Before the Hot weather Goes

We have some goods that are exclusive for summer only. We will not hold them over until next year if low prices—very low prices—will clear them out. May we mention our Straw Hats. You can buy a straw hat at our store for less than we can buy them by the thousand—all new goods, no old stock. In Carriage Wraps we have them from 30c up. We take a pride in talking about our Gingham and Print Cottons. A word is sufficient to you. Drop in and see them.

OUR MIDSUMMER SALE OF CLOTHING

Do you want a light summer Coat? Do you want a pair of Pants for 75c? Did you see our all wool pants for $1.50? Did you see our Men's Tweed Suits for $4.50? Did you see our Boys' Suits for $1.00? If you are in need of any ready to wear Clothing, call at the Bargain Corner, for with every suit or pants we sell, we give a fit.

Just a Minute

You may be busy; so are we, and have been all the Spring. So busy that we did not have time to advertise and tell you all the fine things we have for this season and the low prices we are selling for, but the people find us out, for it takes over forty people to keep the orders we get made up, so it keeps us moving to keep everything going right. But for those who do not know, we might say that we keep all the old reliable cloths such as Bellwarp Coating and Serges, Tyke and Blenheim Serges, Fashionable Trouserings to no end. Come and see us and see our stock and the fine clothes we make.

Although Miss Evelyn Lease of Kansas is only 17 years old, she has already taken to the lecture platform.

Mrs. Beasley of Philadelphia rejoices in an income of $20,000 a year, derived from an invention of her own, a machine that hoops barrels.

Miss Mary Secord Packard of Bayonne, N. J., is the first woman to receive the degree of doctor of medicine at Johns Hopkins university.

Miss Edith Roth died recently in Boston and left $10,000 to the Shelter for Unprotected Girls, an institution at Syracuse. The money will be used to erect a new dormitory.

Miss Ellen Glasgow is the name of a young Virginia woman who has produced an exceptionally interesting book called "The Descendant." She is from Richmond and is less than 25 years of age.

Miss Edith Cornelia Russ of Rome, N. Y., was sent as delegate to the Universalist convention, held recently in Auburn, N. Y. Miss Russ is said to be the first woman ever sent from that town to a church convention.

Isabel Darlington graduated the other day from the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, the only woman in a class of 74. She was also one of the 17 members of the class who received their diplomas cum laude.

Mrs. John Elitch of Denver is probably the only woman in the world who owns and personally manages a zoological garden. She drives a large ostrich attached to a light spring wagon. He is a "pacing bird" and travels rapidly in harness.

Mrs. McKinley was lately presented with a magnificent lace handkerchief by Mrs. R. F. Thorne of La Cygne, Kan., who wished to show her respect and love for "the first lady of the land." The work was all done by hand and contains 80,000 pieces.

Two Chicago women, Mrs. Sophie Gage, daughter-in-law of Secretary Gage, and Mrs. Alice P. Henderson, have gone on a 5,000 mile trip into the arctic regions. Mrs. Henderson, who takes her 2-year-old baby girl with her, will gather material for a book.

Mrs. Orniston Chant has smoked a cigarette. She did so when detained within the Turkish lines to see if it would allay the pangs of hunger, and, though she says that she is now better able to understand the charms of tobacco, she still disapproves of its use by women.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland attended the recent commencement exercises at Wells college in Aurora, N. Y., and was present at the unveiling of the triple memorial window which her class presented to the college, and the funds for which were secured largely through her efforts. She was graduated in 1885.

POULTRY NOTES.

Never use sulphur with grease to drive away the lice.

Young ducks require more bulky feed than chickens.

It is almost impossible to have healthy fowls if the quarters are filthy.

Do not pluck the geese until the goslings are all hatched and out of the way.

Generally the more active the breed the less liable the fowls are to fatten.

Feed the turkeys liberally with grain at night as an inducement for them to come home.

For diarrhea in chickens give them boiled milk in which some chalk has been stirred.

Lime and lice do not agree. If the lime sticks, the lice will not. Use lime white-wash freely.

By using a good spray pump for applying kerosene, every crack and crevice in the poultry house can be filled with it.

While soft feed is more easily digested than whole grain, a chicken fed exclusively upon it will shrink more in dressing.

A good egg producing ration for summer is wheat and oats mixed with sweet milk, with a good bran mash.—St. Louis Republic.

TIRE PUNCTURES.

The Rev. Thomas Gregory says that the bicycle threatens civilization. However, if civilization will keep out of the parks and not try to cross the street, there will be no danger.—Chicago Post.

It is noticeable that the old folks are not so severe on bicycles as they used to be. The wheel has been shown to be a promoter of romance and as a means of saving gas bills nothing has been found to equal it.—Baltimore American.

Those dancing masters who complain that the bicycle is destroying their business are not wise. They should invent a step which will enable the ordinary citizen to dance out of the way of the scorching.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

It is noted as a singular fact that while most of the street bicycle accidents last year resulted in injury to pedestrians, this season it is the wheelman who is generally hurt. It would seem as if the pedestrian had become more expert in the art of dodging and the wheelman more reckless in his scorching.—Paterson Call.

ARCHITECTURAL.

In the great church at Mengo, Uganda, there are over 200 trees to support the roof. Each of these trees took 100 men to draw it up the hill.

The Manhattan Life building, New York city, which is 350 feet high, is the tallest business edifice in the world. It is 70 feet higher than the famous Trinity church steeple.

The oldest wooden building in the world is a church at Borgund, Norway. It was erected in the eleventh century, and frequent coats of pitch have preserved the wood from decay.

The tower of Babel at Babylon was composed of eight square towers, one upon the other, the pile being 660 feet high. Babylon was a square, 15 miles on each side, the walls being 87 feet thick and 370 feet high.

BETTER than cure is prevention. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla you may keep well, with pure blood, strong nerves and a good APPETITE.

The Bell Organ & Piano Co., Ltd

Dear Sis,—Allow me to compliment you on the qualities of the Piano ordered from you for the Toronto Conservatory of Music. The tone is remarkably pure and brilliant throughout, while the bass is deep and powerful. The mechanism is apparently perfect, the touch elastic, and in appearance the entire Piano is a work of art

Yours truly,

(Signed)
