TO-DAY the American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents meets a Lake Worth, Fla. All the great railroads of the United States and Florida are represented in the gathering, which will discuss tickets and fares from every point of view and to the end of the chapter. Possibly these assembled railroad dignities may have something to say about passes. Passes are cheap, so are our Suits; but there is no use crying over spilt milk. No doubt you will have no spilt milk to cry over if you make the opportunities for economy which we are offering in our sale of Suits materialize in cash to your own advantage. We don't make light of the public, but we make it light for them; light for their pocket books by a schedule of prices that cannot be found elsewhere in this city. We are showing a snow storm of values to-day and all the week that is burying competition out of sight. Don't miss something it will pay you to see. This week we are clearing as many as possible of Suits and Furnishings at ridiculously low prices.

To be thoroughly well mounted is one of the first principles of cycling. Do not deny yourself the extra comfort and luxury derivable from a first-class wheel by buying other than a Columbia.
