THE DAILY EXAMINER.

DECEMBER 3, 1879.

Union of Great Britain and Her Colonies.

MR. FORSTER, M. P. for Bradford, who is regarded as likely in the coming time to be a Premier of England, in a recent speech, said:

"There is one special alliance I look forward to in the interests of the future of our race—nay, the future of the world—and that is a special alliance with our kinsmen, with the whole of the English-speaking people."

The St. John "News" remarks:—

"Such an alliance as that would, no doubt, be extremely desirable. The English speaking race receiving additions from so many other races day by day is pursuing a wonderful career, and seems to be reserved for a glorious destiny. Holding as it does such precious trusts for the benefit of mankind at large, a good understanding and cordial co-operation between all its branches seem exceedingly desirable."

New Brunswick Industries.

Things are moving, even in New Brunswick, under the National Policy. Nearly $100,000 has been secured for a Sugar Refinery in Moncton, since St. John will not move in the matter. The foundations of a Brass Rolling Mill and Lock Factory have been laid in the same place, and in the same town the stock has been rapidly taken up for a Knitting Factory. This is not a bad record. In St. John a party has commenced to make Blacking for sale throughout Canada, samples of which have been left at this office. Two establishments (Mr. L. H. Young, Waterloo street, and Mr. Waring, of Indiantown,) have engaged in the manufacture of Iron Nuts. Mr. Young's machine turns out a ton per day, worth $150 to $200 per ton. Messrs. Parks & Sons' cotton mill has been enlarged to double its old capacity to meet the increased demands for its goods under the N. P. Other new enterprises and improvements are to follow. We might cite scores of evidences of the benefits which the New Tariff is conferring and is likely to confer on the people of New Brunswick.—St. John Sun.

Princess Louise in London.

Says a late London journal:—Her Royal Highness Princess Louise visited the East London Hospital for children on the 7th inst. Though the intention of Her Royal Highness to inspect the hospital had not been made widely known, a crowd of persons had assembled to greet her when the Royal carriage drove up to the building. The Princess, who was accompanied by Dr. Agnew Clark, one of the consulting physicians to the hospital, was received by the Committee of Management. Her Royal Highness having accepted a beautiful bouquet from the hands of Mrs. Reeves, whose husband, Mr. H. A. Reeves, is one of the surgeons connected with the institution, proceeded to inspect the Princess Mary ward and the Enfield ward. In her tour of the rooms her Royal Highness stopped at the bedside of nearly every child, and in many cases accompanied her words of kindly encouragement with the gift of a flower. The Rev. A. Carter was deputed by the Princess to make a similar gift to the mother of an infant for whom there is a small chance of recovery. Having completed her inspection of the wards, her Royal Highness was conducted to the Board Room, where she signed her name in the visitor's book, and was afterwards shown the nurses dining-room, the out-patients' room, the dispensary, and other apartments. Before leaving the hospital her Royal Highness kindly consented to have her name inscribed as its patroness, and expressed, through Dr. Agnew Clark to the Board of Management, the satisfaction she derived from the visit. As the Royal carriage drove off, three ringing cheers were given for the Princess.

There is good authority for saying that there is no truth in the report of the Princess being about to change her religion or of her having "had enough" of Canada.

A new Australian delicacy is finding its way into the London market: dried kangaroo tongues, cured by drying in smoke.

The Hochelaga Cotton Co. intend adding a bag factory to their works, where the manufacture of seamless bags will give employment to a large number of additional hands.

There is a very great difference between the late Treasurer of Quebec, M. Langelier, and M. G. Drolet, the Auditor. The former, in his explanation to the House claimed a surplus of $646,310, and the latter announces a deficiency of $671,811.64. The truth will probably be got at next session of the Legislature.

Winter Communication—A Suggestion.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—I see in your issue of the 2nd inst., an editorial to the effect that the Northern Light, which has been tried for the last two winters between Georgetown and Pictou with very little satisfaction to the public, is about to be placed on the route between the Capes. You say still further "if the Government would procure two small, staunch, easily managed steamers—something like tug boats—to ply at the Capes during the depth of winter, they would in our opinion do right." Now, sir, I think the public will concur with you in that opinion, as it is self evident to every one who has given the least thought to the subject, that the Northern Light is a gigantic fraud, foisted on the people of Prince Edward Island to satisfy the greedy clamour of a needy supporter of the late Government. Would it not be as well for the Government to hire one of the steam tugs in our harbor as an experiment, as one of them has proved herself a good sea boat, having been tested in very severe weather in the gulf. Her hire for two or three seasons would not amount to the sum which the "gigantic fraud" cost on the slip at Pictou last spring. Hoping that you will ventilate this subject in your widely circulating and influential journal, I beg leave to remain, Your obedient servant, SUBSCRIBER.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

EMIGRANTS FOR CANADA.

A Toronto despatch says that during the ten months ending Oct. 31st last, 10,662 emigrants arrived in that city, against 11,452 in the corresponding period last year. The nationalities were: English, 10,639; Scotch, 2,614; Irish, 3,039; Germans, 1,239; Americans, 2,591; Icelanders, 37; Swiss, 129; other countries, 604. The large number of American emigrant is noticeable.

SHIPMENTS OF LIVE STOCK FOR THE SEASON.

According to the statistics furnished by McEachran, V. S., and Government Inspector of Live Stock, the total shipments this year from Montreal and Quebec, from the opening to the close of navigation, as compared with the two preceding years, are as follows:—

| | 1879. | 1878. | 1877. |
|---------|--------|--------|-------|
| Cattle, | 24,823 | 18,655 | 6,940 |
| Sheep, | 78,792 | 41,250 | 9,500 |
| Hogs, | 4,745 | 2,078 | 430 |

The great majority of animals shipped from Quebec were forwarded by rail from Montreal, and as large as the increased shipments of cattle, sheep and hogs this year are over 1878 and 1877, the exports next year will doubtless show a still larger increase as compared with those of 1879.

POTATOES IN ENGLAND.

Potatoes in England are worth 7s. sterling per 100 pounds, or 7 cents a pound. If they could be shipped without great waste, there would evidently be considerable profit in exporting them. A commercial letter received by a St. John merchant asks, "Are you not going to send us over some of your potatoes?"—St. John paper.

SHIPBUILDING ON THE CLYDE.

There is no question as to the revival of shipbuilding on the Clyde at least. Every yard there will presently be actively engaged, as orders are pouring in with a rush. The orders already on hand involve the construction of 80,000 tons of shipping. The improved condition of things out of which this revival on the Clyde springs must operate favorably on the shipbuilding industry here also.

POTATO EXPORTS IN NOVA SCOTIA.

A large schooner, called the Harry Buschman, is being loaded with potatoes by the Patrons of Husbandry, for Liverpool, G. B.

The H. B. Jones, loaded with 13,000 bushels of potatoes and 200 barrels of apples, by the Patrons of Husbandry, left Canning for England on Monday night.

The Patrons of Husbandry are also loading two other vessels with potatoes for Europe, one at Kingsport and the other at "Pickets."

The Modeau is also chartered for England, and is being loaded with potatoes by W. H. Payzant, of Canning.—Hz. Herald.

GRAND TRUNK RECEIPTS.

Increase of receipts for twenty-one weeks of this year over the same period of last year, $272,061. Ruin and destruction!

The Land Question in England.

While the Irish are raising such a row about the land question, the equally, if not more, unhappy condition of Englishmen in like conditions of life is overlooked. Here is a story of how an English landlord treats his tenants: "The Duke of Cleveland has lately evicted from their homes on his Devonshire estates about one hundred and sixty families. They and their ancestors have occupied their houses since the Norman conquest. Successive Dukes have refused to repair them until they have become rickety, and the present Duke has conceived his own method of reform. He ordered the families to leave and began burning tenements. The poor people had nowhere to go, and were in great distress. Some gentlemen in the neighborhood remonstrated, but all they could get from the Duke was permission that the evicted might have a month or two of grace to find other shelter." It is thus evident that the land question is not confined to Ireland, and that before long it will be the great national subject of political controversy.

Here is a description of Gladstone:—He looks an active and powerful man, of middle height, with broad though somewhat stooping shoulders. He speaks with animation and uses frequent gestures. His hair is gray, his face puckered with wrinkles, but his eyes are still very young, quick and full of fire.
