The WEEK at S. D. U.

Last week, we told you about the solemn blessing and opening of our new chapel. Though this was an occasion of great joy to us, we experienced, nevertheless, a deep sense of sadness in leaving the old chapel, which had served St. Dunstan's students for fifty years. Rather than become sentimental about the matter, we pay, in thought-provoking words borrowed from the Rector, a last word of tribute to the old chapel: "If as many good men come out of the new chapel" as came out of the old one, we shall all be satisfied."

At St. Dunstan's, it is becoming more and more apparent that the Dramatic Society is now one of our foremost campus organizations. Not content with sponsoring a drama festival for college years and high school, this energetic organization presented a three-act play in the spirit of Christmas last Saturday evening. Director of the Christmas play was Rev. Edmund J. Roche, who is the Dramatic Society's faculty adviser and to whom all of us owe our gratitude for his interest in dramatics and for his energetic work on behalf of the society.

The play, which called for great depth of feeling from the actors, was the heart-warming story of the Nativity, that tremendous event which was the first Christmas. The cast, all of whom are to be congratulated for their efforts, included: Stephanie MacDonald, Mary Creighton, Bethany MacDonald, Mary Johnson, John Weir, John J. Dunphy, and Leonard O'Hanley. And, in passing, special reference must be made to Emmett Roche without whose cap the play would have lost much of its drama.

Greater than usual, even for St. Dunstan's, was the number of "great men" about the campus last week. Two of them were valued members of the senior class, Mark MacGulgan and George Keefe. These individuals happened to deserve their greatness because they lost a split decision in the first intercollegiate debate of the season, which took place in King's College, Halifax, last Monday evening. The esteem in which these gentlemen are held in the field of public speaking at S.D.U. was amply shown by the surprise and disappointment their fellow students experienced at their defeat. And, of course, we were no more put out than were Mark and George. The manner in which these two debaters, whom we readily acknowledge as our very best, accepted defeat reminded us that it takes a really great man to lose well. For King's, the victory over the Maritime champions and Dominion finalists, was a great achievement. To win, they must have been good.

There is not space to make special mention of all the "great men" on the campus at this time, so we shall confine ourselves to three. First, we should like to introduce "Penderous" Paddy McKenna, who alone with his full forty-eight inches, was acclaimed the leading scorer in the juvenile basketball league. Next, we congratulate Stan "Hammer" Delghan who was high scorer in the intramural league, with an amazing total of 307 points in 14 games, to lead his nearest competitor by about 100 points. And last, but far from least, the man responsible for all this basketball, manager John Mullally, who, without doubt one of the busiest

We miss you, oh so much Bill, But would not bid you stay God knew that you were suffering This life was hard to bear. So He closed your weary eyelids, And whispered, "Peace be Thine."
Sadly Missed by Margaret and Ken.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Mrs. Benjamin Clow, Murray Harbor North, who departed this life December 9th, 1948.
Weep not that her toils are over, Weep not that her race is run, God grant we may rest as calmly, When our work, like hers, is done.
Till then we yield with gladness, Our loved one to Him to keep, And rejoice in the sweet assurance, "He giveth His beloved sleep."
Lovingly Remembered by Husband and Family.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of William F. Murphy who passed away December 19th, 1949.
Often I pause to think of you And think of how you died To think you could not say good-bye Before you closed your eyes.
In Heaven, Dear Husband, I'll find you, When God's great way is done I'll stand once more beside you, When He calls for me to come.
Lovingly Remembered by His Wife.

manager on the campus. Right now, manager Mullally is directing basketball, as it is played at S.D.U. towards its 1950 climax. The manager's job is often a thankless one, and for that reason we say, "Thanks, John, we surely appreciate your work."
In senior basketball the Saints kept up their high-scoring ways with a 64-34 triumph over the Y.M.C.A. in a game played at Prince of Wales last Saturday evening. The game was played at a slower pace than is customary for the Red and White; but the boys feel that they are capable of more speed, and promise to prove that after Christmas when the Island League gets underway.

On Friday, we rejoiced in the feast of the Immaculate Conception of Mary, the Mother of God; and many of our prayers were directed to her for her intercession in the great crisis the world is now experiencing. The occasion was marked by a holy-day, cancellation of classes, and a break from the usual routine. The holy-day, besides giving us a chance to renew our prayers for peace, gave us a period of respite wherein we could line up our thoughts for an assault on the term examination in Religion, which we write this morning. It marks the first of our semester examinations, which will be in full swing the middle of next week.

Just before we leave you with a few thoughts for Christmas, we should like to send a unanimous "Get well quick" from the Junior class to one of its most esteemed members, Miss Bethany MacDonald, who is recovering from an appendicitis operation in the Charlottetown Hospital. It may not be too consoling, Bethany, but we think you should know that there are some of your classmates who would willingly trade places with you right now. Some people never become accustomed to the writing of examinations.

The mention of Christmas on two or three occasions today recalls to the writer of the "Week" a practice which is helping, along with other things, to dilute the real meaning of Christmas. The practice, ugly in every respect, is the thoughtless substitution of the abbreviation 'Xmas' for the beautiful and holy word Christmas. The use of the shortened form actually takes Christ out of Christmas and leaves
