Many Stores Will Be Closed For Long Christmas Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Many stores will be closed for a long weekend across Canada this Christmas.

With the holiday falling on a Friday, a majority of stores in Canadian cities will remain shut Saturday, giving employees three consecutive days off.

A week later during the new year's holiday, however, almost all stores will close only for Jan. 1, opening again for business Saturday.

Banks will be closed for three consecutive days over both holidays.

Only two daily newspapers will be on the streets Christmas Day—the Toronto Globe and Mail and the Victoria Colonist. Most dailies except those in the Maritimes and British Columbia will publish Dec. 26, Boxing Day, but only six—all morning papers—will be available New Year's Day.

Almost all major chain department stores will be closed boxing day. Spokesmen for both Eaton's and Simpson's, two of the largest chains, said they customarily close both Dec. 25 and 26.

NO CHANGE PLANNED

"The fact Boxing Day falls on a Saturday the year is no reason to change that policy," a Simpson's official said.

In Newfoundland stores will be closed Dec. 25 and 26 as well as Jan. 1, but will be open other days through the holiday period. Prince Edward Island stores will follow the same policy.

Most of Halifax's stores will close for a long weekend at Christmas, and provincial and federal offices will be closed Monday, Dec. 28. Only Jan. 1 is a holiday there, however, during the New Year's holiday.

In Saint John, N.B., all businesses will celebrate Cristmas with a long weekend but during the New Year's holiday some stores will open during the morning of Jan. 2.

Many Montreal tores will be open both Dec. 26 and Jan. 2, observing normal hours. The Board of Trade there says most stores also will be open until 9 p.m. Dec. 23 to 30.

ENJOY LONG WEEKEND

Most Ottawa stores will enjoy a long weekend at Christmas but not during New Year's.

Similar policies will be followed in Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver.

In rural Manitoba more than half the towns normally are closed Monday so in 84 towns stores will also be closed Dec. 28, giving employees a four-day holiday.

Dec. 26 was declared a civic holiday in Regina at the request of local retailers, but most will be open Dec. 28. Only a skeleton staff of civic employees will be working that day, however, with others getting the day off in lieu of boxing day falling on a normal nowork day.

Saskatchewan's civil servants will be given Dec. 24 off instead of Dec. 26.

Edmonton has a civic bylaw making Boxing Day a holiday, but both provincial and civic employees will be off Dec. 24 instead of Dec. 26, which would be a normal day off for them.

Russia Bids To Challenge U.S. At Sea

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Navy is bidding strongly to challenge United States naval supremacy, a leading authority on world sea power reported today.

The naval manual Jane's Fighting Ships said the Soviet Union is modernizing and strengthening its navy "and developing a maritime strategy as a major factor of her overall policy of extending her influence throughout the world."

In a foreword to its latest issue, the manual said:

"A subtle change is permeating the Soviet Navy. From a colossus of varied components in which the large majority of the units of the fleet were either old vessels or probing and experimental, the navy is settling down to a compact and streamlined force short of superfluity and more in keeping with the channelled specialization of the technological age."

At the same time, said Jane's, the Soviet Union "is reaching out with her naval units and infiltrating in a multipronged movement into all the seven seas, not only with combatant ships but with intelligence trawlers and research ships."

The manual estimated Soviet submarine strength now at 30 nuclear-powered craft and 400 conventional submarines. At least 100 subs, some nuclear-powered and some missile-armed, were estimated to be in the Pacific area.

New guided-missile destroyers, frigates, submarines and missile support ships are being added to the Soviet Navy, Jane's said.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

QUIZ

Partner bids Three Notrump, next player passes, both sides vulnerable. What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠Q72 ♥QJ9743 ♦Q954 ♣—
2. ♠Q8652 ♥J42 ♦J ♣9762
3. ♠K63 ♥Q975 ♦J94 ♣Q82
4. ♠J974 ♥82 ♦AK73 ♣5753

1. Six hearts. There is no scientific way of dealing with this type of hand, and the best thing to do is bid what you think you can make. An opening three notrump bid normally indicates a balanced hand containing 25 to 27 high-card points. This being the case, a small slam in hearts becomes practically certain.

A grand slam is possible if partner has exactly the right cards, but there is too much danger of his having wasted club values for us to hazard seven hearts. Partner is not barred from bidding seven hearts, but in practice he usually passes.

2. Pass. Here there is little prospect for a slam, and the only real problem to solve is whether there is likely to be a better chance of making three notrump than four spades. A four spade bid would indicate merely a desire to play at four spades instead of three notrump. It would not suggest a slam.

Both contracts can almost surely be made, but four spades is likely to go down more often than three notrump. For this reason the pass is apt to work out best in the long run. There is furthermore the practical consideration that partner, looking at an exceptionally good hand, may be tempted to bid again over four spades and that the ultimate contract in such case may fail. In addition, there is a possibility that partner has four aces and that the 150-point bonus for honors may be lost.

3. Six notrump. This raise is based on simple arithmetic. We are assured of at least 33 points in the combined hands, the number that makes a slam undertaking mandatory. Of course, there is also a chance that the total will come to either 34 or 35 points. Certainly the hand is unimpressive standing by itself, but opposite a three notrump bid it assumes much greater stature. Hands of this type illustrate the great value of point count.

4. Four notrump. This is a raise in notrump and has nothing to do with Blackwood. We are not in good position to judge how many tricks are liable to be made, since the outcome depends largely upon whether partner has the minimum or maximum values possible for his three notrump bid. There is no way for us to know whether the combined point count comes to 33, and the decision on how far to go is therefore left to partner.
