THE DAILY EXAMINER.

DECEMBER 9, 1878.

A YEAR and a half have rolled away; and the DAILY EXAMINER still lives.

Indeed it may now be truly said that the DAILY EXAMINER is one of the "institutions" of the Province.

An appetite for a daily paper has been formed; and, judging by the increasing sales of the DAILY EXAMINER in the city, along the line of railway, and in the various towns throughout the Province, it is doubtful if the people could live without their daily paper.

Hard though the times and dark the prospect of the coming winter, it is our intention to continue the publication of the DAILY EXAMINER, so that the popular demand may be supplied.

Throughout the winter we intend to supply to the public, by means of the DAILY EXAMINER, a daily telegram containing news of all the notable events which shall transpire throughout the world in this great crisis of its history.

Through the DAILY EXAMINER the people of the Island shall—from day to day—and, independently of the Northern Light or Muttart and Irving—be informed of what is transpiring in Afghanistan, in Russia, in Germany, in the neighboring Republic, and most important of all—in the mother country.

We shall, if possible, send a special correspondent to report for the DAILY EXAMINER the Parliamentary proceedings at Ottawa, with special reference to those which most directly and most deeply interest the people of this Island.

The local news shall be given through the DAILY EXAMINER promptly, truly and as full as possible.

For the large means required to carry out this work we look to the people whose wants the DAILY EXAMINER will supply, and whose varied interests we shall assiduously endeavor to promote.

The original subscribers of the DAILY EXAMINER will, in the course of a few days, be called upon for a renewal of their favors.

The beginning of another term is a good time to subscribe; and persons who have not hitherto taken the DAILY EXAMINER would do well to subscribe now.

In connection with the DAILY EXAMINER the WEEKLY EXAMINER will be issued, at the unprecedentedly low subscription price of ONE DOLLAR a year—payment to be made in advance.

EDINBURGH, Dec. 6.

The London correspondent of the Scotsman says: "In influential quarters it is believed that an arrangement with Russia for the settlement of the Central Asian question is on the tapis, and is likely to assume the form of a partition of Afghanistan."

The same correspondent also says: "The agents of the Conservative party have issued a circular advising Tory managers in the country to be prepared for the eventuality of a general election."

LONDON, Dec. 6.

Lord Cranbrook, Secretary of State for India, in the Lords, and Lord Stanhope, under Secretary for India, in the Commons, will, on Monday, move a resolution as follows:

Resolved, That Her Majesty having directed that a military expedition of her forces be a charge upon Indian revenues, to be despatched against the Ameer of Afghanistan, this House consents that the revenues of India shall be applied to defray expenses of military operations which may be carried on beyond the external frontier of Her Majesty's Indian possessions.

This does not imply that the burden of war will ultimately fall wholly upon India. The resolution does not raise that issue; it is formed in compliance with Act of 1848, which provides that except for the prevention or expelling invasion or under sudden or urgent necessity, the consent of Parliament must be obtained before any part of the revenues can be applied to defray expenses of any military operations beyond frontiers of India. The foregoing concurrent resolutions will raise the whole question of distribution of burdens of war being left for future decision.

LATER.

In the House of Commons, this afternoon, Mr. Whitbread (Liberal) gave notice he would offer a resolution disapproving of the Afghan war, and asked for the appointment of a day for discussion.

Sir Stafford Northcote said he could not postpone the discussion of the Government resolution fixed for Monday.

Upon this announcement of the Chancellor, Lord Hartington appealed to the Government to give place to Mr. Whitbread's resolution.

Gladstone supported Hartington's appeal, but Northcote, stating that the Government's motion was not necessarily meaning to charge all the costs of the war to India, he could not consent to adjourn the discussion.

Chamberlain (Radical) gave notice of an addition to Mr. Whitbread's resolution attacking the alleged unconstitutionality of the Government's proceedings relative to Afghanistan.

Opposition speakers strongly urged the inconsistency of discussing a motion on a subsidiary point concerning India revenues before Whitbread's motion, which raises

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

OTTAWA, Dec. 6.

Mr. Patrick, Clerk of the House of Commons, has received instructions that the appointments made by Mr. Anglin during his last visit to Ottawa, are not to be recognized in any way. Acting on these instructions, the gentlemen appointed on the occasion in question have been relieved from their duties and have left Ottawa.

MACHIAS, ME., Dec. 6.

The schooner "Caledonia" went ashore on Libby Island early Tuesday morning. The captain and crew of five were all lost; two passengers were saved. The schooner was from New York for Briar Island with coal, where she discharged, and was on her way light to Windsor, N. S., where she was probably owned by Churchill & Co. The bodies of the captain, cook and one sailor were brought to Machiasport to-day.

LONDON, Dec. 6.

The "Daily News" says: "Sir Charles Dilke will ask the Government on Monday to state the contents of the letter which Lord Lytton, on December 2nd, announced that Major Cavagnari had received from the Ameer of Afghanistan. It is rumored that the Ameer therein expressed a wish to make submission."

The Times' Berlin correspondent says, according to reports current in Russian papers Russia has informed England of her intention to occupy Nevo District, near the northern frontier of Afghanistan, should England annex any portion of the Afghan territory. [This correspondent is rather given to sending sensational despatches.]

It was reported on the London Stock Exchange on Friday afternoon that the West of England and south Wales District Bank, having its head office at Bristol, is in difficulty.

LONDON, Dec. 6.

Before the passage of the Address in the Commons, McCarthy Downing complained of the absence in the Royal Speech of any promise to redress Irish grievances. Messrs. Power and Sullivan, Irish members, protested against the Afghan war. Right Hon. Richard Asheton, the Home Secretary, promised that when the list of measures for the session was produced it would be found that Ireland would not be forgotten.

The Daily News understands that the Viscount of Halifax in the Lords, and Samuel Whitbread (Liberal), M. P. for Bedford, in the Commons, will introduce resolutions hostile to the Afghan policy of the Government, on Tuesday.

The London correspondent of the Scotsman says: "In influential quarters it is believed that an arrangement with Russia for the settlement of the Central Asian question is on the tapis, and is likely to assume the form of a partition of Afghanistan."

Opposition speakers strongly urged the inconsistency of discussing a motion on a subsidiary point concerning India revenues before Whitbread's motion, which raises the question of the whole policy of the Government.

Northcote ultimately yielded and agreed to postpone the report on the address until Monday, and Whitbread's resolution to be moved as an amendment thereto.

Hartington gave notice of the intention of himself and followers to support Whitbread's resolution.

Northcote said the reference in the despatch of Lord Lytton to the possibility of a direct understanding between England and Russia for wiping out Afghanistan could only be regarded as the personal opinion of the Viceroy as to the probable result of the Ameer's policy. There was no ground for supposing it referred to any direct or formal proposal.

VIENNA, Dec. 6.

It is reported that the Russian General Somakine, who commanded the road to Herat, is watching the reinforcements of 8,000 men who crossed the Caspian Sea.

LONDON, Dec. 6.

Detailed reports of the fighting in the Peiwar Pass show that the Afghans, who were posted in the pinewood, resisted Roberts' second movement on Peiwar-Khotal most obstinately, and that sometimes they even assumed the offensive, hard pressing the most advanced troops until reinforcements came up.

All is quiet in the Khyber Pass. Reconnoissance has been made as far as Pesbalant.

The Ameer is collecting levies near Cabul. General Biddulph has advanced many miles to the north-east of Quetta. The advance is easy and the natives are friendly. Not a single body of Afghans remained unbroken at the end of the day.

The Standard's report of the Peiwar fight says that the English ten killed and eight wounded.

LONDON, Dec. 6.

A despatch from Vienna says the Ministerial crisis at Constantinople produced a very unfavorable impression there. Kherriden Pasha, new Grand Vizier, is one of Austria's bitterest adversaries. He urged the Sultan to forcibly resist the Austrian occupation of Turkish territory. He is regarded here as an unscrupulous schemer, capable of hastening Turkey to ruin. The change of Ministry is believed to be mainly attributable to Russian intrigues.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 6.

Austria has consented to make the convention relative to Novi Bazar applicable to Bosnia. The Porte, however, declines the Austrian demand to make eventual evacuation dependent on Turkey's making the cost of occupation.

Minister Layard has received information contradicting reports of massacre in Melnik District.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec.

It is stated the prevailing feeling in Moscow favors a policy of peaceful development.

A United States View.

The New York "Tribune" discusses the prospects of the new Governor General of Canada in the style of question and answer. The first conundrum it propounds is: "How is he likely to get on?" To this it replies, that he is likely to get on very well; his manner and speech show he is following in the footsteps of Lord Dufferin, and if he does, he must get on well. The question, "Will he fail or succeed?" elicits the response that it is certain he will get on, but whether he will acquire permanent fame as the ruler of the Dominion is quite another matter. "Will the Queen's daughter be a help or a drag to him?" is next considered, and the opinion is expressed that her Royal Highness will not be a drag but a decided help. "She, too," says the "Tribune," "has a way of making herself very agreeable when she likes. Her dresses are simple, her manner unaffected, and while she is not handsome, she has an amiable expression which counts for much." The last point dealt with is whether the appointment of the Marquis of Lorne will bring the provinces of the Confederation closer together and nearer the Mother State, and to it an affirmative reply is given. A still further opinion might have been expressed with safety, viz., that the presence of a Royal Princess in Canada will have great interest for the Americans, however republican their political opinions.

Country Boys.

Boys who are fortunate enough to be born in the country have unmistakable advantages over city lads. The country is the place of all others to be born in. The associations of youth, of home, of school, winter, and the farm, work and play mixed together in a delightful tangle, are never rooted out, but grow deeper into the character and become dearer to the being while life passes and the revolving years hold out. It is worth more than an university education to have been born and brought up on a farm of well-to-do parents. That supplies what no learning from the books ever can. That is a resource that stands by. It is something to feed upon. And if the boy as a man engages in business or a profession, he has a stock of health and a sound constitution to draw upon that will be sure to carry him triumphantly through when the city boys are giving way all along the road. Morally and physically, he has by far the best of it.

A resident of Epping, N. H., celebrated his eighty-first birthday by getting out of bed to light a lamp and drooping dead.
