cessors as men who have sought to disfranchise the great body of the Electors? When was ever such a thing even attempted, or by whom? No man who has hitherto been entitled to vote has ever been even threatened with the deprivation of his franchise. On the contrary, there has appeared in all classes an anxiety to extend the rights of franchise as far as, keeping the peculiarities of our situation in view, it was prudent so to do. It is, however, just as true as that which follows it, viz: that the same party are "labouring to destroy the constitution of the country." All men are now convinced that Responsible Government is the Constitution of the country, and all honest men will stand by and uphold it; and they will, we trust, go further; place it upon a firmer and more secure basis than that which, under the present party in power, has crumbled to pieces. Departmental Government, we are now thoroughly convinced—and our conviction has been the work of the present administration, for we were formerly of a different opinion—is not the one best adapted to the wants of Prince Edward Island, and that greater evils are engendered by it, than were ever experienced by the Country under the old System, even under its most despotic form.

We shall answer some of Mr Whelan's observations in our next.

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW, FOR OCTORER, 1853.

This periodical is remarkably rich in attractive matter, for various classes of readers. It treats of—

1. The Institute of France; giving a summary of its history, from its first commencement to the present time, and is a part of the history of European Literature, — for all great institutions, such as the above, have a reciprocal action on each other, for not only their individual benefit, but for the general advancement of learning.

2. The Murder of Thomas a Becket. This important and interesting event in the history of our Father Land, is here described with a vividness and felicity which gives to it a scenic and dramatic character. We can see the bloody and infamous deed reacted in all its atrocity; and those who are unwilling to award to the ambitious and aspiring churchman the titles of saint and martyr, claimed for him by his church, are, nevertheless, compelled to admit, that the conduct of his king, and of those assassins who acted by his permission, expressed or implied, is without excuse, and that he met his end with the courage and determination of a man who felt strong in the honesty and propriety of his conduct.

3. Louis XVII. This is a page of history by itself, and one much wanted. It affords a melancholy proof, among others profusely furnished by the French Revolution, that when irresponsible power is entrusted to the hands of a mob, there is no telling to what atrocities it may not be subservient. It affords, also, another exemplification of the truth of the aphorism, that Fact is sometimes stranger than fiction.

4. The Holy Places. — The public attention has been lately called to this subject, after a lapse of centuries; and this article will be read with much satisfaction by those who take an interest in these disquisitions.

2. The Diary of Causaubon.—This will hardly attract the general reader, but will be read with eagerness by those to whom the vicissitudes in the life of a scholar of such high renown carry with them, and which are too often,—though not in this instance—attended with melancholy and regret, notwithstanding the halo thrown around them by the admiration both of contemporaries and posterity.

6. Electro-Biology, Mesmerism and Table Turning.—This article deserves, and will find an attentive perusal; but, to do it justice, would take a notice as long as the article itself. Suffice it to say, that, admitting the phenomena attendant upon Electro-Biology, &c., it accounts for them upon physiological and psychological principles. That the attention of the mind being fixed upon some dominant idea, the body becomes automatic, and is governed by the principle of suggestion. This, we are aware, is not easily understood; and we therefore refer our readers to the article itself, where the principle is illustrated by examples drawn from dreaming, somnambulism, &c.

7. The Life of Haydon.—A melancholy but instructive account of the Antobiography of an ambitious but disappointed artist.

MUTUAL IMPROVEMNT ASSOCIATION.—On Friday evening last, 13th inst. Mr. William Heard delivered a very instructive and entertaining lecture on "Electro-Galvanism" or the "Uses of the Galvanic Battery." After introducing his subject, with some remarks upon the original discovery of the science, and its rapid development, especially within the last ten years, the lecturer clearly explained the component parts of the instrument, and its mode of application in the Electric Telegraph. The Electric light, destined probably soon to supersede every other description of artificial light, the process of Electro-plating, the application of the Galvanic fluid for blasting and for medical purposes were each successively treated in his usual happy style, while his experiments at the close tended fully to corroborate the facts he had been stating.

On Friday next, 20th inst. a lecture will be delivered by a member, on "The Advantages of Mutual Improvement Assosiations," when the public generally are invited to attend.

At a public Meeting, held on the site of the Chapel ground at Montague, on the 14th of December, it was unanimously agreed, that a vote of thanks be given to William Douse, Esq, for his liberality in being the means of obtaining from the Earl of Selkirk, fifty Acres of Land, as a gift to St. Michael's Church, Montague.

The above Resolution was put to the Meeting, and carried with acclamation.

Signed on behalf of the Meeting,
RICHARD GILL, Chairman.

FOR SALE, a double SLEIGH, fitted for one or two Horses, with Furs &c., complete. It can be obtained at a very low price on early application Haszard's Gazette Office.
reembe 11, 1.538

The Colonial Mail arrived to day at about 4 o'clock. We can find no news of importance in the papers.

We understand that His Excellency Sir Alexander Bannerman received a private note, intimating that a person would be immediately appointed to the Government of this Island, and offering Sir Alexander the Government of the Bahamas. The report in the Canada papers, that Sir D. Daly was appointed to the Government of New Brunswick, seems to be unfounded; so that it is very likely he may be offered the Government of this Island, as we before intimated.

THE APPOINTMENT OF A NEW LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.—We are enabled to state on good authority, that up to the departure of the last mail from England, no person whatever had been named as successor to the present Lieut. Governor of this Province. The announcement in the Canadian papers that such an appointment had taken place, is altogether premature and without foundation.—New Brunswicker

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND ALMANACK FOR 1854.

THE Calendar for the present year, was not put forward without an apology; but the public have not as yet been made acquainted with the facts connected with its not containing the usual information, or the reasons that induced the Publisher to issue it without being in as perfect a state as it was his intention and wish to make it. In order to render it as acceptable to the public, as worthy of the increasing importance of the colony, the publisher had imported a series of new cuts, highly finished and peculiarly appropriate to an Almanack, which would have made it greatly superior to its predecessors; and he intended to commence printing it in August last. From the want, however, of a Nautical Almanack, which from some unforeseen circumstances did not arrive with the spring supplies, the calendar pages could not be calculated —and that part, therefore, was necessarily deferred. The portion of which the printing might be next commenced, but which would require both time and much care in the preparation of the matter, was the statistics of the Island,—the Imports, Exports, Revenue, &c.—which would have to be compiled from the public documents contained in the appendix to the Journals of the House of Assembly for 1853,— the only authentic source available for the purpose; but on enquiring for this work, which has generally been completed by the end of July at furthest, he found that it was not to be had even in October,—at which time the busy season set in, and the publisher having some work to complete for another place, was compelled to postpone the printing of the Calendar until after the closing of the navigation. But as Almanacks are usually sought after at the commencement of the year, and particularly by our friends in the country, who generally visit the town at this season,—and as many changes are likely to take place with respect to local matters early in the season, — it was deemed expedient not to defer the publication of the Calendar for the sake of the supplementary matter, — a great part of which, for the reason already alleged, might tend to mislead rather than inform.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE
WEEKLY—ENLARGED.

ON the 11th of last April THE DAILY TRIBUNE, having completed its twelfth year, was enlarged more than one fourth, or to the size of The London Times making it considerably larger than any other cheap Daily published in this country or in the world. No change in price was made in consequence of this Enlargement—the paper being still afforded to Mail Subscribers at $5 per annum and sold to Carriers and to Agents ordering it by Express or Mail for distant sale at $1 50 for one hundred copies, or $15 per thousand copies, payable in advance. At these prices our aggregate receipts for our entire Daily edition do not exceed the sums we pay for Paper and Ink, leaving all other expenses to be defrayed from our receipts for Advertising. In other words, we return to each purchaser of our paper from us, his money's worth in the naked sheet we send him, looking for the reward of our own labor and the heavy expenses of Telegraphing, Correspondence, Reporting, Composition, Printing, Mailing, Book-keeping, Rent, &c., to our Advertisers alone. We do not think it now possible to cheapen newspapers beyond this point; if it ever shall be hereafter, we intend to be even with the foremost in demonstrating the fact.

Our SEMI-WEEKLY, EUROPEAN and CALIFORNIA editions were enlarged simultaneously and equally with the Daily, and also without any increase of price. We respectfully solicit a comparison of our Semi-Weekly at $3 per annum, [two copies sent a full year for $5, and ten copies for $20,] with any $4 or $5 Semi-Weekly, and will cheerfully send copies for this purpose upon directro post-paid application.

THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE entered on its thirteenth year on the 3d of September, it was enlarged to the size of the Semi-Weekly and Daily, adding more than one-fourth to its capacity—also without increase of price. This Enlargement adds at least $20,000 per annum to our expenses, in addition to the previous cost of our Daily Enlargement already effected. All our editions from the 1st of September appeared in entirely new and beautiful type, prepared expressly for this paper. Our Steam Cylinder Presses are not surpassed by any in the world. Even though our Weekly Edition should be rapidly run up to 100,000 copies, we are prepared to print and mail every copy on the day (Thursday) that the form is put to press, without interrupting or retarding the regular issue of our three Daily editions, amounting to Twenty-odd Thousand copies. We stand ready to adopt any improvements, however expensive, which will enable us to disseminate intelligence more freshly and effectively, and shall especially hail, as we labor to effect a radical improvement in the celerity and reliability of the Mails.

THE TRIBUNE has not now its character to make or to proclaim. It has not been and never can be a mere party organ. It has supported the Whig party because the distinctive principles of that party appeared to favor the great ends which it has laboured to subserve; it never advocated a measure because it was proposed or sustained by the Whig party. It holds itself at all times as free to condemn unsound principles, unwise measures or corrupt acts should the two former be propounded or the latter perpetrated by Whigs as though they had emanated from the hostile camp. In so far as Peace, Liberty, Education Temperance, Internal Improvement and Industrial Development may be subserved by acting with the Whig party, it must continue to be, as it has been, Whig.

Though never acting with any Abolition or other one-idea party, THE TRIBUNE is and must be the relentless foe of Human Slavery, as of whatever else tends to degrade Labor and obstruct the intellectual and social development of any portion of mankind. Were it able to perceive that a vote in New-York could abolish Slavery in Carolina, it might attatch itself to some one of the expressly Anti-Slavery parties: lacking that light, it declines to abandon the substances for the shadow of political good. But while it does not see its way clear of any effective Political action against Slavery in the States which now cherish it, it regards the defeat of whatever effort to extend the giant wrong under the flag of our Union, or to obstruct by its power the progress of Abolition in other lands, as among the most urgent and sacred of public duties, not to be subordinated to any party consideration whatever. And, while it does not propose to make Anti-Slavery the basis of Political action, other than defensive, it will neglect no opportunity, remit no effort, so to diffuse Light and Truth as to render the continuance of Slavery impossible in a land irradiated by the sun of Christianity and boasting itself the great exemplar of Political Justice and law-guarded Freedom.

For Temperance in all things, but especially the disuse of Intoxicating Beverages and the legal suppression of the Liquor Traffic, we shall struggle, as we have struggled, unflinchingly and untiringly. We regard the Maine Law as essentially the most beneficent statute of our day, and confidently hope to see it soon prevail universally.

The Congressional Reports and Washington Correspondence will, as heretofore, be both reliable and satisfactory.

The Markets for Grain, Cattle, Cotton and other products of the country, will receive proper attention, and be reliably reported in THE TRIBUNE.

On our correspondence with the most important points throughout the world we need not here dilate. Of the fact that our Associate, BAYARD TAYLOR, is now on the other side of the globe, sending us advices from the seat of war in China, and expecting soon to depict for our readers the physical, moral and social characteristics of jealousy-guarded Japan, the public is already aware He will probably return by way of Australia and California, in both of which we have several correspondents. Briefly—we shall spare no expense to keep our readers well advised on every subject of interest, and doubt not that the same generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to us will continue to repay all our exertions.

Any friend who believes he will do good by increasing the circulation of THE TRIBUNE is authorised to solicit and receive subscriptions; and, on due proof that money has been mailed and postpaid to our address, we take the responsibility of its safe transmission. Specimen Copies will promptly be sent without charge to those requiring them, and we trust many friends will be moved to ask their neighbours and acquaintances to join in making up a Club to commence with our Enlarged Sheet and New-Type on the first of September, or at any time thereafter.

A limited amount of space in the WEEKLY TRIBUNE will be appropriated to advertising.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

Single copy, 1 year, 52 numbers. . . .	$2 00
Three copies, 1 year, 52 numbers. . . .	5 00
Five copies, 1 year, 52 numbers. . . .	8 00
Ten copies, one year, 52 numbers. . . .	12 00
Twenty copies, 1 year, to one address. . .	20 00

The extremely low price at which the WEEKLY TRIBUNE is now furnished to Club subscribers, absolutely precludes our allowing any commissions, either in money or by an extra paper.

Subscriptions may commence at any time. Payment in advance is required in all cases, and the paper is invariably discontinued at the expiration of the advance payment.

Money may be remitted for subscriptions in letters at our risk, but the postmaster at the place where the letter is mailed should be made acquainted with its contents and keep a description of the bills.

Bills of any specie-paying bank in the United States or Canadas, received at par for subscriptions.
