Go to Alberton tea to-morrow. The City Council meets this evening at 7.30. A GRAND tea party takes place at Alberton to-morrow. The bodies recovered from the Daphne disaster number 124. WARREN'S Safe Kidney Cure, Kidney Wort and Van Buren's Kidney Cure, at WATSON'S. ARCHIBALD FORBES, the well known correspondent of the London press, arrived last week at St. Francis from Australia. AYER'S AGUE CURE never fails to cure Fever and Ague, and all malarial disorders. Warranted. [Aug 13 1w wky]

THE POTATO BUG UP WEST.—Mr. Joseph Bernard, of Nail Pond, Lot 1, picked seventy-two bugs off one potato stock last Friday.

COALS TO NEWCASTLE.—Among other freight by steamer "Princess of Wales" from Point de Chen to Summerside, on Friday, was a consignment of five hundred bushels of P. E. Island oats. MR. JOHN MCCORMACK, (Neil's son) of Broughton Island, recently caught three mackerel, each of which measured eighteen inches, and turned the scale at seven pounds and thirteen ounces.

REV. ALEXANDER F. CZITKOVICS, who died in New Orleans, on the 2nd instant, at the age of seventy-six, was some years ago in Canada. He was the founder of the order of Redemptorists in America, and was director of the sisters of Notre Dame.

WE have not heard whether or not there is a contract between the Burdock Blood Bitters Company and the city authorities, but there is at present a splendid growth of the plant on Queen Street, and on Richmond street, and doubtless in other quarters suitable for its culture. Some young girls were mischievously pulling the burrs lately and throwing them at the coats of passers-by. This should be stopped, as it spoils clothes, wastes the article, encourages misconduct, and may vitiate the contract, if one exists. The burdocks should either be cut down or railed in.

OBITUARY.—A despatch from Maitland, N. S., to the Halifax Herald reports the sudden death of Hon. A. M. Cochrane. Mr. Cochrane was of Irish descent. He was born at Newport, Hants Co., N. S., October, 1811, and was accordingly in his 72nd year. He represented North Hants in the Nova Scotia assembly from 1850 to 1863, and was one of the so called "disqualified." In 1875 he was appointed to the legislative council, and after the defeat of the Hill Government was the nominal leader of his party in that body. On the formation of the present local government of Nova Scotia he was given a seat in it.

THE Nova Scotia Steamship Co. has now steamer "New York" running between Annapolis and Boston; the steamer "New Brunswick" between Boston and Yarmouth, Liverpool, and Lunenburg, N. S.; in addition to the steamer "Empress" and "Dominion," sailing from St. John and their respective lay routes. The company has lately added to their fleet the steamers "Cleopatra" and "Secret," both of which are to be put in thorough sea-going order forthwith. The company displays great enterprise and spirit, and shows full determination to fully meet present and future requirements of the Bay of Fundy in the steamboat line, and from the personnel of the directorate there is no doubt that they will succeed.—St. John Telegraph.

EDUCATIONAL.—Candidates for admission to the P. W. College, as students, are required to present themselves on Tuesday the 21st inst., for examination in the following subjects:—English, Arithmetic, Geography, History, Latin and Mathematics. Those who have obtained a pass in the entrance examination to the Normal School need not take the examination in the four subjects first above mentioned; but they must secure a pass in Latin and Mathematics. The candidates who have been reported as passed in the examinations to the Normal School, but who desire to study for second class license, must take the same examination in Latin and Mathematics as candidates for entrance, as students, into the college. Those who propose to study for first class license must submit to such an examination in Latin, Mathematics, and French, as would be set for candidates for second class license.

AMONG those who have been successful at the drawing at St. Patrick's bazaar, Halifax, is Mrs. John Hughes, of this city. She won a West India basket worth $25.00.

WE learn that a telegram was received to-day announcing that Mr. Judson Crawford has turned up at Summerside. Considerable uneasiness will thus be allayed. A GRAND moonlight excursion will take place on Wednesday evening next under the auspices of the Sons of Temperance. Steamer "Southport" leaves Ferry Wharf at 8 o'clock. Further particulars in handbills. 3i

THE yacht "Wanderer," owned by C. N. Weld, of Boston, arrived here on Saturday afternoon. She is 96 tons, draws eleven feet of water, and in length measures one hundred and sixty feet over all. She is handsomely rigged and well fitted. Mr. Weld and party visited Dunk River Hatchery on Saturday, and returned to-day. They leave for Nova Scotia to-morrow.

Our Advertisers. A. H. McPherson, City Clerk, announces that Thursday next (Caledonia Day) has been proclaimed a public holiday. William Dodd will sell, on Pownal Wharf, to-morrow evening, at six o'clock, a lot of refuse deal and hemlock boards. A. McNeill gives notice that the annual gathering of the Caledonian Club will take place on the grounds of Hon. John Longworth on Thursday next, 16th inst.

W. & A. Brown & Co., and several other prominent dry goods merchants, signify their intention of closing their stores at one p. m., on Thursday next, Caledonia Day. Value of String. A good exhibition of the value of string was given in New York city on the occasion of the fire at Munro buildings in Rose Street. Fourteen firemen were cut off in the upper stories of the building by a "back draught," which surrounded them suddenly with smoke and flames and cut of their retreat by the stairs or fire escape. They crawled on their hands and knees to a window and called for help, but the noise in the street prevented their cries from being understood, it being thought that they were calling for more hose, and preparations were being made to send it up to them. Finally Chief Gicquel saw their peril and a ladder was raised for their rescue, but it was too short. Finally one of the imprisoned men found a piece of string which he lowered to the ground; a life-line was drawn up, speedily made fast inside, and the men began their descent to the ground. One of them was so faint from exhaustion that he was unable to clasp the rope and slid down it some fifty feet, lacerating his hands terribly. The others reached the ground in safety, but scarcely had they done so when the flames burst from the windows they had just abandoned. Fourteen lives saved by a bit of string.

Aquatic. The coming regatta at Watkins, N. Y., will be the greatest aquatic event of the year. Great interest centres in the professional single scull race for a purse of $3,000. There are fourteen entries, viz:—Hanlan, Courtney, Hoamer, Ross, Lee, Ten Eyck, Edward Ross, Gaudaur, Ritz, Elliott, Plaisted, Sharlow, Teamer, and Griffin. Hanlan is in perfect condition; he weighs 164 lbs. and is confident of first place. He said the water was very fast, and if the lake was as still next week as it has been during this, all previous records would be lowered. His Ogdensburg quarrel with Courtney was not exaggerated, and though hopeful he fears Courtney will not row. In that case Hanlan reiterates his intention to challenge him for a large amount, and if he refuses to row pay him no further attention. Current report that he and Courtney had a private race for their own satisfaction was news to Hanlan. Hosmer is hopeful of second place, conceding first to Hanlan. Courtney, when interviewed, said he came to row and settle the question of supremacy, and that the Ogdensburg quarrel brought him. He anticipates the fastest race ever rowed, and one of the greatest throngs to witness and "If Hanlan can make the time he claims," said Courtney, "he can beat us all, but I do not believe he will have the liveliest race of his life." In reference to his own threat to break up their combination, he said: "They will see when we come to row. The course is splendid. The race will be honest. I am on record and am going to pull. I would prefer a single heat, but did not come to object to anything. The best man is he who wins the most races, and that seems to be Hanlan. He may win here; but I come to decide the issue, not to predict it."

The Home on the Wave.

The following stanzas were written nearly extempore, and with the object of attracting the attention of tourists to our lovely Island at this season of the year. The air is one of great beauty, and demands a much better set of words:— Air.—Smile again my Bonnie Lassie.

I. Now summer flings her flowerets free, Like bridal wreaths, my bonnie lassie, Oh,—wilt thou cross the rolling sea, My bride to be,—my bonnie lassie. Come with me,—Oh, come with me, Fly with me,—my bonnie lassie, Where forests wave, and blue seas lave, My Island home, my bonnie lassie.

II. 'Tis there the flowers of beauty blow, Thro' glade and grove, my bonnie lassie, Where streams of liquid crystal flow, Love's fairy dream, my bonnie lassie; Come with me,—oh! come with me, Fly with me, my bonnie lassie, Where green woods wave, and blue seas lave, My Island home,—my bonnie lassie.

III. Then smile again, as none can smile, Thy sweet consent, my bonnie lassie, Neath beauty's smile, in fairy isle, Thy home shall be, my bonnie lassie, Come with me,—oh! come with me, Fly with me, my bonnie lassie, Where forests wave, and blue seas lave, My Island home, my bonnie lassie.

IV. 'Tis there we'll rove, thro' wild wood glens, And flowers of bloom, my bonnie lassie, Thro' haunts the cushat only kens, And echo mocks her song sae saucy, Come with me, oh! come with me, Fly with me, my bonnie lassie, Where green woods wave, and blue seas lave, My Island home, my bonnie lassie.
