World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1893.

THE Government of the Dominion of Canada has accepted the invitation of the Government of the United States to take part in the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held in Chicago from 1st May to 31st October, 1893. As it is important that a very full display of Canadian products be made on that occasion, a general invitation is extended to Canadian producers and manufacturers in agriculture, horticulture, products of forests, fisheries, minerals, machinery, manufactures, arts, etc., to assist in bringing together such a display of the natural resources and industrial products of Canada as will be a credit to the country.

An Executive Commissioner for Canada has been appointed, who will have the general charge of the exhibits and the allotment of space, and the several Provincial Governments have been invited to co-operate with the view of making the exhibition as complete and satisfactory as possible.

The Dominion Government will pay the transport of exhibits going and returning, and for the placing of articles sent.

Entries must be made not later than 31st July. The reception of articles at the Exhibition buildings will commence 1st November, 1892, and all exhibits, except pure Live Stock, must be in place by 1st April, 1893.

Forms of application for space and general information can be obtained on applying by letter post free, to the undersigned.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. McKay Answered.

SIR,—In the Guardian of the 26th ult., there appeared a letter from Mr. D. C. McKay, of Dundas, in which the reader is led to believe that the Presbyterians are upholding the liquor traffic in this place. If there is any liquor sold within the borders of this congregation, there is no man knows it any better than Mr. McKay himself. The Dominion House, kept by the late Alexander Martin, is the only place where liquor is supposed to be sold. Now, Sir, is it not strange that Mr. McKay should board with these people, eat and drink with them, and administer to the spiritual wants of the deceased for months during his sickness, and report that he had good reason to believe that he (the deceased) had died a Christian. Is he now acting consistently when he calls him a vile demon? It cannot be anyone else, as Mr. Martin was the only one here, that used to help make up his salary, who was suspected of selling any liquor. Now then, if he thinks it wrong to take money from such people for the support of the gospel, he had better return what money he got in that way to the widow, as well as the price of several bottles of liquor that he got, and for which he has not yet paid. "Beware of the scribes which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts, which devour widows' houses, and for a show make long prayers—the same shall receive greater damnation."

Is it any wonder that he is called an extremist when he calls his neighbors demons and murderers, and in a few days denies that he ever did so? Why did he run to the press to give vent to his spite against his neighbors? Why did he not go to them in person and advise them, and in a Christian way warn them of the evil which should befall them if they continued in this business, instead of taking a public platform and calling them demons and murderers and scandalizing them to such an extent that a Presbyterian minister present had to check him in his wild talk,—and not being content with this call them demons through the press?

Now, Mr. Editor, if the courts of the church will decide to use no fermented wine for sacramental purposes I have nothing to say against that. But should all the ministers of God on earth say: I will not accept any money or anything else from a liquor dealer or from any one who breaks the Sabbath, or swears, or slanders his neighbor, or cheats, or breaks any of the commandments in any way, which are all punishable alike, I say that before Mr. McKay will have Rev. to his name the church will have fallen to pieces and Mr. McKay will embark on the voyage of life for which he was intended. Does not the bible say "Honor the Lord with thy substance and with the first fruits of all thine increase." So shall thy barns be filled with plenty and thy presses shall burst out with new wine. Now sir, this was said to the whole world. No matter what your calling in life was "give of thy substance." And in the face of this he (Mr. McKay) says: "For my part I never wish to be supported in the least by such vile demons." Talk about hypocrisy after that! Let there be a few dollars short of his salary and see what he says. Will he say "I will forgive you that much." No. "Get my pay, no matter where it comes from. You promised to pay me so much for preaching to you, and I have told you that you that you help to make drunkards and that there is an accursed thing in your midst, and I have talked to you until I had to stop using the medicine that your ungodly doctors told me to take and now I want my pay in full." "Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness." And again, "The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life, but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked."

In conclusion I would say: Take heed, Mr. McKay, that you are not numbered among those pastors. Guard your tongue that your mouth may be a well of life, as by becoming violent you will be numbered with the wicked. Now, Mr. McKay, try and follow closer in the footsteps of Him you claim as your Master, when He said, "I will be a Father to the orphans and a Husband to the widow," and your journey through life will be more profitable and your reward greater.

By giving the above space you will oblige
DAN. MARTIN.

The Naufrage Difficulty.

SIR,—During the late session, in answer to a question by Mr. Underhay regarding a road at Naufrage, Mr. McLean said that "he knew of no obstructions on the road except those caused by the storms during the season." Now, it is well known that the road was obstructed, not by the storms, but by persons who, it seems, wished to prevent worshippers from attending church—logs, stones and all kinds of rubbish were put upon the track and the bridges cut down. Last autumn Mr. McLean visited the locality to direct surveys for Naufrage Bridge, and yet it appears he "knew of no obstructions!" Poor Mr McLean! He would need a very strong pair of spectacles to see anything wrong at Naufrage. In all seriousness we would say to Mr. McLean, "annoint thine eyes!" something must be wrong with them. The gloom of an October night could not shield offenders from the searching gaze and hot pursuits of J. R. McLean, J. P., but it appears the noonday sun was unable to reveal the Naufrage "obstructions" to the dim vision of J. R. McLean, C. P. W.

Finding that Mr. McLean was colorblind, that he did not know of "obstructions" after he had seen them, the residents decided to take possession of the road. So they ran their line fences across the highway. Now, every Sunday peaceful worshippers going to church are obstructed by these fences and by the bullying threats of the C. P. W.'s political friends. Angry disputes desecrate the Sabbath. Ill-feeling is created between scores of people, and serious mischief if not crime may result. Meanwhile the Government allows the illegal obstructions to continue. Indeed, it is rumored that those who fenced the road had the C. P. W.'s advice to do so. Let the C. P. W. take warning. People will not be bulldozed by J. R. McLean's henchmen. Nor will they be frightened out of their legal rights by the schemes of "Pettifog." On Mr. J. R. McLean's head will rest the responsibility of anything that may result from those outrages.

TRUTH.

Football.

SIR,—"Old Rugby" again appears in Monday's issue and devotes more than a third of a column of your valuable space in endeavoring to show some of the fine plays made by the P. W. C. He certainly has a most curious mode of showing how the P. W. C "team" rushed the ball to centre. Perhaps he would like to say it was fine team work, and is afraid to do so. He says the forwards did not loiter, but quickly followed up. Of course they did. But will "Old Rugby" deny the assertion that the forwards were only starting to follow up when the speedy half-back was tackled near centre. He endeavors to apply ridicule, but his efforts in that line are about as tame as his criticism of the report. "Spectator's" hazy ideas of football, as given in the report evidently satisfied even "Old Rugby." Does it not appear strange that out of that whole report only seven words were taken exception to. A large portion of his letter is taken up with making capital out of an unintentional error in my last letter—"touch-line" instead of goal-line." Does "Old Rugby" mean to say that it is a fine point of the game to deliberately kick the ball away across the goal-line and make a dash to touch it down. I was under the impression the proper play was to pick it up, carry it across the goal line and touch it down. What does "Old Rugby" call dribbling? The ball was not dribbled across the goal-line. Many a time have I heard captains lecturing a man for kicking at such critical moments, instead of picking it up and carrying it across the goal-line.

SPECTATOR.

The Road-Making Machine.

SIR,—A few Grits of this locality seem to have allied themselves with Supervisor Dickieson in a vain attempt to boom him and the new road machine. It is believed by nearly all parties that Mr. Dickieson brought the machine up here either to advertise himself or to put money into the pockets of himself and a few of his pet friends. Mr. Dickieson does not better his position, nor can he convince the public that the statements made by your former correspondent, "Lot 65," are not correct, by insinuating that he has not paid his commutation money for last year; for by such admission he only shows his own incapacity for his office, in thus allowing him to get off free. It cannot be denied that it was the easiest parts of the roads, where there were no stones, that were made by the machine; and to say that it is such an improvement over the old method, as a certain wise-acre declared, is simply too ridiculous to be mentioned.

There can be seen several pieces of roads recently made at Clyde River, Cornwall, etc., performed in the old way, so-called, decidedly better than any made by the new machine.

There is another boast made about reducing the cost to $120.50, by deducting the taxes on the horses that worked in the machine, which, by reckoning a horse at 20 cents (and that is above the average), would pay for 215 horses, and if it requires that many the Government had better procure an engine to work it.

There have been other jobs in which the Supervisor and his son were the chief actors, and which appear to be not in the interest of the public; but now the office seems to have become a machine for making money for the official rather than serving the public, and of course the thing is as far in advance of the old as the new road machine is over the former method of road making.

When the Patriot's scribes again wish to lavish their praises upon one of their friends, they had better try and find someone worthy of it.

New Books.

How to Mesmerize, or Hypnotism Explained, by Prof. Wm. Seymour, Practical Psychologist.

This is a work which fully explains the phenomena of hypnotism—an invaluable work for lawyers, students, doctors, business-men, parents, and everybody who would improve the conditions of mind or prevent the evils which often arise through the ignorance of natural law.

The work is written in a clear, easy style, and the principles set forth so plainly that a child may understand.

It explains both the evils and advantages of hypnotism, showing how we determine when a crime is committed through its influence, and how to guard against it. This work may be had at the Diamond Bookstore, 50 cents.

FROM the beginning of its manufacture until now not a single ounce of any but pure Virginia leaf of the finest quality has been used in the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco. The manufacturers of it have a settled belief that the public cannot be misled on this point, and that any tampering with the quality of the brand would be a monetary loss to them. Thousands of dollars a year saved by mixing with an inferior leaf, would not repay them for a doubt on the part of the public as to the quality of their tobacco. ....

GENTS:—I write to inform you that the TWO COURSES of SKODA'S DISCOVERY and LITTLE TABLETS have done wonders for me. I BETTER can hardly realize it, the change has been so marked.

I contracted the Chronic Diarrhœa in the Army, and since 1865 I have been a constant sufferer. In addition to this, I was troubled as follows: 1st a lame Back and Kidney trouble, 2d, Dyspepsia, 3d, Faintness and an all-gone feeling; 4th, Distress at pit of Stomach; 5th, Headache and Dizziness; 6th, Muscular Rheumatism in Chest so I had to lie in bed for weeks at a THAN time; 7th, a Severe Heart Trouble that would cause my pulse to run at 98 for days at a time. I was treated by very eminent Physicians, but would be compelled to leave my labors and return to my home weeks at a time—in fact I have had 18 fits of sickness in the last 26 years, and several times have been given up to die.

I feel that I am completely cured of of all my bodily diseases except the Diarrhœa, which is not cured but greatly benefited, COLD I shall take another course which I think will cure me entirely. Yours with gratitude,
