SPORTS FRONT

By NICK FILLMORE

6,000 Attend

THE SECOND Northumberland Strait Marathon swim came off as hoped Saturday; with clear skies, a good race and close to 6,000 swim fans on hand.

Herman Willemse continued to dominate the season's professional circuit with his win of more than 700 yards over Abdel Latif Abou-Heif.

Although spectators were curious to see Willemse, Abou-Heif, Mezzadra and the other professionals, they were overjoyed when the lone Maritimer to complete the nine mile Cape Tormentine — Borden crossing Ralph Brooks, 17-year-old Hatfield Point native, struggled ashore at 9 p.m., after 11 hours, 23 minutes in the water.

I think the interest in Brooks is indication enough that swim fans would like to see more emphasis on entries from Maritime swimmers.

Another year there should be a trophy for the top Maritimer. If something isn't done there is a possibility that local entries will be very limited nert year.

No women competitor has made the strait in competition during the past two years. It looks like females need a little encouragement as well. Perhaps a money prize next year.

Some Hitches

I HAVE ALWAYS felt it was the responsibility of sports writers to bite the hand that feeds them if something is wrong on the sports front. We can't help anyone by pulling punches!

There was nothing greatly wrong with the organization of Saturday's swim, but had a little more planning been the order in some fields it could have been a much more enjoyable day for spectators.

Race-to-shore contact wasn't as good as it could have been as the majority of spectators didn't know during the race the positions of the various swimmers. Fans want to know what's going on in the race when it happens, they don't want to watch the rolling of the sea all afternoon and then go home and pick up the results on the radio or from the paper.

Another year contact should be kept continually between the race and Borden and there should be a swim headquarters on the shore at Borden.

There were more activities in Borden this year than last but spectators were poorly informed of this special programs. The softball tournament was poorly attended and the special swims were half over before a crowd collected. Another year a brochure on the activities and a public address system would be a great benefit.

A third problem was, I felt, that there weren't enough persons pitching in and helping with the program. Too few persons were trying to accomplish too much.

Even though I have some complaints, it was still a pretty good day at Borden. I hope you go all out next year.

Willie Mays Hits Slump; Oliva Tops American Loop

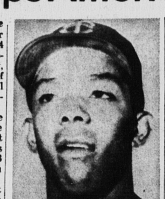
NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays, a giant of a hitter for the opening month of the 1964 baseball season, has been producing like a midget lately, jeopardizing his chances of leading in any of the National League's major batting categories.

On May 13, a month after the campaign got under way, the San Francisco star was well out in front with 44 hits in 94 times at bat for a .468 average, 13 homers and 34 runs batted in for 23 games.

Mays still paces the circuit in homers with 29. However, he has dropped to sixth place in batting with .320. And to third place in RBI with 70 for 104 games.

Over the last 81 games, Willie has hit at only a .272 pace-with 79 hits in 290 tries plus 16 homers and 36 runs batted in. Mays has not homered in his last 14 games.

Billy Williams of Chicago Cubs is the runner-up in home runs with 24. Ken Boyer of St. Louis Cardinals has wrestled the RBI lead from Mays with 78 while Chicago's Ron Santo is second with 74.



TONY OLIVA

Rookie Tony Oliva of Minnesota holds a 13-point lead over New York's Mickey Mantle in the American League.

Oliva picked up two points to .336 last week while Mantle dropped two points to .323. Oliva had 10 hits in 27 at bats while Mantle managed six in 20 attempts.

Jim Fergosi of Los Angeles Angels climbed from fifth to third at .318. He is followed by Brooks Robinson, Baltimore, and Bob Allison, Minnesota, who share fourth place at .309. Fergosi picked up 10 points with 10 hits in 22 times at bat.

Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew slammed two more homers, boosting his leading total to 36. Dick Stuart of Boston is the RBI leader with 85.
