

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

INTERNATIONAL

Crossing the Atlantic on a steamer, one is made aware of the marvellous flying power of sea birds. Large numbers follow the ship for the entire journey...

With squalls and callings Herring Gulls flap and glide alongside the ship, often at eye level and no more than 20 yards distant. They are such pretty creatures...

Why do birds choose Canada?

The Standard

Requires a few smart carrier boys and girls for home delivery service in Charlottetown. All boys or girls interested in selling this popular weekly newspaper...

DAILY CROSSWORD

Crossword puzzle grid with clues for Across and Down. Includes a 'Saturday's Answer' key.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's how to work it: A cryptogram is a message written in a code. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc.

P.E.I. Hospital Ladies Aid Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Prince Edward Island Hospital was held at the Cundall Home on Monday, January 7th...

THE CENTRAL GUARDIAN

This column is reserved for news of local interest, but advertising of a new way nature may be inserted at five cents a word, strictly payable in advance.

JIMMY'S TAXI - Phone 525. HOWARD MacINNIS FOOTWEAR at 175 Queen Street.

CRASWELL for Better Photographs. RANGE and OIL BURNERS serviced by Vickerson Engineering Co. Telephone 2480.

SEE A NOVEL INTERPRETATION of Shakespeare's tragedy Romeo and Juliet at the Family Album show, Prince of Wales College, Tuesday, January 15th.

MR. W. B. WORTMAN, President of the Gideons International in Canada, will be the guest speaker at Zion Men's Association Supper Meeting Tuesday, 6:15 P. M.

"FAMILY ALBUM" featuring Central Royalty Glee Club at P. W. C. Auditorium next Tuesday. Tickets 50c at Henderson and Cudmore.

ANGLICAN W. A. MEETING - Mrs. Ray Clark presided over the January meeting of the W. A. of the Summerville Anglican Church on Wednesday afternoon in St. Mary's Hall...

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Caswell and daughter Myrna, city, spent Saturday evening, Jan. 5th in York, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vessey.

The funeral service for the late Gordon (Bob) Brown was held in York United Church on Monday Dec. 31st.

Friends of Mrs. Garfield Clow are glad to hear she has returned to her home in Pleasant Grove after being a patient in the P. E. Island Hospital.

The many friends of Mrs. Alex Beaton are glad to hear she is convalescing at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Kelzer, after being a patient in the P. E. Island Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Newson and family, York, spent New Year's Day in North River, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Horseman.

St. Catherines School Christmas Concert

On Friday, December 21, the pupils of St. Catherines School under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Phyllis MacKenzie, presented their annual Christmas concert in the hall.

The accompanist was the teacher while a senior pupil, Everett MacNeill, capably acted as chairman and announced the following program:

Opening Chorus, "Ring Merry Bell, Ring", the school. Greetings, Winston MacQuarrie. Song, "On Top of Old Smokey", Marion Stretch, Evelyn Drake, Chester MacNeill, Everett MacNeill and Billy MacQuarrie (encored).

Dialogue, "Mystery of the Evening Wrap", Marion Stretch, Donna Stretch, Evelyn Drake and Chester MacNeill.

Chorus - "Merry Christmas Time". Dialogue - Jay and Kay - Noreen Power, Jean Birt. Duet - Myrna Birt, Susie Aylward (encored).

Santa Claus Drill by Grades I and II. "Silent Night" - by Velma Birt, Vivian MacDonald, Bernice MacDonald, Susie Aylward. Recitation: "Mrs. Santa Claus" - Carol Hemphill.

Carol: "Joy To The World" - Shirley Warren (encored). Dialogue: "Trouble at the Children's Clinic" - by fifteen pupils. Intermission. Sale of Candy.

Solo: "A Little Boy" - Margaret MacDonald (encored). Dialogue: "Good Will Toward Women" - Shirley O'Brien, Shirley Warren, Glenda Brown, George Strickland, Sterling Brown.

"Lullaby" by Three Girls - Myrna Birt, Laura Warren, Susie Aylward. Dialogue: "The Wooden Nutmeg" - Jean Birt, Bobby O'Brien, Raymond Birt, Grace MacDonald, Margaret MacDonald, Lornie Birt, Vivian MacDonald, Freddie Brown.

Solo: "Wildwood Flower" - Jean Birt (encored). Closing Chorus - "Signs of Christmas Time". Closing Recitation: Myrna Birt, National Anthem.

After the program was completed Santa Claus arrived and distributed gifts to pupils and teachers.

The W. I. gave a generous treat to the pupils. A vote of thanks was extended to the teachers for their work by the chairman.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father James S. Birt who passed away suddenly Jan. 13, 1951.

We often stop to listen For your footsteps in the hall. It's sad to know that you're not there To greet us when we call.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Erna, Everett and Star.

OTTAWA, Jan. 13 - (CP) - External Affairs Minister Pearson has been going to the movies in Russian movies. He told a press conference Thursday he attended a private showing here of a Soviet film captured in North Korea and depicting the polibureau reviewing Moscow's May Day Parade. So effective was it, he said, that after the showing he overheard one woman say: "Didn't Uncle Joe look kindly and benevolent."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our Father James S. Birt who died Jan. 13, 1951.

We little thought when leaving home He would no more return That he so soon in death would be.

And leave us here to mourn Only those who have lost can tell What it means to part without farewell.

Fondly remembered by Stella, Raymond and children.

Our Daily Serial

By Peggy Dern CHAPTER FOUR Part Two

The barn and outbuildings were set back a considerable distance from the house, but before they reached the barn there was a soft, scrambling sound inside of it, and a big black-and-white cat emerged from the half open door, blinking in the sudden sunlight.

He saw Susan, and started toward her with an excited whine. "Stand perfectly still, Celia!"

Celia froze in her position and looked down at the little girl who was standing still, her face alight with warm loving laughter. And there the stampede began. Cats raced from every direction - big cats, medium-sized cats, gray and white striped cats, yellow cats and the big beautiful black and white cat with the golden eyes.

Tumbling along at the rear of the stampede were half a dozen six-week-old kittens, fat and round and soft looking with tiny faces eager as they mewled with delight at sight of the provider of their daily food.

For a moment there was pandemonium. The cats raced toward Susan, colliding with each other; there were a few "spiffs" as they brushed past each other; an angry paw flicked out to strike at a passer-by; and then they clustered about their mistress, greeting her in every possible tone of cat language.

During the next few days Celia saw the Mallorys often. She liked them and she found them amusing company, and they were a sort of point of contact with friends she had left behind in New York. Win made no secret of his interest in her, but Celia laughed and told herself that Win would be interested in any woman he met who wasn't actually cross-eyed or past fifty. So she took his attentions as lightly as he gave them, and found Jennifer Lawrence looking more green-eyed every day.

The group of guests now at Azalea Court were ready to leave their visit finished. They admitted frankly that they were bored, by the lack of daily newspapers, by the fact that there was no radio and that the beautiful big Capehart music machine in the corner, equipped with an enormous library of records that ranged from the classics to the very latest boogie woogie, was merely for playing records and not for re-laying news.

Several times one of the guests asked Celia for war news. Win would listen, resenting this intrusion from the outside world into the little sanctuary he had so carefully planned and built.

Catherine had asked Celia to ride in to the shipyard town with them, to put their guests aboard the train, and Celia had accepted eagerly. She hadn't been in town since her arrival and there were a few bits of shopping she wanted to do.

When they were leaving Azalea Court, Jennifer came down, not dressed for traveling and not carrying her bags. She wore a brief white sports frock, and carried a wide-brimmed hat in her hand.

Win said, "Well, shall we get going? It's twenty two miles and the train's not likely to wait for anybody these days."

They all trooped out to the station wagon Jennifer installed herself in the front seat beside the driver. When everybody was in the station wagon except Win and Celia, Win slammed the door, grinned at Catherine and said: "You drive, Cath. Celia, and I will follow. We'll need both cars coming back."

"That was mean," Celia told Win sharply. "You did that deliberately to humiliate her and I think it was rotten of you."

Win looked all injured innocence. "Now what did I do? I said nothing about intending to drive the station wagon. She should have realized we'd need another car to get the gang back from the station. I didn't even know she was planning to stay over."

Celia, seated beside him in the luxurious sedan, said quietly: "You know that she's in love with you."

Win gave her a swift, sardonic glance. "I know that she's in love with the Mallory estate and that she'd like nothing better than to sink her little white claws into it and start flinging it in all directions," he said.

To be continued

South Milton School Concert

On Wednesday evening, December 19, friends and parents gathered in South Milton School where the annual Christmas concert was put on by the pupils, under the direction of their teacher, Rev. Mr. Piercey capably filled the office as chairman, while Mrs. S. Proude was organist for the evening.

The following programme was carried out: Chorus: "Welcome", by all the school. Recitation: "Address of Welcome", by Edward Ramsay. Dialogue: "Susie's Lesson", by Louise MacNeill and Leslie Poole. Recitation: "Not So Easy", by Estella Ramsay. Song: "Oh Where Do You Live Santa Claus?", by Estella Ramsay. Recitation: "I'm So Glad", by Orville Curtis. Recitation: "Kind Wishes", by Alva MacQuarrie. Dialogue: "Sparkin' Mary Jane", by Lois Ford, Doris Montgomery, Lloyd White, Vernon Willis and Winston Ford. Song: "Lullaby", by four junior girls. Recitation: "I Love Santa Claus", by John MacNeill. Medley of Carols by all the school. Recitation: "How Jolly", by Arthur Montgomery. Song: "I'm A Lonely Little Robin", by Doris Montgomery (encored).

"Upside Down Drill", by Louise MacNeill, Vernon Willis, Leslie Poole, Wesley Curtis and Phyllis Montgomery. Intermission. Chorus: "Santa Claus", by all the school. Dialogue: "Millie and Tillie in New York". Recitation: "A Happy Child", by Millar MacQuarrie. Recitation: "A Present for Baby", by Eleanor Ramsay. Duet: "Greetings to Santa", by Doris Montgomery and Lloyd White. Recitation: "A Present for Santa", by Vernon Willis. Dialogue: "Zachary's Man", by Vernon Willis, Doris and Phyllis Montgomery, Lloyd White and Winston Ford. Recitation: "The Nicest Present", by Phyllis Montgomery. Monologue by Lloyd White. Recitation: "Choosing the Stockings", by Orville Montgomery. Duet: "Just A Little Too Small", by Doris Montgomery and Lois Ford (encored). Dialogue: "A Slight Mistake", by Doris and Phyllis Montgomery, Lois and Winston Ford and Wesley Curtis. Recitation: "If I Were Twins", by Louise MacNeill. Recitation: "A Christmas Stocking", by Margaret White. Recitation: "A Boy's Complaint", by Leslie Poole. Chorus: "Farewell Christmas" by all the school. Recitation: "Goodnight", by Wesley Curtis.

Following the programme Santa arrived to the delight of everyone, and distributed gifts to the teacher, pupils and visitors in his usual jovial manner. A treat was provided for the pupils by the Women's Institute. The singing of God Save The King brought the evening to a close.

Covehead Road School Concert

On Wednesday evening, December 19th, the pupils of Covehead Road School presented their annual Christmas Concert under the direction of their teachers, Jeanette MacVittie-Marshall and Marion Woodbridge.

Mr. Martin Birt assisted the teachers as he capably rendered guitar music. Mr. Walter MacDonald acted as chairman while the following program was carried out.

Welcome - Donna Jean Hemphill. Chorus - "Merry Christmas Time". Dialogue - Jay and Kay - Noreen Power, Jean Birt. Duet - Myrna Birt, Susie Aylward (encored).

Santa Claus Drill by Grades I and II. "Silent Night" - by Velma Birt, Vivian MacDonald, Bernice MacDonald, Susie Aylward. Recitation: "Mrs. Santa Claus" - Carol Hemphill. Carol: "Joy To The World" - Shirley Warren (encored). Dialogue: "Trouble at the Children's Clinic" - by fifteen pupils. Intermission. Sale of Candy.

Solo: "A Little Boy" - Margaret MacDonald (encored). Dialogue: "Good Will Toward Women" - Shirley O'Brien, Shirley Warren, Glenda Brown, George Strickland, Sterling Brown. "Lullaby" by Three Girls - Myrna Birt, Laura Warren, Susie Aylward. Dialogue: "The Wooden Nutmeg" - Jean Birt, Bobby O'Brien, Raymond Birt, Grace MacDonald, Margaret MacDonald, Lornie Birt, Vivian MacDonald, Freddie Brown. Solo: "Wildwood Flower" - Jean Birt (encored). Closing Chorus - "Signs of Christmas Time". Closing Recitation: Myrna Birt, National Anthem.

After the program was completed Santa Claus arrived and distributed gifts to pupils and teachers.

The W. I. gave a generous treat to the pupils. A vote of thanks was extended to the teachers for their work by the chairman.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father James S. Birt who passed away suddenly Jan. 13, 1951.

We often stop to listen For your footsteps in the hall. It's sad to know that you're not there To greet us when we call.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Erna, Everett and Star.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our Father James S. Birt who died Jan. 13, 1951.

We little thought when leaving home He would no more return That he so soon in death would be.

And leave us here to mourn Only those who have lost can tell What it means to part without farewell.

Fondly remembered by Stella, Raymond and children.

Our Daily Serial

By Peggy Dern CHAPTER FOUR Part Two

The barn and outbuildings were set back a considerable distance from the house, but before they reached the barn there was a soft, scrambling sound inside of it, and a big black-and-white cat emerged from the half open door, blinking in the sudden sunlight.

He saw Susan, and started toward her with an excited whine. "Stand perfectly still, Celia!"

Celia froze in her position and looked down at the little girl who was standing still, her face alight with warm loving laughter. And there the stampede began. Cats raced from every direction - big cats, medium-sized cats, gray and white striped cats, yellow cats and the big beautiful black and white cat with the golden eyes.

Tumbling along at the rear of the stampede were half a dozen six-week-old kittens, fat and round and soft looking with tiny faces eager as they mewled with delight at sight of the provider of their daily food.

For a moment there was pandemonium. The cats raced toward Susan, colliding with each other; there were a few "spiffs" as they brushed past each other; an angry paw flicked out to strike at a passer-by; and then they clustered about their mistress, greeting her in every possible tone of cat language.

During the next few days Celia saw the Mallorys often. She liked them and she found them amusing company, and they were a sort of point of contact with friends she had left behind in New York. Win made no secret of his interest in her, but Celia laughed and told herself that Win would be interested in any woman he met who wasn't actually cross-eyed or past fifty. So she took his attentions as lightly as he gave them, and found Jennifer Lawrence looking more green-eyed every day.

The group of guests now at Azalea Court were ready to leave their visit finished. They admitted frankly that they were bored, by the lack of daily newspapers, by the fact that there was no radio and that the beautiful big Capehart music machine in the corner, equipped with an enormous library of records that ranged from the classics to the very latest boogie woogie, was merely for playing records and not for re-laying news.

Several times one of the guests asked Celia for war news. Win would listen, resenting this intrusion from the outside world into the little sanctuary he had so carefully planned and built.

Catherine had asked Celia to ride in to the shipyard town with them, to put their guests aboard the train, and Celia had accepted eagerly. She hadn't been in town since her arrival and there were a few bits of shopping she wanted to do.

When they were leaving Azalea Court, Jennifer came down, not dressed for traveling and not carrying her bags. She wore a brief white sports frock, and carried a wide-brimmed hat in her hand.

Win said, "Well, shall we get going? It's twenty two miles and the train's not likely to wait for anybody these days."

They all trooped out to the station wagon Jennifer installed herself in the front seat beside the driver. When everybody was in the station wagon except Win and Celia, Win slammed the door, grinned at Catherine and said: "You drive, Cath. Celia, and I will follow. We'll need both cars coming back."

"That was mean," Celia told Win sharply. "You did that deliberately to humiliate her and I think it was rotten of you."

Win looked all injured innocence. "Now what did I do? I said nothing about intending to drive the station wagon. She should have realized we'd need another car to get the gang back from the station. I didn't even know she was planning to stay over."

Celia, seated beside him in the luxurious sedan, said quietly: "You know that she's in love with you."

Win gave her a swift, sardonic glance. "I know that she's in love with the Mallory estate and that she'd like nothing better than to sink her little white claws into it and start flinging it in all directions," he said.

To be continued

Sudsbury-Mountain Wedding

An event of interest to a host of friends in this Province is the marriage of Miss Etta Mountain of Sea View, Prince Edward Island, and Mr. Austin Sudsbury of Spring Valley, Prince Edward Island, which was solemnized at the Holy Trinity Church of Oshawa, Ontario, by the Rev. E. H. MacLellan.

The bride was very nicely dressed in a wine gabardine suit with grey accessories and wore a beautiful corsage of white roses. She was attended by Miss Marion Campbell of Darby, F. E. Island, who was attired in grey gabardine suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Thane Adams, also of Sea View, P. E. Island. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Commercial Hotel, Oshawa. The happy young couple later left to spend a brief honeymoon at Niagara Falls, Ontario and U.S.A. They will reside at Oshawa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Mountain of Sea View, Prince Edward Island and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldon Sudsbury, Spring Valley, Prince Edward Island.

Melville W.I. Entertains Community

On Friday evening, Dec. 21st the residents of Melville were entertained by the Women's Institute at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. MacPhee.

At 7 P. M. neighbors and their families and some visitors numbering about forty in all set down to a delicious chicken supper prepared and served by the members of the W. I.

Supper was followed by a visit from Santa who distributed gifts from a beautifully decorated Christmas tree.

After Santa took his departure a sing-song followed; also several piano selections by Mr. Pope, a talented musician.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended by Mr. Reg. Noye to Mr. and Mrs. MacPhee for opening their home to the Institute for the occasion, and for their kind hospitality in making this fine neighborhood gathering possible. The singing of Auld Lang Syne and "The King" brought a very pleasant evening to a fitting close.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 13 - (AP) - Police Friday took 140 striking Prudential Insurance Company agents into custody at the company's main office and the company said it will press disorderly persons charge against them. The company said the yelling agents entered the office waving their own Prudential insurance policies and said they wanted to turn them in. Agents in 35 other States are striking for higher wages.

PARIS, Jan. 13 - (Reuters) - Police Friday dug up 22 boxes of silver tableware, valued at $11,200 stolen from the Drouant Restaurant here, where prize-winning authors are picked. The silver, used at literary banquets, was found in a suburban back garden. Three men have been arrested.

Due To The Weather Last Week

GREENDAL'S

are continuing their JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

So Shop All Week For BARGAINS

At The GREENDAL Co. Ltd.

Ladies' Store 150 Great George Men's Store 144 Great Geo.

CENTRAL ROYALTY GLEE CLUB

Presents FAMILY ALBUM

At PRINCE OF WALES COLLEGE AUDITORIUM

TUESDAY, JAN. 15th, 8 P. M.

Admission 50c

Sponsored by Centennial Y's Men's Club

Ticket Sale "Rendezvous", Old Spain, Hughes Drug, Worthy's Drug

This Ad is Sponsored by THE CENTRAL CREAMERIES

Now...the greatest advance in lamp bulbs since 1925

General Electric NEW WHITE LAMP

This new kind of lamp bulb - bright all-over - is four ways better. Softens shadows so they're hardly visible... reduces reflected glare... spreads light evenly over entire surface of bulb... keeps it cleaner, whiter beauty for life. Try G-E White Lamps. See your G-E Dealer today!

THE PUBLIC SERVICE OF CANADA Requires A FIRE PROTECTION ENGINEER $5,580-$6,180

for the Civil Defence Fire Services (N.H. & W.) at Ottawa. Details and application forms at your nearest Civil Service Commission Office. Also at National Employment Offices and Post Offices.

JANUARY CLEARANCE

Balance of our Entire Stock of WINTER COATS, SUITS, RAIN-COATS and Crepe and Wool DRESSES, clearing at

33 1/3% off

The GLORIA

"Where Smarter Women Shop"