THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 13, 1892.

Notes and Comments.

—Through the carelessness of some of the surgeons and the doctors attached to the staff of the Health Office of New York, the people of that city were recently exposed to a deadly typhus epidemic. Since then an Arabian leper, Mrs. Chaded, has been brought to New York on the steamship Amsterdam, and the surgeon of the ship and the doctors at quarantine who "inspected" her failed to discover that the ends of her fingers and toes had dropped off from leprosy. Hundreds of steerage passengers were thus exposed to the contagion of leprosy, which would not have occurred if proper caution had been exercised.

—Mr. Taylor, the chief Government whip at Ottawa, gives the following as the standing of the two political parties in the House of Commons on the eve of prorogation :

Conservatives	141
Grits	71
Speaker	1
Two vacancies	2
Full House	215

Commenting upon this showing the Halifax Mail says : Should the Government carry the two vacant seats,—Chicoutimi and Marquette,—as is not improbable, the majority will be 73 with the speaker in the chair,—or 4 more than a two-third majority. This fact is all the more interesting in view of the boasting and blowing in which our Grit friends were indulging about this time last year. The wise elector would do well to bear this fact well in mind, as a security against being misled by Grit boasting and blowing in the future.

—It is a well known fact that, as an agent for carrying the germs of infectious diseases, street dust is very dangerous, and the published opinion of a learned medical authority in Europe, presents some facts about the matter that are worth considering. He says that it is necessary to bear in mind that the dust which surrounds us is not only inhaled and swallowed, and that after settling on the skin and being retained by its moisture is taken up and swept away by the current of the circulation, but that it also fastens on to our shoes and clothing and can in this way be brought into and infect the interior of our houses. In this way can be explained the outbreak of diseases of which we are frequently unable to detect the origin. The broom should, therefore, disappear from the means of keeping highways in order, and to water alone should be confided the care of removing the dust which covers the streets, water used first in the form of a shower to lay the dust and afterward thrown in a vigorous stream by means of a hose to sweep the mud into the sewers.

—We sometimes hear eulogistic references made to the people of the United States as being of the same race, religion and language as ourselves. It was one of these comments, recently made, that prompted the Halifax Herald to point out that apart from the question of religion, it is clear that they are certainly not of our race or of our language. Take, for instance, Chicago as a representative northwestern city. It claims to have a population of 1,200,000, and yet less than one-fifth are of native United States birth or descent. The different races composing the population are thus classified :

American	292,463	Hollanders	4,912
German	348,958	Hungarians	4,827
Irish	215,534	Swiss	2,735
Bohemian	54,209	Roumanians	4,350
Polish	52,756	Canadians	6,989
Swedish	45,877	Belgians	682
Norwegian	44,615	Greeks	698
English	33,785	Spanish	297
French	12,963	Portuguese	34
Scotch	11,927	East Indians	28
Welsh	2,966	West Indians	37
Russian	9,977	Sandwich Isld'rs	31
Danes	9,801	Mongolians	1,217
talians	8,921
			1,208,669

Of the 1,200,000 of population there are only about 6,000 Canadians; but the German population is not only in excess of the American, but of the English, Irish, Scotch and Canadian together.

News Notes.

There were seven deaths from cholerine in Paris on the 8th inst.

Owing to the prevelance of cholera at Baku the government offices have been transferred to Kashari, 165 verats from Baku.

There have been reported in Saratoff 40 new cases of cholera and 11 deaths from the disease. In Astrakhan 112 new cases have been reported. The hospital record in Astrakhan is incomplete.

In St. Petersburg it is rumored that despite the efforts made to prevent it cholera has reached Moscow, where the total absence of sewerage renders the situation most dangerous. Several passengers on board the steamer Orinoco, bound from Astrakhan for Niamni, died from cholera on the steamer.

Scores of human lives were sacrificed this morning at the Giant Powdor Works, near West Berkley, says a San Francisco despatch dated 9th July. Chinese lives, they were, all save three, but human for all that, and to-night the bodies of those who defied death by seeking employment in the compounding of explosives lie blackened and mangled and disfigured in the ruins of the works. Just how many lives were lost in the explosion, which occurred at half-past nine o'clock, is not known. It is reported that there are 104 dead, all told, but only a few of the bodies have been recovered, the condition of the buildings and danger of other explosions making it impossible to explore the ruins and remove the victims. Possibly dozens of Chinese are pinned down under the fallen timbers and their lives might be saved were it possible to get at them.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING

Relief for St. John's

Generous Contributions

An Energetic Committee Appointed.

THE meeting called last night by His Worship the Mayor, in accordance with the request of a delegation of citizens appointed at a previous meeting, was well attended. About 8.30 o'clock the meeting was called to order, with the Mayor in the chair, and J. T. Mellish, Esq, secretary. Among those present we noticed His Lordship Bishop McDonald, Senator Howlan, Hon. L. H. Davies, D. Farquharson, Attorney-General Peters, C. C. Gardiner, P. McCourt, P. Blake, Esqs, and several of the city clergymen. A letter of regret at not being able to attend the meeting was read from John Ings, Esq, and enclosing a cheque for $20 for the relief fund.

Charles Palmer, Esq, was the first speaker. He said that he was glad to see this meeting had been called. What was wanted just now was money—lots of money. Money was wanted from all classes and creeds—from rich, poor, high, low—everybody. If anything should touch our people's sympathy, it was a calamity such as this. He was glad to see that Halifax had so nobly led the van in the relief of the sufferers. Let Charlottetown be not behind hand. We may not have money, but we have three good meals every day. We should see that these poor calamity-stricken people have the same.

The Mayor then explained that Jas. E. Grant, Esq., had authorized him to put his name down for five barrels of flour, Mr Grant not being able to attend the meeting himself.

Senator Howlan, the next speaker, said that the people of St. John's had a greater need than money. That was food, clothing, bedding, etc. He thought a committee should be formed to canvass the whole Island for such articles. St. John's is not situated as Charlottetown. In Charlottetown, should anything of the kind occur, we would have the have the homesteads of our farmers to go to, but in St. John's, fleeing from the stricken city they had nowhere to go to but a barren hill-land with no farms or shelter of any sort. If our M P's., throwing all party and politics to the wind, would become members of the committee, he thought that they would do well in the canvass. A steamer carrying supplies from Halifax and other cities could call in here at regular intervals until the close of navigation. The sufferers would then get supplies regularly and would know when to look for them.

Hon. D. Laird was pleased to see such influential men on the platform and in the body of the hall. Something must be done, and that quickly. Every additional day meant additional suffering.

Hon. L H Davies said that this calamity appealed to our humanity — our Christianity. He thought the best thing to do would be to appoint a committee of 12 or 13 to be called the "Newfoundland Relief Committee. People who could not give money would, he thought, be able to give clothing, food or bedding He thought the Provincial Government should do something to assist the sufferers. A place should be provided to store all contributions and ladies should be asked to assist in packing them.

The Attorney General said that the feeling in Charlottetown and all over the Island was that of deepest sympathy with the St. John's sufferers. Those who deal in produce with Newfoundland know what hardships the working people of that colony have to endure. He said he had called a meeting of the Government for Thursday next, and he had no doubt that something would be done by them to aid the sufferers.

T. C. James, Esq., said that no one in the hall could be more interested in the relief of the sufferers than he. His mother and sisters in St. John's had been burnt out. He had telegraphed to the Superintendent of his company there asking what relief would be most appreciated, and had received a reply stating that meats, butter, etc, would be appreciated. There is now in one of our banks an amount left over from the fund of the St. John, N. B., sufferers. He did not see why this could not be drawn and sent to the present sufferers in Newfoundland.

D. Farquharson suggested that before the committee be organized it would be better that everybody should know what work would have to be done and anyone not having time to do the work should not go on the committee.

Mr. P. Blake sympathized deeply as he knew every man in the hall did, with the St. John's sufferers. He hoped that no delay would occur in sending a bountiful supply of provisions, etc., to them. All the warehouses in St. John's where provisions were kept had been destroyed by fire. He thought a steamer should at once be despatched with a cargo of provisions and clothing to the sufferers. He knew that our country people would only be too happy to help them by giving clothing, food and other articles. He said that potatoes would be very acceptable and could be procured here at a very low price.

Rev. Mr. Hamlyn thought that the committee should be chosen from Charlottetown, Summerside and Georgetown, thus giving a better representation of the whole Island.

Mr. M. P. Hogan, Esq., did not agree with speakers who said money was not needed. Money could do anything. It was man's best friend. It would be greatly needed to purchase medicine and to pay the doctors, besides many other things. He thought the people should donate money as well as anything else.

Mr. Warburton suggested that the steamer Princess of Wales might be utilized in carrying whatever we may have to send to the scene of the disaster. If she was not fit another vessel should at once be obtained.

The following resolution was moved by Mr. Davies, M. P., and seconded by Hon. Senator Howlan :—

"That this meeting do now nominate and appoint a committee of thirteen persons to act as a Relief Committee for the sufferers by the fire in St. John's Newfoundland, and that such committee do collect all contributions in cash or kind from any persons or corporations willing to give the same, and forward the same to St. John's, to be distributed to the sufferers there in the manner the committee may determine."

The following gentlemen were appointed on this committee : Hon. L. H. Davies, Senator Howlan, Charles Palmer, Patrick Blake, C. C. Gardiner, A. B. Warburton, Charles Lyons, T. C. James, D. Farquharson, D. Laird, George Peake, James Byrne, Attorney-General Peters.

On motion of Mr. Charles Palmer, seconded by Mr. Laird, all the clergymen of the city were made ex-officio members of the committee.

Mr. P. Blake moved that a subscription list be at once opened, to give those present an opportunity of subscribing without further trouble. Carried.

While the subscription was being signed the committee organized for work by appointing Mr. T. C. James treasurer, and Mr. Geo. Peake secretary.

Messrs. P. Blake and George Peake were appointed a committee to procure a warehouse and office for the reception and storing of provisions, etc, for the relief committee.

The secretary was requested to communicate with members of the Provincial Parliament and the clergy throughout the Island, asking their co operation.

Messrs. Blake and Gardiner were appointed to wait on Mr. Unsworth in reference to free transport over the Island Railway, and T. C. James and Chas. Lyons, Esqs., were appointed to find the best manner of sending such provisions, etc., to Newfoundland.

It was resolved to send a schooner with a cargo of provisions, clothing, bedding and other articles at once and not wait for a steamer.

The Mayor of Summerside and John McLean, Esq, M. P., Souris, will be asked to cooperate in the relief of the sufferers and to solicit contributions in adjoining districts.

The committee have obtained Welsh and Owen's building on Queen St. for an office and warehouse, where contributions will be thankfully received. All contributions will be duly acknowledged in the public press.

The sum contributed at last night's meeting amounted to nearly $500—a very good beginning

Every family in the city capable of doing anything should send in their contributions at once.

A meeting of the committee will be held in Welsh and Owen's building this afternoon at four o'clock.

In addition to the contributions received last night, the following are acknowledged with thanks :

The subscription list is at the Anglo-American Telegraph office, and cash contributions may be handed in there, or the amounts paid to any member of the committee. These will be promptly acknowledged through the press.

T. C. JAMES,
Treasurer.

The Strawberry Festival & Apron Fair.

The old Market Hall has been transformed into a most attractive bazaar by the ladies under whose direction the Strawberry Festival and Apron Sale is today being held in aid of the Charlottetown Hospital.

On the left hand side of the hall is a long table containing a bewildering array of aprons—large and small, fashionable and plain, some with frills and some without; but in number sufficient to supply any demand. This table is under the care of Mrs Sullivan, Mrs. D. O. M. Reddin, Mrs. P. Blake, Mrs. J. D. Mason, Mrs. M. Blake, and Mrs S. Jenkins.

The tea table is a sight to rejoice man's heart. The greatest bit of information that can be given with regard to it is to say that tea will be ready at 5 o'clock. This table is attended to by Mrs. Handrahan, Mrs. Higgins, Mrs. Eden, Mrs. Beaton and Mrs. Campbell.

At the end of the hall is the flower table where beauty is holding court. From the artistic point of view, judgment will be given in favor of this table as the most attractive feature in the room. In attendance at this table are Mrs. P. Blake, Miss Sullivan and Miss May Sullivan, Miss Strickland, Miss Blake, Miss Hickey, Miss Annie Reddin, Miss Bertie Jenkins, Miss Ella Blake.

The ice-cream table is so well supplied that there need be no fear of lack of patronage, especially on such a hot day as this is It is looked after by Mrs. Conroy, Mrs. Ledwell, Mrs. Robins, Miss Holloran and Miss Mooney.

The strawberry table, where are to be found luscious strawberries and sweet cream in abundance, is under the supervision of Mrs. Doiron, Miss Emma Quirk, Miss May Macdonald, Miss Burris, Miss Caven, Miss Gertie Mason, Miss M. A. McCarron, Miss Sullivan, Miss M. Langtry.

We cordially advise all to go to the Hall to-night, when music will be supplied by Worth's Band.

CONFIRMED.—The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrop of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers the California Fig Syrup Company.

Supreme Court.

BEFORE MR. JUSTICE HODGSON AND A JURY.

WEDNESDAY, July 13.

Alexander McDonald vs. Charles Coles and others. This was an action for an alleged trespass on land near Milton, Lot 32. The plaintiff claimed title to the land by possession. The disputed territory is woodland, and is situated at the rear of the farm owned by the plaintiff, but which, it is contended, is not included within the boundaries laid down by his documentary title. The plaintiff claimed that many years ago he had run a line around the piece of land in dispute and blazed the trees marking such line and had exercised acts of ownership over it by cutting trees on several occasions. The plaintiff's case occupied all yesterday and this forenoon. The plaintiff was non-suited. The learned judge holding that to establish title by possession there must be open, notorious and visible possession in the claimant for twenty years, such a possession so visible and notorious that if the true owner were to pass the premises during the currency of the twenty years, he would at a glance see that an adverse holder was in possession. In the present case the mere running of a line and the blazing of trees alone were not sufficient acts to establish the necessary open and notorious possession, and the cutting trees were only acts of trespass for which the real owner could have sued the plaintiff. The case of Sherren and Pearson decided on appeal from this Court to the Supreme Court of Canada was in accordance with the law thus laid down. This case His Lordship said was binding on him, and was a far stronger case than the present, but the Court at Ottawa held acts far stronger to be no evidence of possession. Therefore, upon the authority of the Sherren-Pearson case, the plaintiff had failed to make out his title and should be non-suited.

A. A. McLean for plaintiff; Davies, Q. C, for the defendants.

Before Mr. Justice Hensley and a jury : McKenna vs. Fisk.—Action of trespass. This case was tried last June (1891) before Mr. Justice Hodgson and a jury, when a verdict was found for the defendant. The Court subsequently set this verdict aside, and ordered a new trial, which is now on.

N. McLeod, Q. C., for plaintiff; Davies, Q. C., and Peters for the defendant.
