Monseignor Case Reference Sparks Scandal Speculation

OTTAWA (CP) — Unexplained references by Justice Minister Cardin in the Commons Friday to the "Monseignor case" have drawn newspaper speculation of a sex-and-security scandal involving a Conservative cabinet minister in 1961.

The Toronto and Montreal news stories said Mr. Cardin was apparently referring to Olga Munsinger, one-time clerk in a Communist embassy here, who was variously described as blonde, voluptuous and an "ex-German beauty queen."

The Toronto Star said the RCMP had photographs showing Miss Munsinger "nude, lying in bed with a man . . . and the man was a minister in the Diefenbaker cabinet in 1961."

The newspaper reports agreed that no secrets changed hands and national security was not involved.

The accounts all interpreted use of the word "Monseignor" despite that spelling in the Hansard account of Friday's Commons debate, as referring to "Munsinger."

Mr. Cardin, under heavy attack during debate on the Victor Spencer case, suddenly said to Opposition Leader Diefenbaker: "I want the right hon. gentleman to tell the House about his participation in the Monseignor case when he was prime minister of this country."

SAYS HE ISN'T WORRIED
Mr. Diefenbaker said he wasn't worried. "Have your commission look into it."

Later Friday Davie Fulton, former Conservative justice minister, criticized Mr. Cardin's reference to the Monseignor case.

"Let me tell him that that approach to blackmail will not work. . . . Produce the details if you think there is anything which should be exposed. . . . That kind of intimidation simply will not work."

The Toronto Globe and Mail also mentioned the alleged association between Miss Munsinger and a Conservative cabinet minister and the existence of RCMP photos showing them in a compromising situation.

Montreal La Presse says the RCMP turned the photos over to the then justice minister Fulton.

"It is said that he met his colleague who, confronted by the photographic evidence, denied having given away any secrets whatsoever," reads the La Presse story.

REFERENCE IN MONTREAL
Montreal Star also mentioned Mr. Cardin's "veiled reference to a sex-and-security scandal."

Gilles Gregoire (Creditiste-Lapointe) also asked Mr. Diefenbaker about the Monseignor case.

"Was that case one of national security, like the Spencer case now being studied? In that case, were sanctions imposed upon individuals without their having had the privilege of trial or judicial inquiry similar to the one now requested?"

"Might it not be that the former prime minister intervened personally so that proceedings or an inquiry might be avoided?"

The Commons did not get answers to any of the questions raised.

The newspaper accounts said Miss Munsinger was deported from Canada and died in East Germany of leukemia two years ago.

Compromise Paves Way For Acadia U Settlement

By DAVE NICHOLSON
HALIFAX (CP)—A dramatic last-minute compromise Tuesday appeared to pave the way towards an end to the battle over control of Acadia University.

Donald C. MacNeil, a Presbyterian who is chairman of the Nova Scotia legislature's private and local bills committee, negotiated the compromise, which could end a bitter dispute over membership of the university's board of governors.

Although Mr. MacNeil's suggestion hasn't been given final approval, all parties involved in the dispute said Tuesday they are prepared to accept it.

The disagreement broke into the open last summer after the Atlantic Baptist Convention passed a resolution to bar non-Christians from the faculty of the Wolfville, N.S., university. The convention appoints 16 of the 30 members of the board of governors and must approve the remaining 14 nominations made by the university's associated alumni.

RESORT TO LEGISLATION
After protests from the alumni and board failed to sway the convention, legislation to increase the board membership and alter methods of its selection was introduced in the Nova Scotia legislature under alumni sponsorship. Board membership would be increased to 36 with the board, alumni, convention and the provincial cabinet each naming nine members.
