause of justice than anything that the Nationalists had ever done.

The New York Herald, notes with satisfaction that the tributes paid to the memory of General Grant by the English and Continental press are couched in a spirit of friendly international courtesy that is worthy of recognition.

The Monetary Times remarks: "Now that the insurrection in the North West has been crushed, it has been deemed advisable to take precautions against a future outbreak, by vesting in the Government power to ascertain what persons, in a particular district which it may be necessary to proclaim, are in possession of arms."

The Patriot labors to impress the people of this Province with the idea that they have been deeply injured by the Franchise Act, and that the Act is not uniform.

The worthless scapegrace, without a dollar in his pocket, who gets somebody to pay his road or poll tax, if he was only 21 years of age on the day His Excellency assented to the Franchise Bill, will have a vote all his life, while hundreds this year, and a greater number every succeeding year, of educated, well-read and well-behaved young men, born a day, a week, a month, a year or several years too late to be entitled to a manhood suffrage vote under Sir John's bill, dare not approach the ballot box.

The young men in this Province who come of age after the passage of the Bill are in precisely the same position under the Franchise Act, as other young men all over Canada. So far, at least, uniformity is preserved. The young men in this Province who were of age before the Act came into operation already possessed the right to vote, and to dispossess them of this right would have been wrong.

THE FEELING IN MANITOBA.—Says the Winnipeg Times: Mr. Thomas Patrick, a prominent farmer of London Township, has just returned from an extended trip to the Northwest and Manitoba, visiting Portage la Prairie, Brandon and the Souris district. He reports a splendid country and magnificent crops, especially spring wheat, peas and oats.

We learn from the Montreal Gazette that the Dominion Government has determined to put its own sleeping cars and parlor cars on the Intercolonial Railway.

General Grant.

HIS LAST EXPRESSIONS.

Dr. Douglas has produced the following slips as among the last expressions of General Grant:—"I feel sorry at the prospect of living through the summer and fall in the condition I am in. I do not think I can, but I may. Except that I do not gather strength, I feel quite as well from day to day as I have done heretofore, but I am losing strength. I feel it more in the inability to move about than in any other way, or rather in the lack of a desire to try to move."

MESSAGES OF CONDOLENCE.

Among the many messages of condolence received by the widow of General Grant, are the following:—

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.

To Mrs. F. S. Grant. Her Majesty the Queen requests me to convey to yourself and family her sincere condolences on the death of General Grant.

BRITISH MINISTER. LONDON, July 24.

To Mrs. U. S. Grant. Accept our deepest sympathy on loss of your distinguished husband. We shall always look back with gratification at having had the advantage of knowing him personally.

PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF WALES.

Boston Markets.

BOSTON, July 25.

Eggs.—The market is quiet, and only strictly fresh Eastern command 15c. Northern and Provincial are selling at 13 1/2 and 14c., but it is hard to get over 13 1/2 for Canadian. Western are slow at 12 1/2 and 13c. per dozen. The hot weather restricts trade. We quote P. E. Island at 14c.

FISH.—Receipts of Mackerel for the week have been quite large and aggregate 13,350 bbls., including 11,496 bbls. from fleet and domestic ports, and 1,854 bbls. from foreign ports. Many of the latter were Bay trips sent home by American fishermen. For Mackerel the market is demoralized, and it is hard to give a reliable selling price. Fare lots of Shore have been selling at $3 and $3.25 per bbl., with barrel, mostly rimmed and largely No. 2; and lots at $2.75 per barrel with barrel. This latter price does not cover expenses. Dealers are offering inspected lots at $3 for plain No. 3; $3.75 to $4 for trimmed; and $5 to $7 for No. 2. These low prices do not induce buyers to operate and the market closes very dull. Nova Scotia large No. 3 are hard to sell at any reasonable price and have been quoted nominally at $5.50 to $6 per bbl. Codfish have been quiet but the weather has not been favorable for curing and prices are fairly maintained. We quote large dry Bank at $4.75, and medium, $2.75 per qtl. Nothing of consequence doing in pickle cured. There is no demand for Pickled Herring and prices are entirely nominal. Canned Lobsters are in fair request at $1.55 to $1.65 per dozen, duty paid.

A Modern Machiavel.

LORD RANDOLPH CHURCHILL CREDITED WITH A BENT OF POLITICAL CHICANE.

It is evidence of Lord Randolph Churchill's reputation as a political Machiavel that the defection of the Irish members in the division on the medical relief is attributed by some observers to an understanding between himself and Mr. Parnell. The issue on which the Conservatives were deserted by their Nationalist allies, though wearing a look of consequence, was really immaterial. The clause had been inserted as a compromise proposal without much expectation of its acceptance. The bill itself was only nominally a government measure, and the cabinet had it in their power to correct the adverse vote of the Commons in the House of Lords.

As there had been a good deal of murmuring among the Ulster Tories regarding the compact between the Government and Mr. Parnell, Lord Randolph, it is said, intimated to the Irish leader that the division on the relief clause offered a favorable opening for independent action. If the Nationalists' vote were cast against the Government, two birds might be killed with one stone. The Ulster members who had gone so far as to liken Mr. Parnell to Lord Harrowby, on the ground that he was "a member of the cabinet serving without pay," would infer that they were far out in their estimate. And English Conservatives of the old Northcote school might desist from antagonizing the Churchill policy of conciliation when they saw how easily the support of the Parnellites could be diverted to the Liberal side.

THE ST. JOHN, N. B., GLOBE is informed that the necessary authority for the release, by the Mexican Government, of Robinson the forger has been granted, and that the prisoner will start for St. John in a few days.

A Sea Monster.

On the 22nd inst., the schooner Drednaught brought into Portland, Me., what old sailors term the largest sea turtle ever found in New England waters. The monster measured seven feet two inches in length and weighed 1000 pounds. "We had a hard tussle with the critter," said Harpooner Jordan. "One of our men was sitting on the bow when the monster thrust his head out of the waves and snapped at him. 'My God!' a sea serpent!" exclaimed he. We put out in a dory, and when he saw us he gave chase. I harpooned him in the neck. One man had his foot caught in the line and was carried overboard. We fought him for an hour. One man was injured by a blow, and before the critter was subdued a third man was knocked overboard and our boat was sinking."

Treaty with America.

TRADE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND THE BRITISH WEST INDIES.

Col. Frederick Stanley, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has tacitly promised to revive the negotiations which were abandoned by Lord Derby, his predecessor in office, for a commercial treaty between the United States and the British colonies in the United States. It is true that Col. Stanley declined to make any promise to this effect to the deputation, headed by Charles Tennant, M. P. for Selkirkshire and Peebleshire, which called on him yesterday, and urged him to take steps to secure such a treaty, but, in private conversation with different members of the deputation after the formal conference, the new Colonial Secretary practically committed himself to a resumption of the negotiations with the Washington Government.

Davitt Declines.

WILL NEVER CONSENT TO HOLD A SEAT IN THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

Michael Davitt, the Irish patriot, having been again invited to become a candidate for a seat in Parliament, has written a public letter in which he declares: "I have determined that I will never sit in the British Parliament. This determination is irrevocable. Fifteen years ago I was sentenced in the name of the Queen to a term of servitude which is now expiring. I cannot perform an act which would compel me to seal my forgiveness and forgetfulness of all this personal wrong and inhumanity by invoking God's name as testimony of my loyalty and devotion to the power which inflicted this wrong."

An American Opinion.

The New York Tribune says: "The Canadian citizen soldiers who are receiving so hearty a welcome now on their return from the Northwest Territories deserve all the applause they get. They have, indeed, had a rough campaign. The half-breeds whom they had to fight are much worse foes than the Indians, for to the endurance of the savage they add superior intelligence and cunning which they gained with the French strain in their blood. Moreover, the fighting had to be done in an exceedingly rough country, where there were few or no roads, where communication was slow and difficult, and where supplies could not be obtained at any cost. It was a tough job which the militiamen had set before them; but it was undertaken with pluck, carried through with intelligence, and crowned with success. No wonder they are royally received."

The Campaign in France.

The French electoral campaign is proceeding with bewildering daily increase of issues. Intrigues and combinations, with scarcely any other motive than self-ambition, are discernible. The slap in the face which the Chamber of Deputies gave the city of Lyons, by taking the side of Rouen in the tariff fight, has angered the whole south of France, and a sectional quarrel has begun which will probably exert a great influence in the elections. The sending of Delehaine to Rome is suddenly interpreted as a sign of ministerial desire to placate the vatican and induce the Pope to nominate some French cardinals at next week's consistory in hope of winning Catholic votes. From Rome it is reported that Leo XIII is gratified at this change of front, and is amiably disposed, but that it is too late to add new names or postpone the consistory. Unless help comes from this quarter partisan feuds and personal ambitions bid fair to imperil the republican working majority in the next Chamber.

Earl Spencer Banqueted.

A banquet was given at London, July 24, to Earl Spencer, late Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. Two hundred members of the House of Commons were present. The Marquis of Hartington presided. He proposed the health of Earl Spencer in a eulogistic speech, in the course of which he commended the Earl's administration of the vice-royalty. Earl Spencer replying said he had tried to do his duty to his sovereign and his country fearlessly in sight of the world. He said that the crimes act was justified, when passed, by the presence in Ireland of 30,000 Fenians, who were aided by members of Parliament from England and Scotland and by friends from America in resisting the laws of the land. The chief seat of the difficulties, he said, was Ulster, which was the Parnellites' stronghold, and the scene of incessant seditious gatherings. Nothing, he said, could be more dangerous or productive of discontent than to attempt to govern Ireland as a crown colony without representative institutions. John Bright, in proposing the health of the Chairman, vindicated Earl Spencer's policy. He said the men who brought charges against Earl Spencer and the Irish judges were disloyal to the crown and directly hostile to Great Britain. They had so far as they could obstructed legislation, which was intended to prevent or discover and punish crime. The Marquis of Hartington responded.

THE Mutual Relief Society of Nova Scotia. Home Office - - Yarmouth.

THIS Society was established for the purpose of providing the benefits afforded by Life Insurance Companies at the actual cost to each member. The fact that this Society has secured its present large membership and won its way to public confidence, while having to contend with the misrepresentations of agents of other companies, and the dissatisfaction of a large number of our citizens, caused by their unpleasant expressions as members of American Assessment Companies, is an evidence that the plan as offered the public only needs to be understood to be appreciated.

Additional evidence of the superiority of the Nova Scotia Mutual is that during the first six months of 1885, 450 new members have been added, to whom bonds for $92,000 have been given.

Nearly a Million of New Business in Six Months.
