THE LIBERAL CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION

Platform Adopted—Dr. Jenkins the Candidate

A CONVENTION of delegates, representing the Liberal Conservative party in all parts of Queen's County, was held in the Academy of Music, in this city, this afternoon. The following delegates were in attendance, William Haslam, Esq., of Springfield, and a few others being unavoidably absent:—

- Frank Conroy, Charlottetown. John Kelly, do. Alex. Horne, do. Chas. Lyons, do. E. W. Dawson, do. A. A. McLean, do. James Byrne, do. P. Blake, do. Richard Walsh, do. Henry Burke, Pownal. Michael Desvoeux, New Haven. Dr. McNeill, Stanley Bridge. Geo. E. McKay, Ch' town. Robert B. Stewart, Strathgartney. John Binns, New Glasgow. Donald Ferguson, Lot 34. Henry Boyver, Lot 48. Patrick Duffy, Lot 48. Abraham Hogan, Hope River. Abraham Gill, Little York. John Forrester, New London. Donald W. Palmer, Crapaud. Anthony Collett, Crapaud. O. B. Wadman, Crapaud. Charles A. Crosby, Long River. Pat. Trainor, Lot 30. Isaac Canning, Lot 22. Peter Trainor, Johnson River. James Ross, Mount Stewart. Robert McVitty, Lot 29. Malcolm McNeill, Lot 65. Thomas Crane, China Point. Edward Grant, Seal River. Peter Campbell, Grand Tracadie. William McGrath, Mill Cove. M. W. Murphy, Mill Cove. Thomas Duggan, Tracadie Cross Road. Edward M. Grant, Orwell. Andrew O'Keefe, Piquid Road, Lot 49.

Hon. Donald Ferguson moved the following resolutions which were seconded by Dr. McNeill, and carried unanimously:—

Resolved, That we record our unalloyed confidence in the Government of Sir John Mc Donald, and rejoice to observe that the fiscal policy of his administration has raised the credit of the country to a position which it never before attained; and, at the same time, has proved the wisdom of its authors by carrying the country through a period of widespread depression without permanent injury to the great and varied interests which that policy has so signally encouraged and promoted since its adoption by the Parliament of Canada.

Resolved, That we entertain the warmest admiration of the great energy and ability displayed by the present Government in the carrying forward to an early completion of the great national work of constructing a railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific through Canadian Territory, and which affords a striking contrast to the mismanagement, vacillation, and bad faith which characterized the Canada Pacific Railway Policy of the late administration.

Resolved, That we observe with satisfaction the steps taken by the Government for the construction of the Cape Traverse Branch Railway, and the appropriation by Parliament of a sum for harbor improvements at Cape Tormentine, and express our earnest hope that in the interest of this Province and the whole Dominion the fulfillment of that part of the articles of Confederation requiring the maintenance by Canada of continuous and efficient steam communication, winter and summer, between this Island and the main land shall be no longer delayed.

Resolved, That in view of the early abrogation of the Fishery Articles of the Treaty of Washington, and the increasing strength of public feeling in the United States in favor of the renewal of reciprocal trade relations with Canada, a feeling which is evidently due in no small degree to the operation of the National Policy, we have every confidence that Sir John Macdonald will, by the exercise of that tact and skill which contributed so much to the framing of the Washington Treaty, secure, if possible, the establishment of Reciprocal Free Trade with the United States on a just and liberal basis.

Resolved, That as J. T. Jenkins, Esq., M. P., received at our hands our unanimous nomination as one of our candidates in the General Election 1882, and as he still continues an unflinching supporter of the great Liberal Conservative Party, we do now concur in the said nomination, and pledge to Dr. Jenkins the earnest support of the party in the present contest.

Resolved, That we cannot allow the tie which has so long connected us politically with our late representative Frederick De St. C. Brecken, Esq., to be severed without placing on record the high estimation in which we hold the services he has rendered his active Province during his long public life, as well as our appreciation of those honorable and unselfish qualities which have endeared him to the people of the Province irrespective of party.

There is check with the Grits for ever and aye. As it was in the past, it remains till this day; With slander full freighted they purpose to fight, And strive as of yore our progress to blight. Though their Leaders have said with a countenance sad, "Free Trade is impossible"—cannot be had; Their satellites local, as hypocrites say, The N. P. will surely be put far away. They forget for the time their record so blurred, And pose as reformers—misuse of the word; Their "ballot box stuffing" and "madiver" plot, With scores of such cases shall ne'er be forgot. The day of election is hastening along, 'Twill favor the right and banish the wrong; And the Grit who is anxious to win Brecken's seat, Will suffer a positive, signal defeat.

Lord Beaconsfield's Papers.

Lord Rowton, who has recently returned from a long visit to Pau, was at Windsor last week on a visit to the Queen, who, I hear, is very anxious for the early publication of the first instalment of Lord Beaconsfield's papers. A selection from his "remains" down to the close of 1851 might appear at once, but it is manifestly impossible that anything of special interest relating to the latter portion of his life can be published for a long time to come, at least without the risk of vexatious and irritating controversies. Whatever is published will, of course, be most carefully edited, or I suspect that the Queen would be slightly astonished at the bitterness with which Mr. Disraeli inveighed against the Court for many years, and particularly against Prince Albert, who greatly disliked him, and who, if he had lived, would have done his best to prevent him from being Prime Minister. I wonder whether Lord Rowton will publish the correspondence which passed when, contrary to all precedent, Mr. and Mrs. Disraeli were not invited to the State balls and concerts.—London Truth.

The St. John Globe must be hard up for material on which to base an attack on its political opponents. Referring to the appointment of Hon. A. A. McDonald, late postmaster of Charlottetown, to the office of Lieutenant Governor, and the probable appointment of Mr. Brecken, M. P., to the vacant Postmastership, it says:—

That a Postmaster of a small place not equal in postal importance to the Postmastership of Moncton should be promoted to the Governorship of a Province may be considered a surprise indeed, but that a man with the reputation and political self-importance of Mr. Brecken, the leader of the Conservative party in his district, should take the office vacated by the Postmaster is certainly a greater surprise.

The Globe's compliment to Moncton is at the expense of truth. Charlottetown, though not a very extensive city, is nearly half as large as St. John as far as population goes, and is a place of considerable commercial importance. The revenue of the Charlottetown office is much larger than that of the Moncton office, and Charlottetown being the head of the postal system of the Island Province, the work is greater and more important. The Charlottetown Postmaster receives $1,900, and he has eight or nine assistants. The staff of the Moncton office consists of a Postmaster and two assistants, whose combined salary is less than that of the Charlottetown Postmaster. We do not think, however, that the disparity in salaries paid at the two offices should be so great, and we may reasonably expect an increase in staff and salaries at Moncton when the new post office is occupied.—Moncton Times.

Among the distinguished persons present were the Duke of Cambridge, Sir Charles and Lady Tupper, Sir Henry and Lady Wilmot, and Col Gzowski. His Royal Highness inspected the team, and complimented the men upon their excellent shooting, and congratulated the Dominion upon its unity, as exhibited by representatives from all the Provinces contending for the cup, which they had more than once already won after a hardy contested struggle. Sir Charles Tupper presented the Kolapore Cup to Private J. Mitchell, of the 13th Batt, Hamilton, who made the highest aggregate score. The Duke and party were afterwards entertained by Sir Henry and Lady Wilmot.
