OUR CHRISTMAS BOX.

Holiday Gifts, and Where to Obtain Them.

A GLANCE AT SOME OF THE STORES IN THE CITY.

At this gay and festive season of the year, when the hearts and purses of persons of all ages, sizes and sexes are opened up, and the desire to present one another with something useful or ornamental is epidemic, it becomes our duty to point out the best and cheapest places whereat to purchase. Our representative has made a tour of the principal stores—the managers of which, it is needless to say, fully recognize the merits of THE EXAMINER as an advertising medium—and was much pleased with what he saw and heard. All the merchants report business brisk, and notwithstanding the assertions of those Grits who have reduced grumbling to a science, there is still a large amount of money in the place. Having said so much by way of explanation, we will now settle down to business, first taking a look at which is one of the pioneer dry goods houses in the city, and needs little commendation at our hands. Established in 1820 it has weathered the financial storms before which others succumbed, and still continues to rake in a large share of the floating boodle. The three extensive flats occupied are well stocked, and the arrangement of goods is beautiful. There is something for everyone. Father or mother, sister or brother, lover or friend, can be catered to with ease. For the ladies there are dress goods, wool goods, fur goods, plush and leather satchels, hand-bags, work boxes, glove boxes, and other articles which delight the heart of the possessor and make the other girl turn green with envy. The attention of young men is especially directed to the foregoing. For the gentlemen there are fur caps, fur mitts and gauntlets, neckwear, silk handkerchiefs, underwear, and innumerable other good things, the receiving of any one of which will cause the giver's name to be emblazoned in letters of gold on a certain tender spot in the masculine anatomy. In addition to the goods already enumerated, there are hosts of articles which will gladden the heart of the average house-keeper and contribute largely towards making life that pleasant dream which the poet sings of. All in search of Christmas presents and New Year gifts should certainly not neglect calling at the London House as the goods and prices are specially adapted to the festal season.

WATSON'S DRUG STORE

is noted for the excellence of its goods—a quality apparent in the display of fancy articles for the holiday season. The windows are devoted to beautiful things in great variety. Plush, brass and leather are the predominating materials, made up into dressing cases, shaving cases, handkerchief and glove boxes, collar and cuff boxes, letter boxes, pocket toilets, cigar cases, pouches and other articles. Mirrors and whisk holders are very fashionable as articles of useful decoration, and of these there is an extensive line, in plush, brass, bronze, nickel, carved wood and other mountings, the padlock, toboggan and snowshoe designs being worthy of particular mention. A specialty has been made of perfumes and handsome solid-back hair brushes, the former by standard makers, and ranging from 25 cts. a bottle to several dollars. Walking sticks, briar and meerschaum pipes, amber cigar holders, cigars, in small boxes, and other things needed by smokers, are there in abundance. Santa Claus will find Gibson's pure English confectionery which he prefers for his little ones. Housekeepers can depend upon the absolute purity of such things as spices, flavoring, and coloring extracts, and the good condition of layer raisins, Jordan almonds and all candied peels and preserved fruits, and they can supply their tables with English canned soups, orange, calves foot, red and black currant jelly, Crossee and Blackwell's coffee, olives, pickles, sauce, etc. Call and examine the goods and prices.

JAMES PATON & CO'S.

store is situate in the Brown Block, and is well stocked with articles suitable for the season. The basement, the ground and second floors are occupied. The tasteful arrangement of goods strikes the eye at once on entering. Everything is shown to the best advantage and in profusion. Intending purchasers should have their minds made up before entering, as after doing so they will see so many handsome and useful articles that they will feel like buying the entire stock-in-trade. The young man desirous of presenting his best girl with something calculated to keep his memory evergreen in her heart will find an elegant assortment of dress goods, muffs, tippets, wool squares, hand satchels, etc., etc., from which to select. The young woman who desires to present her admirer with something to wear next his heart, will find samples of gentlemen's underwear in abundance; while she who is of a less practical and more ornamental turn of mind can make her selection from the stock of fur caps, mitts, gauntlets, silk handkerchiefs, neck-wear, etc., etc. Taken for all in all this store ranks with the best in the city, and should be visited by those in search of presents.

WELLNER'S JEWELRY STORE

is one of the places which it is usual to visit at this particular season. Most people have a weakness for jewelry, and this weakness is more or less developed during the holidays. To such as intend making presents of jewelry, a call at Wellner's will at once suggest itself. His store is certainly a thing of beauty. The show cases and shelves are well stocked, and the visitor is dazzled at the brilliancy of the display. For the ladies there are gold and silver watches, bracelets, lockets, necklets, brooches, earrings, bar-pins, cuff buttons, gold and silver thimbles, etc., etc. The young fellow who would like to make some other man's sister happy should drop in and make his selection at once. In the gentleman's line there are gold and silver watches, gold and plated vest chains, signet rings, scarf pins, shirt studs, cuff buttons, etc., etc., affording a splendid opportunity to the young ladies who believe in reciprocity pure and simple. In addition to the foregoing there is a large stock of plated ware, tea sets, cake baskets, dinner and breakfast caskets, fruit dishes, pickle jars, etc., any of which would make an elegant and substantial gift.

informed us that they were well satisfied with the fall's trade, and that the farmers had been very prompt in meeting their accounts. This firm have for years been large importers of fancy goods and wools, and the present season's stock is large and well-assorted, comprising felts, canvases, pompons, arrasenes, silks, Berlin wool, fancy wools, wool works of all kinds, etc., etc. Their fur goods trade has almost doubled itself the last few years, and the sales so far this year are very satisfactory. In this department they have a large lot of goods very suitable for Xmas presents. At present they are offering special prices in every department of their large establishment in order to reduce their stock previous to the departure of their buyer for the British market. All of a presentable turn of mind, be they bachelors or benedicts, chestnut belles or giddy girls of the period, should drop in and see this firm's stock of seasonable luxuries.

STUART'S FUR STORE,

in Newson's brick block, should certainly be visited by ladies and gentlemen in search of something new and nobby in the fur line. Splendid specimens are shown in ladies sacks, caps, muffs, tippets, etc.; gentlemen's coats, caps, gauntlets, collars, cuffs, etc.; and also in children's coats and caps. The furs used are Persian lamb, seal, otter, beaver, and mink as well as other less expensive kinds. The furs are all of first-class quality and are made up on the premises under the personal supervision of Mr. Stuart, who is a practical furrier of many years' experience. In addition to the fur trade, a large supply of toboggan tuques are kept in stock, to which the special attention of the Toboggan Club is directed. Mr. Stuart deserves the patronage of the public for his efforts to supply a good stylish article at a fair price.

REDDIN'S DRUG STORE

is one of the institutions of the city. Its arrangement is exceedingly tasteful, and its stock rich and varied. The show window is a perfect gem. Among the many articles especially suitable for this season are ladies' work boxes and baskets in plush and wicker; ladies' odor and jewel cases and companions, in plush and leather; hand-painted placques, brush and comb cases, meerschaum and other pipes, cigar and cigarette holders, walking canes and other articles which neither space nor time will admit of our enumerating. Persons desirous of purchasing anything in the above lines would do well to call and inspect the goods and prices at this store.

D. A. BRUCE'S

dry goods and gentlemens' outfitting establishment is well known to most of our readers. The stock-in-trade is useful, ornamental and varied, embracing articles innumerable suitable for the holiday season. The supply of fur goods is large and cannot fail to please the purchaser and comfort the wearer. The gentlemen's underclothing department is well stocked and worthy of inspection. Silk handkerchiefs, neckties, collars, cuffs, etc., etc., are in profusion and the tastes of the most fastidious can be catered to. Mr. Bruce's stock should be seen by intending purchasers.

must not be forgotten by the man or woman, girl or boy in search of a holiday present. His store is well stocked with articles suitable for the season. His hats are both hard and soft—to match the head of the wearer—and are as cheap and good as they are made. The supply of fur caps, muffs, tippets, etc., is large and excellent, and marked low. His silk handkerchiefs, neckties, collars, cuffs and other articles, so essential to the proper equipment of the beau of the period, are rich and cheap.

[Several other advertisers will be attended to to-morrow—all will be disposed of as space permits.]

New Publications.

The American Kindergarten and Primary Teacher for January is at hand. It is full of good hints to parents and teachers, and should be in every school and family. Published by Fowler & Wells, 753 Broadway, New York, at $1 a year.

The Christmas number of the Montreal Star (for sale at the Diamond Bookstore) is, in point of printing, the finest publication of the kind that has appeared in Canada. The engravings, too, are really artistic, and the sketches, poems, etc., are good.

Chappelle's Prince Edward Island Almanac and Charlottetown Directory for 1887 has just been issued from the press of Mr. John Coombs. The two hundred and twenty pages of which the work is made up present a large quantity and variety of information for everyone on every day throughout the coming year. Mr. Chappelle is always making improvements in his popular Almanac; and this is the best one that has been published.

Arthur's Home Magazine, published by T. S. Arthur & Son, 920 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, is at hand. The prospectus of the Home Magazine states that with the year 1887 the thirty-fifth year of publication is begun, and we can well believe that such a long life has been a useful one, if we may judge by the sample of the January issue now at hand. Outside and inside the Magazine is an attractive one, and when we consider the well-established reputation of the HOME as a safe literary friend for every household, and the low cost of the Magazine, we rather think that its subscribers get about as much for their money as they could ask. The stories, illustrations and special articles in its "departments" are all good, and we think of greater than usual interest. The publishers furnish specimen copies for 10 cents.

Report of the Diocesan Church Society of Prince Edward Island for the year 1885.

This report is just issued. Though a long time coming out—as usual—it contains an unusually large amount of information as to the religious bodies of this Province in general, and is to the Church of England in particular. The assistant secretary is to be congratulated on the introduction of this improvement and the labor and pains he has bestowed upon it. We quote a few statistics as presented by the report:—

ALBERTON.

This parish may be divided into three divisions: 1st, Kildare, including Lots 2 and 3. This district contains a population of 3,175. Of these, 2,471 are Roman Catholics; 255 Presbyterians; 230 Methodists and Baptists; and 180 Church of England. Christ's Church, situated at Kildare Capes, is distant about nine miles from the parsonage at Alberton, and here fortnightly services are held on Sundays throughout the year. There are also two stations in this district, one at Montrose and one at Western Road, Lot 2, which receive monthly services. The average attendance is, for Kildare 32, Montrose 41, Western Road, 20. There is a Sunday School in connection with Christ's Church, at which some 20 scholars attend.

2nd. Alberton, including Lots 4 and 5. Population about 3,723. Of these, 1,796 are Roman Catholics; 1,146 Presbytertans; 415 Methodists and Baptists, and 366 Church of England. St. Peter's Church at Alberton is a substantial building, quite large enough for the requirements of the parish. The parsonage adjoins it, and has attached a glebe of 80 acres. Services are held in this Church once each Sunday throughout the year, and on Wednesday evenings during the summer months. A monthly service is also held at Cascumpec Village, Lot 5. Average attendance at Alberton 68, at Cascumpec Village 42. The Sunday School at Alberton is attended by 26 scholars.

3rd—Carleton, including Lots 6, 7 and 9. Total population about 2,715, divided as follows: Roman Catholics, 1,059, Presbyterians, 722, Baptists and Methodists, 790, and Church of England, 171. Formerly, monthly services were held at Carleton, which is distant about 11 miles from Alberton, but of late years they have not been kept up.

PORT HILL.

In this parish, which includes Lots 11, 12, 13 and 14, the strength of the different denominations is as follows:—Lots 11 and 42 containing Roman Catholics, 576; Presbyterians, 353; Baptists and Methodists, 267; Church of England, 279. Lots 13 and 14 contain, Roman Catholics, 1,376; Presbyterians, 755; Methodists and Baptists, 374; Church of England, 306.

St. James' Church (lately erected), and the parsonage, with glebe of 77 acres, are situated at Port Hill, Lot 13. Services are held in this church daily on Sundays throughout the year, and there is a Sunday-school in connection therewith, at which some 51 scholars attend. In this division of the parish there are also two stations; one at the Western Road, distant some 7 miles from the parsonage, where services are held every alternate Sunday, and one at Northam, distance five miles, which receives fortnightly week night services.

St. Peter's Church situated in Lot 11, is distant some thirteen miles from Port Hill. Here services are held every alternate Sunday. Bideford, Lot 12, distant about six miles, has fortnightly services.

ST. ELEANOR'S.

This parish takes in all Lot 17 and part of 18, including the town of Summerside. There are in it two churches, St. John's at St. Eleanor's (the first church of England erected in P. E. I.) and St. Mary's at Summerside. The parsonage, with some three acres of land attached, is situated about half a mile from St. John's, on the road to Summerside.

On Sundays, Morning Service alternates between the two churches. The afternoon service is always held at St. John's; the evening, at 6.30, always in St. Mary's. On Wednesday evenings there is a service at St. Mary's, at 7.30. The Sunday Schools in connection with these churches are attended by 80 and 30 scholars respectively. Number of communicants in parish, 120.

The strength of the different denominations in this parish is as follows: In Lot 17, excluding Summerside, there are Roman Catholics, 976; Presbyterian, 749; Baptists and Methodists, 298; and Church of England, 408. In Summerside there are: Roman Catholics, 984; Presbyterians, 824; Baptists, 217; Methodists 375; and Church of England 327.

NEW LONDON.

This parish embraces Lots 19, 20, 21, and about half of Lot 18. In Lots 19, and the half of 18 there are, approximately, Presbyterians, 1092; Roman Catholics, 819; Baptists and Methodists, 423; and Church of England, 328. At Kensington, about the centre of this district, St. Mark's Church is now in course of erection, and bids fair to be, when finished, one of the most attractive of the country churches. Mr. Reagh contemplates residing at this place as soon as a parsonage can be erected. During the past year, there were but twenty-seven services held at Kensington, but when St. Mark's is completed it will receive an equal number with the other churches of the parish. Average attendance, at present, about 100.

In Lots 20 and 21, there are Presbyterians 1,652; Roman Catholics, 439; Baptists and Methodists, 423; and Church of England, 629. In this division of the parish there are two churches, St. Stephen at Irish Town, distant about 5 miles from Kensington; and St. Thomas at French River, distant about 8 miles. Average attendance about 140 and 150 respectively. There are also Sunday Schools in connection with these Churches. During the past year St. Thomas received 75 and St. Stephen's 69 services. The number of communicants in the parish is 205.

Of these 620 are Presbyterians; 594 Roman Catholics; 475 Methodists; 165 Baptists; and 252 Church of England. St. John's Church and the parsonage, with a glebe of 59 acres, are situated at Crapaud. There is also a mission Chapel at Victoria, distant one-and-a-half miles from Crapaud, and regular services are given at Westmorland, distant three miles, and Inkerman Road, distant about six miles from the parsonage. During the past year this district received services as follows:—At St. John, 63; at Victoria, 27; at Westmorland, 9; and at Inkerman Road, 7.

2nd. Lot 67, with the southern portions of Lots 20 and 21. The census returns give the population of Lot 67 as 1,794. Of these, 1,242 are Presbyterians; 281 Roman Catholics; 162 Methodists and Baptists; and 109 Church of England. The northern portion of Lots 20 and 21 come within the New London Parish, but there are, at least, 150 Church of England in the southern portion of these Lots belonging to Crapaud parish. St. Elizabeth's Church is situated at Springfield, Lot 67, distant about twelve miles from Crapaud, and has attached to it a glebe of 50 acres.
