There's not far removed from their wild swampland ancestry, and to a number of them will stretch their wings wide in the fall and wing in line with flocks headed for the Cardinas or other southern points. It's no more than others have done in the last several years. This business has been going on half a dozen years. John B. Romboough brought the notion to town, a man now in his 60's, he had as a youth courted the wilderness surrounding his native Durham, and later that of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, where for ten years he operated a silver mine.

Feeling that "human beings are the most vicious creatures alive," he decided that he'd do his own thing about it right here, and the result was an offer that popped up at a City Council meeting one night. He said he would donate part of mallards if the city would take Hyde Park Lake duckworthy. The municipal council took it upon Romboough to send in the birds.

Young Peoples' Rally Held At Victoria West

One of the best young people's rallies was held Wednesday afternoon and evening at Victoria West Presbyterian Church. Societies of every Presbyterian Church in West Prince County were fully represented. The beautiful little church at Victoria West was filled with young people, both afternoon and evening. The Society at Victoria West carried away the famed imaginary attendance banner. Following a business meeting held in the afternoon, presided over by Mr. John R. Murdoch, student minister in charge at Tyne Valley, an inspiring address on "The Burning Bush—Emblem of the Presbyterian Church," was delivered by Mr. R. D. Duncan, student minister at Victoria West, Y. P. S. acted as host to all the young people and served them with a delicious lunch and tea.

The evening meeting was opened by a lively sing song led by Mr. Verwoff. A service of worship was conducted by Mr. R. D. Duncan.

The nominating committee announced the names of Mr. Gordon MacArthur, Victoria West, and Miss Forsyth, Alberton, elected president and secretary respectively. Mr. Verwoff gave the evening address, taking as his subject, "The Dead Center."

After the evening meeting the entire assembly proceeded to the beach where a 7 1/2 hp. motor was built and around which all gathered for another hour of song. It was said by many to be the most spiritual and beneficial rally held for many years.

There is to be two runways and when finished the airport will be on a par with those on the mainland. S

PLANT LIFE

ADD PLANET LIFE
LONDON, July 20—(CP)—Dr. William Herbert Stevenson, Marlin expert of the Royal Astronomical Society, today declared that "evidence concerning possible vegetation on the planet Mars undoubtedly would result from observations being conducted by Earl C. Silliphant in South Africa."

In addition he said the studies, carried out by the American astronomer as the planet swings over the air on the earth since 1924, should remove any remaining doubts that the theory of man-made canals on Mars is anything but "sheer poppycock."

While no evidence I know that human life ever has been found on Mars, Stevenson said, it could not be stated definitely that such life does not exist.

"If there are men there they would be men as the earth knows them," said Stevenson. "They would have to stand daily ranges of temperature from 65 degrees above to 115 below zero. (Fahrenheit)."

"In their winters, which would be 15 months long, it would get even colder. They could inhabit a flat desert world where it never rained and where vegetation appeared only when the ice fields at the poles melted down."

The conservation society of that community, HAS PRESENTED TREES ALSO

It's not the only contribution Romboough has made to the city's outdoor life.

One hundred and fifty elm and black walnut now thriving on city property were nurtured by him into acceptable age. He raised them on his own tract in Gardfield Avenue, at which also he has Chinese elm, Carpathian walnut, butternut, Japanese walnut, black walnut and a cascara bush which he himself brought from British Columbia, and a Chinese cherry.

Interesting plants has he, too, in his yard. There's a sensitive plant, which apparently is considered a delicacy to fowl and beast in its tropical habitat, and which learned to collapse its petals the moment something brushed against it, simultaneously a dead bush, as a plant, when it gets a little older, will make it dangerous to light a cigarette in its presence; it'll provide a lively explosion.

ing lunch to her husband. A Danish customs official and two brown-uniformed S. A. men (Storm Troopers) crossed the border from Postelau to Bozopolie, in Poland, according to this deposition, and Budziewicz ran forward to challenge them.

The guard, it was said, was unslung his rifle but before he could bring it down into a warning position one of the Danzigers fired, the bullet striking Budziewicz, in the abdomen. The three Danzigers immediately returned to Danzig.

To Localize Incident

Polish indignation was at a high pitch, particularly in Gdynia, but foreign observers in Warsaw expected the Polish Government to do its utmost to keep the incident from developing to dangerous proportions. The Warsaw press did not carry first reports of the affair and officials withheld comment.

The border incident engaged most of the attention of officials but the Polish mission found time to present two more protests to the Danish Senate on other matters.

One was the charge that 55 Polish workers had been dismissed from jobs at Danzig's docks. The second was a complaint that Danzig officials had limited the rights of Polish inspectors who by League of Nations' sanction are observers at Danzig's customs stations.

RESERVE COMMENT

WARSAW, July 19—The killing of a Polish frontier guard by uniformed Danzig customs officer aroused indignation in Poland tonight but there was evidence that the Polish Government would attempt to localize the incident.

Foreign circles here believed a prompt expression of regret by Danzig authorities would go far toward smoothing over the situation.

In Gdynia, however, where full details were known, public excitement ran high.

Warsaw officials reserved comment for the time being, saying only that the incident was being investigated by Polish authorities at Gdynia, frontier town nearest the scene of the shooting.

For the past week Warsaw newspapers have not put any Danzig news on their official pages, apparently under official instructions, and today's incident was given little prominence.

The influential newspaper Kurjer Warszawski has only a brief report on an inside page.

Canada's Diphtheria Rate Not Abnormal Outside Of Quebec

OTTAWA, July 20—Canada's diphtheria rate is not abnormal outside Quebec Province, where the rate is high, according to a health department statement issued tonight.

In the first five months of 1939, there were 1,108 cases of the disease in Canada, excluding the Yukon and Northwest Territories.

Of these, 88 per cent were reported from the Province of Quebec.

The figures show the statement that Canada is not as diphtheria-ridden as is supposed, a League of Nations figure published exactly a month ago.

Quebec city has the highest diphtheria death rate in the world, 41.7 persons per 100,000.

From Jan. 1 to May 20 this year, Quebec Province had 4.77 cases of diphtheria per 100,000 population, compared to 1.88 cases per 100,000 for all the provinces combined.

The figures for the other provinces were: New Brunswick, 2.56; Manitoba, 2.27; Nova Scotia, 2.13; Saskatchewan, 1.59; Ontario, 1.35; Alberta, 1.28; British Columbia, 1.08 for three months.

The figures for the provinces combined varied from January, when the rate was 2.24, to April when it was 1.59. The Province of Quebec improved gradually from 8.23 in January to 4.25 in May.

When the League figures were published both Dominion and municipal health authorities at Quebec City's record on failure of parents to take advantage of existing facilities for preventing the disease.

Lad Is Drowned In Halifax Harbor

HALIFAX, July 20—Grapples recovered the body of a six-year-old boy in Halifax harbor late tonight after their search had led to the finding of the body of a man slain for months.

Youthful Graham Warnell was found drowned off the ocean terrace near where a five-year-old companion had said he saw him fall into the water yesterday. While searching for him, police brought up the body of H. B. Parker, company foreman, who disappeared last April.

for spoke principally to women, many of them represented Women's Institute throughout the Province. Following the formal address Senator Wilson met many women in small groups and discussed phases of women's work with them.

Tours of Farm

During the morning tours were conducted to different parts of the farm by Mr. F. C. Driscoll in charge of the poultry division, Mr. Warren gardening, and Missie Andrew in charge of cattle at the barns, Mr. R. R. Hurst, and Mr. S. G. Peppin, in charge of laboratory work, Mr. Ivan S. Mitchell, C. Schurman and B. F. Tinney, assistants to Dr. Clark at the farm.

The addresses followed the various tours. One of the interesting items seen at the farm was approximately 1400 pullets and cockerels on a "plantation" carefully guarded from infection by internal parasites.

Ice cream was supplied free yesterday, 25 gallons being consumed, and the large volume of 525 such tickets were given out, it was said.

AT VICTORIA PARK

The campfire at Victoria Park last night completing the fifth day's program of Confederation week celebrations was witnessed by a crowd variously estimated at approximately 4,000 persons.

The program was presented in the centre of a hollow square around an "honest to goodness" campfire. Spectators were grouped in many cases six to eight deep around the square.

Group singing, solos, dancing and instrumental numbers featured the program. A sound system was used to carry the large crowd to hear. Unfortunately unavoidable burning out of half the tubes in the system due to unexpected voltage irregularities probably had the effect of making it difficult to get the program to all the spectators. However the program was enjoyed and given loud applause.

Following the program, individual items of which are given below, the fireworks were put off at Fort Edward. The display was heard only under exceptional conditions and today's incident was given little prominence.

The influential newspaper Kurjer Warszawski has only a brief report on an inside page.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Today the big week comes to an end but the program is not being allowed to "peter out." Indeed today's events are probably the most interesting and today's incident was given little prominence.

Campfire Programme

Following were the items on the campfire programme last night: O A Health Unto His Majesty. The F/ter Billy (action song). French Gavotte—Mylina Notting. No's a Hooper. Helene Colwell. Barbara Belcher. Round Song: "Row, Row, Row Your Boat" (combined).

Scholarships For Young Musicians

SAINT JOHN N. B., July 20—Award of five scholarships to assist talented young musicians was announced tonight by the New Brunswick Music Festival Association. They are the first grants by the Association since a decision was reached to encourage students in this way rather than by conferring shields or cups at the annual festival.

Money value of the scholarships was not stated. They were awarded to Francis Chaplin, 15, of Newcastle, boy violinist who won high praise at the last two festivals; Corey Smith, Moncton, vocal student; Darrell MacPherson, Milltown baritone; Mrs. Pearl Prince, Saint John, pianist; and Douglas Stevens, Saint John, French horn player.

Polish Amazons Ready To Fight

(By The Canadian Press)

WARSAW, Poland, July 20—The district mobilizing officer looked up in surprise. In front of him stood a young peasant woman in the line of young men who had been called to the colors as Poland took steps to meet a national crisis.

"What do you want?" challenged the officer.

"My husband is ill. He is not strong enough to do his duty now. I will take his place for the time being."

"Poland had a 'Woman's Legion' in 1920. During the Great War Polish women served as battlefield couriers. Only a few weeks ago, Mme. Alexandra Pilsudski, widow of Marshal Pilsudski, declared in a public address, 'In the event of war it will not be sufficient for women to replace the men in the rear guard of the army. When necessary they must be prepared to fight the men on the battlefield as well.'"

Today, over 1,000 Polish women, grouped into 43 organizations are preparing themselves to train the rest of the women of Poland to work with the male population in defence of the country.

Foreign observers in evaluating the resistance strength of Poland, take into account not only the comparative youth of the population, 60 per cent being under 30 years of age, but also the physical and moral strength of the Polish women.

Polish history has been particularly rich in heroines. There was Zofia Chrzanowska, who seized command from the hands of her husband when the latter was about to surrender the fortress of Trembowla to the Turks in the 17th century. She held the fort until the arrival of reinforcements.

Two important figures in the Polish uprising against the Russians were Colonel Emilia Plater and Miss Henryka Pusutowa. It is a matter of historical record that Polish women were mainly responsible for saving snow in 1919 and Plock in 1920 from the Ukrainians and Bolsheviks.

Gold and Diamond Rush In Guiana

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, July 20—(CP Cable)—News of rich gold and diamond discoveries in British Guiana's Nazaruni district sent a horde of fortune-seekers flocking upriver today to the rugged hinterland area.

Steamers and motorboats carried scores up the rapids-dotted Nazaruni River as prospectors returning from the district to register claims with the Mines Department displayed pockets of gold dust and precious stones.

Rear Admiral Rene Godroy is in command of the ships the cruisers Georges Leagues, La Gloire and Montcalm and the transport ship Mekong. Count de Poutouville, French Consul at New York, arrived with them.

Niagara Falls Resident Brings Wildlife to City

JOHN B. ROMBOUGH HAS INTRODUCED WILD DUCKS TO HYDE PARK LAKE.

(Courier-Express Niagara Falls Bureau)

City lakes like that at Hyde Park here may be the means of compensating for the short of the marsh lands in preservation of the duck flocks of the country.

Under protection and patronage of this municipality there are scores of young mallards feathering and developing what might be considered a duck's vocational knowledge.

There's not far removed from their wild swampland ancestry, and to a number of them will stretch their wings wide in the fall and wing in line with flocks headed for the Cardinas or other southern points. It's no more than others have done in the last several years. This business has been going on half a dozen years. John B. He said he would donate part of mallards if the city would take Hyde Park Lake duckworthy. The municipal council took it upon Romboough to send in the birds.
